Aged, poor hit hardest by taxes, report shows

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A private research report said Friday increasingly higher taxes are wiping out recent advances in federal spending for social security, Medicare, food stamps, and other programs aimed at helping aged and low-income Americans.

The analysis was part of an annual review of government fiscal policy published Friday by the Brookings Institution, a respected private research organization with headquarters here.

The study notes that in the fiscal year beginning July 1 the administration has earmarked $98.2 billion for "cash income maintenance." This is 32 per cent of the $304 billion that the government plans to spend during next year —a much higher percentage for such programs than in recent years.

Government money for "essentials" such as medical care, food, housing and education programs has swollen to $33 billion, or 11 per cent of the total budget, also a higher per centage than in earlier spending programs.

But these gains are partly offset by a tax structure that the Brookings study said is increasingly regressive —meaning that low-income people are carrying a heavier share of the tax burden relative to their incomes.

After examining all sources of government revenue, the Brookings group concluded that "social insurance (security) taxes that weigh relatively heavily on low-income people are growing the most."

Simultaneously, the study said, tax breaks for farmers, oil producers and other businessmen have reduced the effective yield of corporate income taxes as a revenue producer.

Agnew's back tax reportedly paid

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has satisfied Internal Revenue Service claims against him by paying all of his back income taxes, the Baltimore Sun reported Friday.

Agnew resigned from office and pleaded no contest to a negotiated tax evasion charge Oct. 10, after federal prosecutors agreed not to seek his indictment on charges of taking kickbacks while a county, state and federal official.

Although Agnew's 1967 tax return showed a taxable income of $26,099 and $6,416 in taxes owed, A criminal information filed Oct. 10 said he actually earned $55,509 and should have paid $19,947 in taxes.

The amount the IRS collected from Agnew was not revealed, but the newspaper said the charge would have called for back payments of about $25,000, including $13,551 in unpaid taxes for 1967, a 50 per cent penalty and a 6 per cent interest charge.

A 40-page summary of evidence read into court records by federal prosecutors claimed Agnew received about $87,500 in unreported income between 1966 and 1973.

Police jail three in marijuana raid

ALTA LOMA — Narcotics officers from the San Bernardino Sheriff's office arrested three men and seized $100,000 worth of marijuana here Friday afternoon.

The arrests and seizure climaxed a three-month investigation in the West End by members of the Regional Narcotics Task Force and Sheriff's Narcotics Officers.

Arrested were Jimmy Sotolo Pena, 31, 7737 Aspen St., Fontana, James Lee, 31, 17127 Malaga St., Fontana, and Dennis Eugene Herron, 36, 4465 5th St., Riverside. Each was jailed on suspicion of possession of marijuana for sale and carrying loaded firearms.

The arrests were made after undercover narcotics officers purchased 10 kilos of marijuana from the suspects in the parking lot of an Alta Loma bar.

In the investigation that followed, deputies discovered the 500 pounds of marijuana hidden at one of the suspects homes.

Officials believe that the trio were one of the major sources of marijuana for the West End communities.

Joan Kennedy hospitalized

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Joan Kennedy, wife of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., has been hospitalized at the urging of her physician for a complete rest, the senator's office announced Friday.

Dick Drayne, Kennedy's press secretary, declined to reveal where Mrs. Kennedy has been hospitalized.

Unconfirmed reports said she was admitted to Silver Hill Hospital in Connecticut.

Drayne said Mrs. Kennedy has been "under continuing strain" because of the illness of their oldest son, Edward Jr., who had his leg amputated last November to arrest a form of bone cancer. He has required regular preventive treatments since.

SURRENDER TO POLICE

Michael Madigan, 18, left, and Brian Young, 19, both of Rancho Cordova, are taken into custody after surrendering to police Friday afternoon ending a tense 7-hour drama during which they held 24 persons hostage in a bank in the Sacramento suburb. The pair originally demanded a $1 million ransom, but agreed to give up after being interviewed on television.

Supreme Court agrees to hurry Nixon decision

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court agreed Friday to make a hurry-up judgment on whether President Nixon must produce additional evidence in the Watergate coverup case, and set oral arguments for July 8.

The court acted on a plea by special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski to shortcut the normal legal process by taking the case away from the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, where it is now docketed on an appeal by the President.

The decision was a setback for White house lawyers, who argued that the court should let the case take its normal course through the judicial process.

Because Justice William H. Rehnquist has disqualified himself, the case will be heard by a eight-man Supreme Court. This raises the posibility of a tie vote, which would leave in effect U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica's May 20 order that Nixon must surrrender the subpoenaed materials.

Rehnquist gave no reason for disqualifying himself, but he served as assistant attorney general while one of the defendants, John N. Mitchell, headed the Justice Department.

In its brief order Friday, signed by Chief Justice Warren Burger, the court instructed the President's lawyers and Jaworski to file briefs by 1 p.m. EDT June 21. Briefs filed in reply must be completed by July 1 in preparation for the July 8 oral arguments, the order said. Each side will have one hour to give its arguments.

"We will file our briefs and make our arguments at the appropriate time," White House counsellor Dean Burch told reporters after the Supreme Court order.

Young suspects give up after pleading to be allowed on TV

By GEORGE FRANK

RANCHO CORDOVA, Calif. (UPI) — Two teen-aged robbers held 24 persons hostage in a bank, received $1 million in ransom and pleaded their case on television Friday before surrendering meekly to an army of police.

The hostages, including three men, 18 women, and three small children, were released unharmed. "Everybody's all right," a sheriff's spokesman said.

Michael D. Madigan, 18, and Brian J. Young, 19, walked out of the suburban shopping center bank surrounded by more than 100 heavily armed officers after they were promised they could watch themselves on TV.

One of the bushy haired bandits gave a clenched fist power salute outside the barricaded bank, and a crowd of youthful onlookers in this suburb of Sacramento cheered.

The two surrendered with Sheriff's Deputy Robert Ruh, who had entered the bank earlier wearing only his trousers in exchange for the release of eight initial hostages.

In the rambling TV interview, Madigan and Young, both of Rancho Cordova, complained of having no money, food, job or transportation.

"I wouldn't be doing this except I need the money. I can't stand living like animals," Madigan said as he nervously fingered the trigger of his revolver.

Young added, "I just want to get this money and I just want to leave."

TV newsman Bill Harvey of KCRA and cameraman Harry Sweet were allowed in the bank five hours after the youths stormed it. The suspects earlier robbed a crowded supermarket-department store four doors away and escaped with two shotguns, a revolver and ammunition.

"They wanted to tell their story to the community," Harvey said.

The newsmen rushed the film to the station for processing, but the two suspects gave up before the interview was broadcast and were en route to jail when it was first aired.

Before the TV men were allowed into the bank, an unarmed officer pushed three grocery carts containing $1 million in cash up to a night deposit slot of the Crocker National Bank and tediously dropped in bundle after bundle of cash which had been collected at a nearby bank.

Eight of the hostages, including a pregnant woman, a woman with a heart condition and a mother and her infant child, were released after Ruh went into the bank.

The 16 others were freed after Ruh and the two youths surrendered. They had demanded that Ruh negotiate with them. They were acquainted with him because he patrols the Rancho Cordova area.

Lockheed urges halt in trading

BURBANK, Calif. (UPI) — The giant Lockheed Aircraft Corp., which was bailed out by the federal government in 1971 with a loan guarantee, asked the New York Stock Exchange to halt trading on its stock Friday while it reviewed its financial situation.

The company said Lockheed directors and financial advisers, Lazard Freres & Co., will review proposals to strengthen Lockheed's financial position at a June 3 meeting.

Lockheed spokesmen said the company would provide no further details until after the meeting.

After Lockheed, one of the nation's largest defense contractors, advised the NYSE of the news, the exchange held up trading at 12:21 p.m. EDT. Lockheed shares were at 4⅜, up ⅛, at the time. Trading did not resume.

U.N. approves troops as guards for Golan Heights

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The Security Council, without dissent, Friday approved a joint U.S.-Soviet resolution creating a U.N. force to stand between Israeli and Syrian forces on the Golan front.

The tally was 13-0, with China and Iraq refusing to participate in the vote.

U.S. ambassador John Scali hailed the development as a critical step in a "quickening movement" toward middle east peace.

The Soviet Union, which balked at adoption of an authorizing resolution Thursday during private consultations in which Soviet Ambassador Yakov A. Malik was reported to have "bellowed like a bull" against hasty action, joined in sponsoring Friday the resolution identically as drafted by the United States.

The speculative explanation for Malik's turnabout was that he had not received instructions Thursday from Moscow and stalled for time. China also had sought further time to consider the agreement.

U.S. Ambassador John Scali, introducing the resolution authorizing Secretary General Kurt Waldheim to send a force of approximately 1,250 men to serve as a U.N. Disengagement Observer Force (UNDOF) between Syrian and Israeli forces in the Golan Heights sector, paid scant heed to Moscow's part in achieving the Middle East pact.

'Food prices dropping' says agriculture secretary

Butz boosts Veysey's campaign, but opponent Jim Lloyd 'butts in'

By ED PRATHER
P-B Staff Writer

POMONA — U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz came to Pomona Friday to bolster the campaign of Congressman Victor Veysey, R-43rd Dist., but was unexpectedly met by one of Veysey's potential opponents as well.

West Covina City Councilman Jim Lloyd, a frontrunner for the Democratic nomination in the new 35th Congressional District, briefly confronted Butz prior to a news conference at Cal Poly's Kellogg West.

Lloyd attempted to hand Butz a letter outlining local consumers' complaints over the cost of food and requesting Butz to hold a public meeting locally to discuss food prices.

Butz refused to accept the letter and told Lloyd that he should "get up to date—food prices are coming down."

"—You obviously don't belong here, Butz said to Lloyd.

Veysey then asked Lloyd to leave, and he did.

As the press conference began, Butz reiterated his claim that costs are on the way down and listed beef, poultry, wheat and corn as items that are now dropping in price.

"Sure prices were up. But they reached a plateau and now they are starting to come down again," he said.

Butz chided the news media for what he called "irresponsible statements" and publicizing "scare campaigns" about shortages and high prices.

He also had harsh words for last year's consumer meat boycott, which he said led to decreased beef supplies and higher prices.

But the real culprit, said Butz, are labor costs that prevent prices from coming down further.

He described how lettuce from the Salinas Valley is shipped to the Midwest in railroad cars only two-thirds filled because of labor rules.

"There's a lot of featherbedding," he claimed.

"The best way to bring prices down is to increase supplies. We should encourage that by simply letting the market work and stop interference," he continued.

When asked about Friday's report by by the Senate Watergate committee that President Nixon ignored his advisers while raising the price supports on milk in 1972, Butz, who was not a cabinet member at the time, said that he never discussed the matter with the president or his predecessor in the Department of Agriculture.

He did say, however, that it was Democratic pressure in the Congress that led to the higher support.

They are "devoid of leadership," he continued.

He claimed that there is pressure right now to again increase the dairy industry supports, but that he is resisting that pressure and doesn't expect supports to be raised in the near future.

Following the press conference, Butz attended a brief reception and later delivered a speech at a Veysey campaign dinner at Pomona National Golf Course.

Butz is the second member of the Nixon cabinet to speak here in behalf of Veysey, who lost his old district in the Brawley area due to reapportionment. Earlier this year, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Casper Weinberger spoke at a Veysey fundraiser.

Ford voices his opinion: Nixon 'innocent, period'

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford said Friday President Nixon is innocent of any involvement in the Watergate break-in and innocent "by preponderance of evidence" of any part in the cover-up scandal.

"President Nixon is innocent, period," Ford said.

The vice president said there were excerpts in the 1,300 pages of White House conversation transcripts "that can be taken out of context that somebody might construe" as evidence Nixon took part in the cover-up. But Ford said he himself did not believe this.

"John Dean, by his own word, admits the President didn't know about it," Ford said.

"In my judgment, President Nixon is innocent of any involvement in the Watergate break-in," Ford said, "and, by the preponderance of evidence, is innocent of any cover-up."

When reporters at a news conference in the New Hampshire Capitol pressed him on the apparent difference in his statements about the break-in as opposed to the cover-up, Ford said: "President Nixon is innocent, period."

He said, "It's my judgment no evidence is available of an impeachable offense."

Ford was in New Hampshire to attend a $25-a-ticket fund-raising reception for the state Republican party in Manchester Friday night.

Ford said Nixon in 1971 agreed to raise milk support prices to 85 per cent of parity "because about 120 house members and 30 senators" had introduced bills to raise the support even higher, to 90 per cent.

"If the Watergate committee disagrees with that, the Watergate committee doesn't know what it's talking about," he said.

Ford said he wondered how many of those 120 House members and 30 senators also received substantial campaign contributions from milk producers.

The U.S. Supreme Court said Friday it would hear oral arguments July 8 on whether President Nixon must produce additional evidence on the Watergate cover-up.

Ford said this was "not necessarily" a setback for Nixon.

Girl dead for 10 years

2 jailed in probe of human bones

FONTANA (UPI) — An 11 month investigation that started last July with the discovery of human bones in hills south of here culminated Friday in the arest of a divorced couple, Antonio Rivera, 38, Colton, and Merla Rivera, 35, Fontana.

They were arrested at their respective homes Friday.

A coroner's inquest determined the bones were those of Judy Rivera, who was about three years old at the time of her death nearly 10 years ago.

The bones were found in a shalow grave last July 1 by a passer-by after rain had washed soil from the top of the grave.

No missing persons report had ever been filed for the child, and it was not until three months ago that authorities began to suspect the bones were those of Judy Rivera.

At that time, police began questioning other children of the Riveras who had grown and moved to other parts of Southern California.

Recently sufficient evidence was gathered to turn the matter over to a coroner's jury for inquest.

Charges in connection with the death were to be filed later Friday.

WEATHERMEN BLAMED — Attorney General Evelle Younger Friday blamed the militant Weathermen group for the bombing of his downtown offices and compared the organization with the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army. The blast ripped through the sixth floor of the old state office building in Los Angeles Friday morning causing extensive damage.

Disability help increased

Viet vets to benefit by two measures

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon Friday signed two measures increasing benefits for Vietnam era veterans and their families.

The White House also announced a new program to place representatives on college campuses to unsnarl delays in benefit checks.

One of the measures signed by Nixon extends by one month to June 30 the period in which veterans and eligible wives and widows have to use their educational assistance benefits. The Veterans Administration estimates that cost of the extension will be $44.8 million because of additional persons enrolling in college.

The other measure would increase disability benefits to veterans and their dependents from 15 to 18 per cent. This program will cost an estimated $566.8 million in its first full year.

"I am gratified...the Congress has responded to my proposals to lift basic benefits by an amount which recognizes increases in the cost of living," Nixon said in a statement.

He expressed disappointment that Congress failed to enact a system for automatic increases based on the cost of living, but said the increases of 15 to 18 per cent approximate the rise in the Consumer Price Index since these benefits were last increased.

"These benefit increases will be helping approximately two and one half million of our most deserving men and women veterans," he said.

S.B. teachers stage walkout; effect argued

SAN BERNARDINO (UPI) — Just how effective a one-day walkout by city teachers proved Friday depended upon which side you talked to.

Ron McPeck, president of the San Bernardino Teachers Association said about 1,000 teachers or 85 per cent stayed out of the city's 50 schools in a one-day protest over salaries and large classroom sizes.

Al Bruton, assistant to the superintendent of San Bernardino City Schools, however, said only 484 teachers of the district's 1,140 teachers were absent and that normal class operations were maintained.

The Teachers Association staged the "Teacher Dignity Day" walkout to back up demands for an 11.5 per cent salary increase and reduction in classroom size.

Three homes damaged

Owner of SLA hideout files $90,000 claim

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The owner of a home destroyed in a violent gun battle and fire that killed six members of the Symbionese Liberation Army May 17 has filed claim seeking $90,000 for her property.

Mrs. Florence Lishey, who owned the home the SLA members used as a hide out and two adjacent homes which were damaged, filed her claim with the city clerk's office Friday.

Her claim states: "For my houses, furniture, roofs, clothing —$90,000. I will accept a fair price."

Asst. City Attorney John Neville, who is handling investigation of claims stemming from the gun battle and subsequent fire, said the claim "would take some time to process."

He said a full appraisal of the damaged homes would be made before the claim is sent to the city council.

The council Thursday voted to pay nine minor claims totaling $1,384 for damage to windows, fences, doors, furniture and food spoilage caused by tear gas.

The largest of the claims was $489, filed by Mrs. Lishey's daughter, Lizzie Powell, who lived in one of the adjacent homes.

Mrs. Lishey told newsmen her claim included roof damage to three other homes she owns in the area. She said she owns a total of 15 homes in the neighborhood.

The six members of the SLA, which included Donald DeFreeze, the leader of the terrorist group who called himself "Cinque," entered Mrs. Lishey's home on May 16.

Attorneys in Palm Springs for seminar

PALM SPRINGS — Several valley attorneys are taking part in this weekend's annual seminar of the San Bernardino - Riverside - Pomona branch of the California Trial Lawyers Association here.

William M. Shernoff, Claremont, Arthur J. Jaffee and Richard C. Mallery, Pomona, and Harold A. Bailin, Ontario, are participating in the event at the Spa Hotel. Guest speaker is S.I. Hayakawa, former president of San Francisco University during the troubled period of the late 1960s.

The group also plans to elect new officers and directors during the session.

Involuntary manslaughter verdict given

POMONA — Mack Hilliard Lewis was ruled guilty Friday of involuntary manslaughter in the beating death here Oct. 21 of a woman described as his common-law wife.

Lewis, 31, 125 Randy St., was found guilty by a jury which had been deliberating the case since Tuesday. The trial was before Judge Betty Jo Sheldon.

The victim, Luna Pearl Welton, 38, died as the result of liver and brain damage suffered during a severe beating, the coroner's office reported. Blood was found in every room of Lewis' house, investigators said.

Mrs. Welton was the mother of 4-year-old twin girls and a 6-year-old son, all of whom were placed in foster homes as the result of her death. The victim also had two grown children.

Witnesses said that Lewis and Mrs. Welton had fought during a party in the house. She was discovered dead in bed the next morning. Judge Sheldon scheduled Lewis' probation hearing and sentencing for July 8.

Lewis originally was charged with murder in Mrs. Welton's death.

Poly student association presents awards for year

POMONA — Hal Roach, manager of the student business office at Cal Poly, received a standing ovation as he was presented an award Thursday night by retiring student president Walter Allen III.

Roach was among several who received special awards at a "thank you" banquet organized by outgoing president Allen and vice president Cenobio Chacon.

Roach, who joined the Cal Poly staff in August 1967, suffered a massive coronary attack about six months ago. He was characterized as a "generous and strong individual with courage and conviction" by Allen. He returned to his position as manager of student business activities two months ago.

The more than 200 guests stood to applaud Roach as he took the award. His wife, Lillian, was presented a dozen long-stem roses.

Dr. James. Bell and Henry House were named administrators of the year. Bell, vice president of administrative and student affairs, came to Cal Poly in August 1968. House, with the university since July 1947, serves as dean of students.

Persons receiving awards for outstanding performance in student body activities programming were: Chacon, Leon Vargas, Tom Pruitt, Brian Regalbuto, Larry Goetz, Wendie Scott, Kathy Stanton, Debbie Glatts, Beatrice Bateman, Dean Roche, Wayne Dunlap, Bernard Alvarez, Hector Montenegro, Debbie Dinoto, Tom Andrews, John Friend, Sue Di Floure, Joe Ricigliano, Allen Coloman, Bill Carlquist, Jean Dunn, June Schaefer.

Donna Coloman, John Hanna, Joe Foeheringham, Betty McFetridge, Cathy McCall, Marilyn Wetzler, Carol Springer, C. W. Boyd, James Bell Jr., Bo Buchynsky, Dan Marak, Carol Elrod, Suzi Weber, Teri Lewis, Sandy Zornes, Keleigh Gunnels, John Snedden, Ron Ham, Pat Allen, Dee MacLaughlan, Bill Stegal, Gary Horton, Andree Joseph, Lydia Avila, Mary Dee Brady, Marcia Murry, John Driggers, Joe Armendarez, John Rico, John Tulack, Jim Kline, Frank Mitchell, Lem Chin, Dr. Shah Wali Khan, Dr. Charles Clay, David Woffinden, Carol Shryver, Enrique Segura and Allen.

Brian Regalbuto, president pro-tem of the student senate, was named outstanding member of student government. He also received a presidential award.

Others earning the Associated Students, Inc., presidential award were Miss Scott, Dunlap, Andrews, Coloman, Mrs. Schaefer, Boyd, Bell Jr., Miss Lewis, Mrs. Allen, Miss MacLaughlan, Mrs. Coloman, Armendarez, Rico, Tulack, Kline, Mitchell, Chin, Dr. Khan and Dr. Clay.

Taibu W. Horseley, president of the Black Council for Unity, and Elin Terrazione received special student scholarships.

Clubs and organizations recognized for contributions to the campus and community were KCBK Radio, the SPAN project, Lambda Chi, rally squad, the Sign Shop, Neuman Club, University Police Department, Masa Tutorial Service, Alpha Phi Omega, MECHA, Black Council for Unity, Alpha Kappa Sigma and Sigma Phi Delta.

At the conclusion of the banquet new ASI president Joseph Armand Armandarez and vice president Kathy Stanton were installed. George Vaughan will serve as ASI treasurer during 1974-75.

2 who aided in CIM escape get prison terms

SAN FRANCISCO — Two men convicted of helping California Institution for Men convict Ronald Beaty escape in 1972 were sentenced to federal prison today.

U.S. Dist. Judge Robert Peckham sentenced Bruce Hobson, 24, Mountain View, to four years in prison under the Youth Corrections Act and gave Morton Newman, 31, Menlo Park, a five-year prison term.

The judge allowed both to remain free on $5,000 bail each, pending appeal.

The two were convicted April 28 by a jury of 10 women and two men. Hobson was convicted of harboring Beaty and providing him with food, clothing and a gun. Newman was found guilty of conspiracy and of acting as a lookout.

Beaty escaped from prison guards in Chino Oct. 6, 1972. One guard was killed and another badly wounded in the escape. Beaty pleaded guilty to murder and was sentenced to a life term.

L.A. municipal judge running for Superior Court position

LOS ANGELES — Joan Dempsey Klein is running for a judgeship on the Los Angeles County Superior Court based on her achievements as a Municipal Court judge for the past 11 years.

Judge Klein, now presiding judge of the Municipal Court in Los Angeles, is the instigator of such reforms as night traffic court, bail-by-mail for traffic violations, a detoxification program which diverts alcoholics from the criminal justice system and a study dealing with the problems of witnesses in the courts.

She says she is committed to work for court reforms "to bring the civil and criminal justice system into the 20th century."

Mrs. Klein, a fifth generation Californian, is the recipient of the California Trial Lawyers Association's Municipal Court Judge of the year award for 1973; and the 1969 Angel of Distinction award of the LA Central City Association.

She is a professor of judicial administration at USC, and a frequent speaker for women's and services organizations. In 1963 she was chosen Alumnus of the Year by the UCLA Law School.

Prior to taking the bench, Mrs. Klein servied eight years in trial work as depty attorney general for California. On the Municipal Court bench, she has presided in virtually all divisions, civil and criminal jury and nonjury. She also served on the Los Angeles Superior court as a judge pro tem by appointment of the Judicial council.

She and her family reside in the San Fernando Valley.

Two planning commissioners, two students in Claremont city race

By GEORGE MacLAREN
P-B Staff Writer

CLAREMONT — A record percentage of voters for a City Council election is expected next Tuesday when Claremont residents have the opportunity to choose among four candidates for a successor to attorney Craig McManigal who resigned last Dec. 31 because of the new disclosure of assets law.

Vying for the fifth council seat are city planning commissioners Eleanor Cohen and William McLaughlin, and college students Teena Ann Boyk and Joseph Armendarez.

The regular council election in April attracted a disappointing 26 per cent turnout of voters, compared to a whopping 48 per cent in 1972 when the controversial Foothill Freeway issue was put to voters on the City Council ballot.

A 60 per cent turnout is forecast for the primary election Tuesday to which the special council election has been combined.

Front-runners are Mrs. Cohen, housewife, planning commissioner and environmentalist, and planning commission vice-chairman McLaughlin, a physicist and businessman.

Mrs. Cohen was vice chairman of the Claremont Environemental Task Force and editor of the task force's final report in 1970-71. She was first vice president of the Claremont Coordinating Council two years, and edited the council's Handbook for Youth in 1973.

She was an also-ran to McManigal and Frank Hungerford in the 1972 council race, losing by only 220 votes to Hungerford.

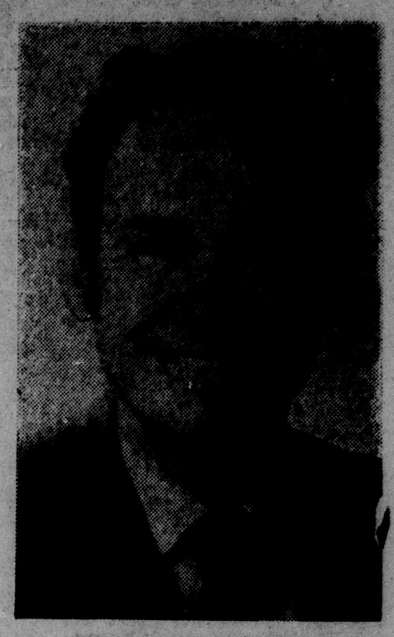
McLaughlin is president of Advanced Materials Technology, Inc., and active in community service.

Miss Boyk is a freshman at La Verne College. She will be working this summer as a counselor and lifeguard at the David and Margaret Home for Children, Armendarez, 27, is a senior at Cal Poly Pomona and a a lab technician at Pacific State Hospital.

All the candidates stated their views about Claremont's problems, except Armendarez, who also failed to attend the League of Women Voters' forum last Wednesday night.

ELEANOR COHEN

TENNA ANN BOYK



WILLIAM McLAUGHLIN

Tenna Ann Boyk

Miss Boyk feels that the city of Claremont is unique because it represents a distinctive type of growth and vitality.

"The city must go either forward or backward, and I think its future should be directed," Miss Boyk said.

She would like to see a survey of the city government, an evaluation of city departments to get personnel balance.

Miss Boyk likes the proposal of bike lanes and proposes putting them on Indian Hill Boulevard and Mountain Avenue for school children.

She is disappointed that the present post office at Second Street and Harvard Avenue cannot be retained. Arrow Highway will not work as a site because a post office built there would be too far from the general population, she thinks. The Postal Service has chosen the site at Arrow Highway and Buckwell Avenue.

She proposes a study of the fire and police departments. She feels that both departments need a sufficient number of men, and that the community should have equal protection from both at all times.

She believes that a solution to the transportation problem, especially for senior citizens, would be extension of the RTD bus route north on Indian Hill Boulevard to Foothill Boulevard. She would also encourage a study of the dial-a-taxi set-up.

Miss Boyk favors a study of Claremont's park sites and the present parks to see how much use they receive.

Eleanor Cohen

Mrs. Cohen believes that the City Council must set priorities, because of the effects that Senate Bill 90 has put on the city's ability to raise taxes.

She believes that abandoned housing is a city problem, and that many persons are unaware that it is an important issue. She thinks that the Valley Association of Cities is a good start in the right direction, and that the association's concerns should be expanded to include transportation needs.

Mrs. Cohen, mother of two, thinks that bike and pedestrian safety are two high priority items. She cited a recent study made by the League of Women Voters which showed that 80 per cent returning questionnaires are concerned about bike safety and bike lanes on city streets.

Bike lanes make sense economically, Mrs. Cohen believes. She would like to see bike racks in the Village shopping area and at the new county library.

Funding, she believes, should come through the Southern California Association of Governments (SCAG).

She thinks that subsidizing of dial-a-taxi should be explored for senior citizens, and that the city should be ready with a plan when state and federal funds are available.

Mrs. Cohen is proposing establishment of a human relations council, not just for ethnic relations, but for youth and older persons.

Mrs. Cohen would like to see the city youth commission merged with the new commission. She doesn't think the commission members can "sink their teeth" into anything.

She wants funds raised through the Redevelopment Agency to be used to identify the Village shopping area.

She would like a more equitable tax assessment in the city, and strongly supports Proposition 1 which would provide Claremont with about $75,000 that should be used to take care of the park sites which have been waiting for some time.

William McLaughlin

McLaughlin proposes an industrial relations review of the city hall management. He says there is "obviously something wrong" at city hall, and that there is a "consistent amount of dissension."

He stresses the turnover in department heads, and notes that City Manager Keith Mulrooney has been around longer than any department head.

He thinks that the City Council should perform the task or hire an outside agency.

He feels that the Redevelopment Agency is an interesting tool, and will assist both in the downtown area and in the industrial park.

McLaughlin said that it is "absolutely asinine to plunk a new post office down on top of 30 homes on Bonita Avenue." Bonita is the site recommended by the city council.

"The poor people are always getting the short end of the sticks," he commented. He called the Bonita Avenue project a "conflict of logic that is inconceivable."

McLaughlin thinks the best spot would be the packing house at Indian Hill Boulevard and First Street, because it would be within pedestrian access to the downtown area.

He would like to see the city commissions better balanced with a wide spectrum of backgrounds, experience, and political and economic points of view represented.

McLaughlin wants an improvement in relations between the City Council and the school board since the two agencies represent the same persons.

McLaughlin feels the biggest problems facing Claremont are inflation and the tax limitations placed on government by Senate Bill 90.

He thinks that the police department is "in good shape" but the city needs more policemen. He doesn't believe that the cross-trained police officer program, where officers are prepared to double as firemen, has been as valuable as the city manager says.

The fire department needs some improvements in the facilities area, McLaughlin said. He doesn't believe that Fire Station 1 would survive a mild earthquake, and thinks it would be better if headquarters were moved to Fire Station 2.

He would favor a valleywide fire protection system or joining the county system.

McLaughlin thinks senior citizens need more involvement in the community. Retired persons have a wealth of knowledge and experience which could be useful, McLaughlin feels.

Death penalty for area slaying case challenged

POMONA — Pomona Superior Court Judge Francis J. Garvey will rule June 6 on a motion which two murder suspects hope will prevent them from facing a possible death penalty trial here.

The defendants are Johnny R. Thomas, 28, and Roger L. Cox, 29, who are charged with murdering 49-year-old J. W. Clements March 19. Clements' body was found dumped in Live Oak Canyon, near Claremont, with the throat cut and with several stab wounds. The discovery was made by a young hiker.

Thomas and Cox were arrested several days later in Kansas and were returned here by sheriff's homicide detectives to face trial. Investigators said Clements, who lived in Corona but who worked at a Pomona tire company and often slept there in his camper, was slain during an attempt to rob him after an evening out with friends.

It is the allegation that Clements was slain during a robbery which the prosecution says qualifies the defendants for the death penalty if found guilty.

The defense maintains there were not witnesses to the incident, that no robbery can be shown and for that reason the special allegation must be dropped from the complaint against Cox and Thomas.

Special allegations now must be added to murder charges to qualify cases for the death penalty. The action is the result of the initiative California voters passed after capital punishment was ruled unconstitutional by first the state Supreme Court and later the U.S. Supreme Court.

Other special circumstances which can require the death penalty upon a first-degree murder conviction include murder for hire, of a peace officer, or murder committed during forcible rape or during sex crimes on children or murder committed during burglary or kidnaping or when murder has been committed by someone with a previous murder conviction.

These latest conditions have yet to be tested constitutionally.

2 U.S. officials to take part in Webb graduation

CLAREMONT — Two federal officials in Washington, D.C., both alumni of Webb School, will participate in the school's commencement exercises Sunday at 2 p.m.

Philip A. Loomis Jr., a member of the Securities and Exchange Commission, will be awarded an honorary membership in the Cum Laude Society for distinguished achievement in his career.

Charles R. Work, deputy commissioner of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, will give the commencement address.

Webb will graduate 44 seniors, all of whom have been accepted by four-year colleges. twelve achieved life membership in the California Scholarship Federation, and 11 won scholarships or honors at entrance to college. Three were National Merit Scholarship finalists, one of whom won a $1,000 scholarship.

Commencement music will be furnished by the combined glee clubs of St. Lucy's Priory High School and Webb School.

The Frances and J. E. Libaw Orchestra, founded at Webb this year, will be conducted by Christopher Trussell, director of music.

The baccalaureate service will be held at 11 a.m. Sunday on campus. Dr. David Alexander, president of the Pomona College, will give the sermon.

Oh-que Chorale will debut in L.V. church performance

LA VERNE — The Oh-que Chorale, a 14-voice choir under the direction of Thomas Schultz, will present a debut performance on Sunday at 8:15 p.m. at the La Verne Church of the Brethren.

Among the selections in the program will be Dello Joio's "Jubilant Song," American, Hungarian and English folk songs, and Scott Joplin's, "The Entertainer."

Members of the chorale are sopranos Robin Ansel, Teri Carmichael, Carol Gnagy, Virginia Johnson and Susie Stewart; altos Dena Carper, Karen Karelius and Marsha Miller; tenors Laury Flora, Michael Gnagy and Schultz; and basses Hugh Folkins, Russell Johnson and Daniel Schultz.

Schultz, a former faculty member at La Verne College, has sung as a soloist throughout the San Gabriel Valley and has directed several church choirs.

James Low, a voice coach at USC, will be the accompanist for the chorale.

The chorale is currently rehearsing under Low's direction as the chorus for the opera, "I Pagliacci," to be performed at the Redlands Bowl on July 9 and at the Santa Monica Bowl on July 12.

Suspect linked to killings freed in another case

POMONA — Tommy Langston, 21-year-old Pomonan named as a suspect in the double slaying Oct. 11 of two liquor store workers here, was ruled innocent Friday of armed robbery in a different case.

The trial in Pomona Superor Court required three days. The jury deliberated one day.

Langston was accused of the holdup of a service station tow-truck driver. The jury which acquitted him was not convinced of his identification as the robber, according to Joe Borges Jr., the defendant's attorney.

Despite the fact that Langston and two other men were named as suspects by Pomona police in the slaying of two men at Plaza Liquors, 1785 N. Garey Ave., he has never been charged formally with that offense.

Chino employes to vie in softball

CHINO — Chino Municipal Association members will play city officials, supervisors and police officers to a softball game Sunday afternoon at 3.

Members of the employes group will play against management and police personnel at the softball field behind the Chino Unified School District office at 5160 Riverside Drive.

CHP flays public apathy over speed limit

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California Highway Patrolmen are arresting nearly three times the usual number of speeders but are hardly making a dent in the multitude of motorists ignoring the 55 m.p.h. limit, CHP Chief Walter Pudinski said Friday.

"We are now averaging 4,116 speeding arrests per day, which gives us a total of 120,000 a month," Pudinski said. "And this is very, very difficult because we're arresting all we can and we're still not solving the problem."

Last year the patrol averaged 1,300 speeding arrests daily.

Pudinski said there are so many persons violating the energy crisis-spawned 55 m.p.h. limit "that if I had the necessary manpower and equipment I could arrest 100,000 speeders a day.

"Unless I get the support of the motoring public, how can I enforce the speed limit?" Pudinski asked in an interview.

"When 70 per cent are in violation it is impossible to catch all the speeders. Do we lose credibility with the public? Yes, you bet we do," he added.

The "speed thing," Pudinski said, has "me worried because I just can't seem to get the public to understand that we are diligently enforcing the 55 —we've never stopped enforcing the 55. And we'll continue to enforce the 55 until the law is changed."

But he added that "law enforcement is not enough. Whenever we have a law which the great majority are violating those that are charged with the responsibility of enforcement are in trouble. We must have the cooperation of the public."

Pudinski also said that while there had been reports that he favored a return to the 65 m.p.h. limit "I actually did not say that."

"I did say that when the energy problem has improved sufficiently and when we have sufficient statistical facts about the 55 mile speed limit, the legislature might want to consider re-instating the 65 mile limit," Pudinski said.

"We need more statistical data and more time before we can determine the exact effects of the 55 mile limit on traffic safety," he added.

"I never said I'm against the 55,' the CHP commissioner declared. "I said that if we lose respect for traffic law enforcement, the public loses respect, then the Highway Patrol loses credibility."

Pudinski also said he thought the 55 m.p.h. limit, which went into effect Jan. 1 "has been great for traffic safety." But he added, "I don't want to lead the public into a false sense of security' concerning decreased highway fatalities.

He said that in addition to the lower speed limit, traffic volume was down during the period and many other safety factors were involved.

Fatals in California the first four months of this year totaled 1,045, a 27 per cent drop compared to the 1,430 for the same period in 1973.

Editor of convict's book tells of his confession

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The editor for George Jackson, convict-author killed in San Quentin in August, 1971, says Jackson confessed killing a Soledad Prison guard himself and exonerated the other two "Soledad Brothers."

Gregory Armstrong, who edited Jackson's book, "Soledad Brother," tells of the confession in a new book published this week, "The Dragon Has Come," which tells of the final 14 months of Jackson's life during which the author and the convict worked together on Jackson's book.

Armstrong says that in the taping of an interview with Jackson at Soledad Prison June 19, 1970, they were talking about grand jury testimony on the killing of the guard when Jackson said:

"But you didn't read it close. If you had read it close you would have read that somebody has got me holding this guy with my right arm. He's over here, but still he can't see my face. I'm supposed to be holding this cat with my right arm. Now listen, man, he didn't see my face until later on when I dropped the buy and I'm supposed to be beating on him."

Armstrong thinks the words just "slipped out." But he says he still has the tape. Shortly afterwards, Armstrong writes, they turned off the tape recorder and Jackson whispered to him:

"You know those other two guys didn't have anything to do with that incident. I didn't need them. They would have only gotten in the way. If it looks like the trial is going bad, that's what I'm going to say. Nobody else is going to hang for me."

Jackson was killed by San Quentin Guards during an escape attempt before the trial started. The "other two guys" were Fleeta Drumgo and John Clutchette, who were acquitted at the trial of the guard's murder.

Everything you did or didn't want to know about retreads

Item: 28,080,000 retreads were manufactured in the US during 1973.

Item: 87% of the retreaders in the US produce fewer than 3,000 retreads per month.

Item: In the manufacturing process retreads should be inspected for possible imperfections not after they're cooled off but while they're still hot out of the molds.

* * *

The nuts & bolts about retreads may not be quite as exciting as the latest murder story or who won the Seventh at the track yesterday.

On the other hand, the way new tire prices are increasing a lot more car owners are going to get a lot more interested in retreads.

You might be one of them.

And if you can spare 5 minutes to read the rest of this ad, you may know more about retreads than many tire dealers know.

* * *

Historical event: We started manufacturing our own 4day retreads at our own plant in Gardena, California, in December, 1972, 1½ years ago.

People ask why.

In 1959 there were about 10,000 retread shops in the US, turning out about 30,000,000 passenger car retreads a year. (Not to mention another 12,000,000 truck retreads).

Today, there are half that many. What's happening to the retread business?

Half as many retreaders are producing about the same number of retreads. That means the average retreader is twice as big as fifteen years ago.

With the introduction of belted construction, tires became vastly more complex, and retreading required far more precision. The marginal operators with primitive skills and out-dated equipment can no longer survive.

Now that all the major tire manufacturers have started to produce radials, retreading standards are becoming even more complex and demanding.

* * *

It is our opinion, based on considerable experience with radials, that the best radial tires still are being produced in Europe. Manufacturers there use segmented matrices instead of attempting to do a compromise job with the old style full-circle clamshell matrices which were designed originally for the old style four-ply unbelted tires.

In our retread plant we use European-style segmented matrices exclusively, except for one tire in one size for which we don't have a suitable segmented matrix. Our shop uses the newest, most modern bagless retread equipment, specifically designed to retread the higher performance and longer wearing belted and radial tires.

We think there is a growing need for retreads in this country. High performance retreads are increasingly difficult to make, but they cost the car owner considerably less than half what an equivalent new tire costs. Our expertise, our facilities and our objectives are aimed at providing the best retreads that can be produced.

Additional retread brain food

The new bagless retreading equipment, which we use, requires us to be more critical in the selection of casings and in each step of the retreading process.

There can be no half way for us. Our final product either is superior to others, or we're forced to reject it.

If we're going to turn out a better retread than you can get elsewhere, not only do we have to have better equipment and expertise but we have to do a better job of inspecting the casing before, during and after retreading it.

When a retread is hot out of the matrix, any trapped air is still expanded. Thus imperfections such as liner, tread and casing separations are visible but within minutes often are impossible to spot.

With conventional retreading equipment there usually is a time lag between the cooking and the inspection. Our bagless method enables us to inspect our retreads minutely the moment they come out of the mold.

Every tire manufacturer, new or retread, takes a licking on some small percentage of his production. We want to take ours in the plant, not on the customer's car.

* * * *

In the US about seven new tires are sold for every retread produced.

In Europe the ratio of retread to new approaches one to one.

Nearly half the car owners in Europe ride on retreads.

* * * *

A high percentage of the casings we retread come from our 21 4day stores.

We need additional casings, which we buy from casing jobbers.

These jobbers have trouble with us. We're too particular. We have to be.

There are usually as many as 100 casing jobbers close enough to service our retreading plant.

They come and go. Often their telephone numbers are good for two or three weeks only.

Our used casing requirements are so demanding that many of the smaller jobbers don't even approach us. They would have a problem selling the retreadable casings we reject which aren't good enough for our requirements.

As new tires improve in mileage, fewer retreadable casings are generated.

We take in 5,000 casings to get less than 500 usable ones.

We don't intend to become the biggest retreader, because we manufacture primarily to retail and wholesale from our own 4day Tire Stores.

We really have no choice, because to become really big you need a place to dispose of unusable casings. One of the biggest US retreaders owns 190 wilderness acres out behind his plant. We don't.

* * * *

Our retread plant has to be neater, cleaner and more efficient than many others.

Fire hazard. There is almost no way to put out a tire casing fire once it starts.

The L.A. County Fire Dept is one of the strictest fire depts in the US.

* * * *

Casings in the fastest selling tire sizes, F, G and H 14-inch tires are in the shortest supply but in the 15-inch sizes they're more plentiful.

As a general rule, casings in plentiful supply are most tightly graded; those in short supply are less critically graded.

We try not to be careless about rejecting casings in hard to find sizes but our inspectors are required to apply the same grading standards to all sizes, scarce or plentiful.

* * * *

Another penalty we have to live with:

Neil McIntyre, who runs our plant, is a nationally known authority, a consultant and problem-solver in the retread industry.

No excuses. We have to be better than anyone else.

Our plant is run by the best man in the business.

Safe defense works best

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Passive defense consists of playing as safely as possible and waiting for declarer to attack new suits. Most of the time it is just about as successful as sitting down and hoping that something nice will happen, but there are times when it pays off.

West leads out his ace and king of hearts. South ruffs and leads the king of spades. West ducks and South continues with the queen. West wins and if he is inclined to panic, he will look at those clubs in dummy and shift to a diamond tricks before the clubs are developed.

Opening lead—♥K

This diamond lead will be right up South's alley since it will give him two diamond tricks and his contract.

A West who can count will note that South started with just five spades and will make four spade tricks. Adding three club tricks comes to a total of seven and South will need two diamond tricks for his contract. Hence any diamond tricks available to the defense will keep.

West will simply lead his last trump. South will win and attack clubs. West takes his ace, gets out with a heart or a club and continues to wait for declarer to play diamonds.

South will have to break the diamond suit and barring some really silly play by East or West will lose two tricks there.

Grumman, Navy in hot water over F14 plane

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Grumman Aerospace Corp. has told the Navy it can't continue building the controversial F14 "tomcat" fighter unless the Pentagon comes up with $125 million in advance cash payments, Senate sources say.

Grumman's demand for the unusual cash-in-advance procedure cannot be met without an okay from Congress, but the Navy has concealed the demand from Capitol Hill since January, the sources said.

The Navy action was discovered within the past week by a Senate Armed Services Committee aide. A memo detailing his findings was made public Thursday by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo.

Committee sources said the group was "acutely embarrassed" by the Navy action because its $21.8 billion 1975 arms budget went to the Senate floor Friday — and the bill contains $722.5 million more for F14s.

The committee is said to fear the new disruption of the trouble-plagued F14 program could lead the Senate to junk it altogether. The program perform anywhere near its original specifications.

The Navy's inability to pay Grumman in advance without congressional approval stems from a compromise worked out last year with Congress after the company refused to build more of the planes.

Grumman said then it would go bankrupt if the Navy insisted on buying more planes at the original contract price of $12.6 million a copy.

In a complex deal, Grumman agreed to take a $200 million loss on the first 150 planes, and the Navy got approval from Congress to raise the price on all subsequent models.

In a move to win congressional assent, the Navy and Grumman signed a contract for 48 planes at a price of $737 million last September. However, the contract was made contingent on the appropriation of funds by Congress.

When the 1974 appropriations bill reached the floor, Sens. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., tacked on an "anti-bailout amendment" that prohibited the Navy from advancing more than $25 million without a congressional okay.

Its purpose was to make Grumman borrow from the banks to finance its work, rather than from the government.

Surgery for pretty lips

Hair dyes have been around for many centuries, contact lenses for many years. But relatively recent is that surgical operation designed to give a thin-mouthed woman the bee-stung-lip look. Take a girl with a lipline like a tear in a tire. And with mousy hair. And with eyes of indefinite hue. It's now possible for her to become a green-eyed red-haired beauty with invitationally full lips. Thus a woman age 50 with such treatment not only can look age 35, but can look considerably better than she looked when she actually was age 35.

One out of avery 16 books published in this country is what's known in the trade as a Black Cover. Bible, hymnal, prayer or text book.

Q. "Has Mickey Rooney ever married a girl as short as himself?"
A. Not so far.

Thin

How many words can you come up with that give special meaning to "thin"? There are all kinds of thinness, you know. Not just slender or skinny. There's scrawny, wiry, willowy, lithe, gaunt and many more. Do believe they even outnumber those numerous works that suggest overweight. Like portly, obese, plump, plethoric, corpulent and stout.

Ancient Egypt's noblemen were required by law there to douse perfume on themselves at least once a week. An environmental thing, as I understand it. May have been the first clean air act.

Grumman, Navy in hot water over F14 plane

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Grumman Aerospace Corp. has told the Navy it can't continue building the controversial F14 "tomcat" fighter unless the Pentagon comes up with $125 million in advance cash payments, Senate sources say.

Grumman's demand for the unusual cash-in-advance procedure cannot be met without an okay from Congress, but the Navy has concealed the demand from Capitol Hill since January, the sources said.

The Navy action was discovered within the past week by a Senate Armed Services Committee aide. A memo detailing his findings was made public Thursday by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo.

Committee sources said the group was "acutely embarrassed" by the Navy action because its $21.8 billion 1975 arms budget went to the Senate floor Friday — and the bill contains $722.5 million more for F14s.

The committee is said to fear the new disruption of the trouble-plagued F14 program could lead the Senate to junk it altogether. The program perform anywhere near its original specifications.

The Navy's inability to pay Grumman in advance without congressional approval stems from a compromise worked out last year with Congress after the company refused to build more of the planes.

Grumman said then it would go bankrupt if the Navy insisted on buying more planes at the original contract price of $12.6 million a copy.

In a complex deal, Grumman agreed to take a $200 million loss on the first 150 planes, and the Navy got approval from Congress to raise the price on all subsequent models.

In a move to win congressional assent, the Navy and Grumman signed a contract for 48 planes at a price of $737 million last September. However, the contract was made contingent on the appropriation of funds by Congress.

When the 1974 appropriations bill reached the floor, Sens. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., tacked on an "anti-bailout amendment" that prohibited the Navy from advancing more than $25 million without a congressional okay.

Its purpose was to make Grumman borrow from the banks to finance its work, rather than from the government.

Surgery for pretty lips

Hair dyes have been around for many centuries, contact lenses for many years. But relatively recent is that surgical operation designed to give a thin-mouthed woman the bee-stung-lip look. Take a girl with a lipline like a tear in a tire. And with mousy hair. And with eyes of indefinite hue. It's now possible for her to become a green-eyed red-haired beauty with invitationally full lips. Thus a woman age 50 with such treatment not only can look age 35, but can look considerably better than she looked when she actually was age 35.

One out of avery 16 books published in this country is what's known in the trade as a Black Cover. Bible, hymnal, prayer or text book.

Q. "Has Mickey Rooney ever married a girl as short as himself?"
A. Not so far.

Thin

How many words can you come up with that give special meaning to "thin"? There are all kinds of thinness, you know. Not just slender or skinny. There's scrawny, wiry, willowy, lithe, gaunt and many more. Do believe they even outnumber those numerous works that suggest overweight. Like portly, obese, plump, plethoric, corpulent and stout.

Ancient Egypt's noblemen were required by law there to douse perfume on themselves at least once a week. An environmental thing, as I understand it. May have been the first clean air act.

The doctor comments

Vegetables we eat have no cholesterol

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Is it true that some nuts do not contain cholesterol? What about chestnuts and peanuts?

DEAR READER — Nuts don't contain any choesterol. Cholesterol is an animal product found in the flesh of animals and such products as milk and eggs. Just remember that if the product is from the vegetable kingdom it is choesterol-free.

The catch is that large amounts of fat cause our liver to produce more cholesterol. This appears to be particularly true of saturated fats common in animals and in coconut oil. Almost all raw nuts are high in fat. Part of this fat is saturated fat.

About 87 per cent of the calories in peanuts is fat and 15 per cent of the calories is saturated fat. That is not very good from a nutritional point of view, if you want to avoid fat and saturated fat. English walnuts would be better since only 82 per cent of their calories is fat and quite remarkablly only 5 per cent of their calories is from saturated fat. They are rich in polyunsaturated fat.

Raw chestnuts are an exception in the nut group and are really a low fat food. They are more like a bean. Only 6 per cent of their calories are from fat. Obviously neither peanuts nor chestnuts contain cholesterol since they are from the plant kingdom.

For more information about choesterol write to me in care of this newspaer. P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019, and ask for the booklet on cholesterol. Send 50 cents to cover costs.

DEAR DR. LAMB—This is a differnt kind of question from an 80-year-old woman in excellent health. Is it possible at her age to revitalize flaccid muscles of the upper arms and inner thighs by exercise? She had been a swimmer for years when her body was in fine form (firm and rounded). It's different now.

DEAR READER — Yes, there is no difference in muscle fibers in older people and younger people. A muscle is enlarged and its strength increased by placing it under progressive weight loads, such as in weight lifting. You don't need to use weights to do this.

You can exercise your arms against resistance and this puts the muscle fibers under load and will stimulate their enlargement and increase their strength. If a muscle's strength cannot be increased or it cannot grow, it is usually because of poor circulation to the muscle.

Just to use a well-known public illustration of what strength or resistant exercises can do for your muscles, Governor Wallace of Alabama has pointed out recently that he is a lot stronger in the upper part of his body than he ever was before he was shot. With the subsequent paralysis of the lower part of his body he has built up all the muscles in his arms and shoulders so that he can use them to help himself get around. This growth and increase in muscle mass in this area of the body has been a direct result of resistance or strength-type training. You don't have to be in your 20s to develop good muscle mass.

I do think as you get older it is even more important to check with your doctor about the types of exercises you do. The group of people who should be particularly careful about weight lifting and strength-type exercises are those who already have high blood pressure.

The new math doesn't add up

By JOSEPH FIRMAN

New math has grown old.

As one of a legion of parents plagued by the innovations of the new system of teaching mathematics to our youngsters, I am shedding no tears over the de-emphasizing recently ordered by the state Board of Education. In school I was always terrible in math, but my quavering "I do" had hardly died in the church sanctuary when I found myself surrounded with moppest demanding to be taught "the new math."

Since university mathematicians first laid the new math on unsuspecting school districts in the early 1960s, there has been a steady decline in the math achievement test scores of California school children. Nt to mention their perplexed parents.

The state board has now become bored with the new math which focuses on abstract reasoning and theoretical problem-solving. The members approved a "new mathematics framework" for California public schools that stresses "a smooth transition from concrete learning experiences to abstract learning experiences." ("Brain" is concrete, but "mind" is abstract.)

To the consternation and incredulity of all California and particularly the educational fraternity, the new program makes sense. You teach a little girl that 2 plus 2 equals 4, and when she grows to womanhood, yum, she can add $2,000 to $2,000 to find out what her monthly alimony should be. This is going from abstract to concrete at 7 per cent.

The big gun that sank or at least disabled the USS New Math was Assemblyman Leroy Greene, D-Sacramento, who wants to be sure that our kids "are being prepared to use mathematics in everyday life." The proposal is so logical, you wonder how a legislator ever came up with it. It's 6 to 2 he has children who needed help with the new math.

By a singular coincidence, the title of a mathematics textbook which I am working on now — or will be as soon as I can get my typewriter out of hock — is "Mathematics in Everyday Life." There is, of course, no such thing as "everyday life," but there certainly is a mathematics, and it (they?) plays a vital part in our lives.

Figures are so important. The old "502" (drunk driving) has been changed to 23102a. Useful to know. The speed limit has gone from 65 mph to 55 mph. Vital to know. The new girl in Accounts Receivable is 42-32-34. Exciting to know.

The chapters in my soon-to-be remaindered textbook are revelatory: "How To Keep a Firm Hand While Writing an Overdraft," "How To Estimate Your Grocery Bill Without Fainting," "Seven Hundred and Thirty Common Mistakes Made by Wives in Balancing Checkbooks," "Modern Hospital Fees, or Where Can You Get a Hotel Room for $130 a Day?" and "How To Talk to the IRS Man Without Crying."

My book will teach you to multiply by four the "estimate" for your car repair, to subtract $10 from your bank account if you ask a lawyer for the time of day, to divide by four (light, phone, water, gas) your income tax refund, and to add 11 per cent sales tax to everything you buy except gasoline (16 per cent).

New Math, old math — what difference does it make? You're in the middle and the screws are turning.

Train collision

Rescue crews marvel at light injury toll

INGERSOLL, Ont. (UPI) — Rescue crews found far fewer casualties than they had expected when they arrived at the scene of a freight and passenger train collision.

They discovered 20 derailed cars and fewer than 30 persons seriously enough injured to require treatment.

"Amazing," said one rescuer of the mishap which occurred Thursday near this southern Ontario town located halfway between Toronto and Windsor.

The crash between a Canadian National passenger train travelling at a speed of 60 miles per hour and the 50-car freight train happened just minutes after the passenger grain pulled out from the Ingersoll station.

Authorities said the passenger train, carrying about 100 persons, sideswiped a freight car which had broken away from the train and lay at an angle on the track.

All of the passenger coaches spilled off the track, including the engine and first car which completely turned over, and 14 of the boxcars derailed.

Policemen who arrived at the scene, located some 185 miles northeast of Detroit, described it as a "disaster."

At least 60 passengers were rushed to a nearby hospital, but only a small portion were detained for treatment.

"It's a miracle that there weren't any more injuries," said one unidentified survivor. "And it's amazing there were no fatalities."

The passenger train was en route from Toronto while the freight train was bound from Sarnia to Hamilton at the time of the mishap.

Names of the injured were not released, but authorities said two who were very seriously injured were transferred to University Hospital in nearby London.

New satellite in position

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The first satellite powerful enough to broadcast directly to simple ground receivers is on station above the Pacific for years of experiments beaming educational television and specialized medical services to rural America and India.

The new communications station, called Applications Technology Satellite 6 (ATS 6), was propelled into a 22,300-mile high stationary orbit from Cape Canaveral Thursday by the Air Force.

After examining tracking data, NASA's project manager, John H. Thole, said ATS6 should have enough control rocket fuel to operate for at least five years.

From its location above the Galapagos Islands, ATS 6 is able to beam radio and television to any place in the United States. It will begin its pioneering experiments after controllers at the Goddard Space Flight Center complete several weeks of tests.

In the United States, educational television and medical services will be beamed to communities in Applachia and the Rocky Mountains and in Alaska.

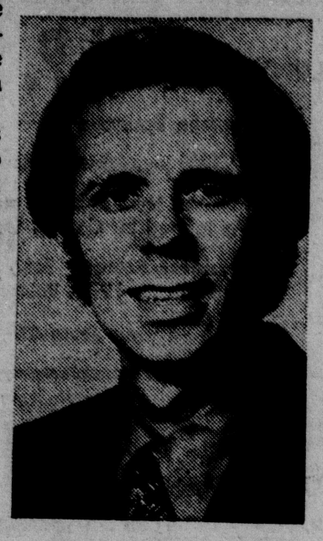
New pastor for D.B. church

DIAMOND BAR — The Rev. Scott Owsley has assumed duties as pastor of the Canyon Community Church (Evangelical Free).

Mr. Owsley, who succeeds the Rev. Richard Shook who resigned to accept a position with a Pomona insurance company, previously served the Evangelical Free Church in Hemet for 2½ years.

The new minister received his B.A. degree from Sacramento State University where he majored in psychology and English and was a student leader in Inter Varsity Christian Fellowship and Campus Crusade for Christ. He is a graduate of Talbot Theological Seminary, the graduate school of Biola College.



REV. SCOTT OWSLEY

Mr. Owsley served for three summers at Mount Hermon Christian Conference Grounds in the Santa Cruz mountains as a counselor and youth director. He served for two years at Fillmore Presbyterian Church as the youth pastor before serving in Hemet.

"I am very interested in communicating God's word, the Bible, to the Diamond Bar church and then secondly, communicating the Living World, Jesus Christ, to the community," Mr. Owsley stated.

He and his family are residing in Whittier.

Area to observe Council of Churches Sunday

Council of Churches Sunday will be observed this weekend by churches of a dozen denominations throughout the valley.

The observance coincides with Pentecost Sunday, the birthday of the Christian church.

Some congregations will use the occasion to discuss the importance of Christian unity, others will receive an offering to gather funds to pay their annual donation to the council. All participating churches will distribute a new brochure supplied by the council which has been prepared by the Department on Membership and Communications.

The brochure narrates the history of the council, its purposes and programs and how churches and individuals can participate in and support the work. The central theme of the brochure is "We Advance Together."

Membership in the council includes churches throughout the valley in 11 communities. The council was established to "provide an agency for the cooperation of the churches in Christian education, worship, evangelism world relief, Christian social concerns and such other matters as may achieve more effectively the objectives of the Christian church."

Current officers of the council are Dr. James W. Angell, president; the Rev. Leland Wilson, vice president; Mrs. LaVurla Miller, secretary, and Harlan Goodrich, treasurer. Dr. G. Merrill Lenox is executive director.

Society to be topic

CHINO — The Rev. James Ferrigan will speak at Sunday Masses of St. Margaret Catholic Church on the work done by the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

Masses are celebrated at the church at 8 and 10 a.m., noon and 7:30 p.m.

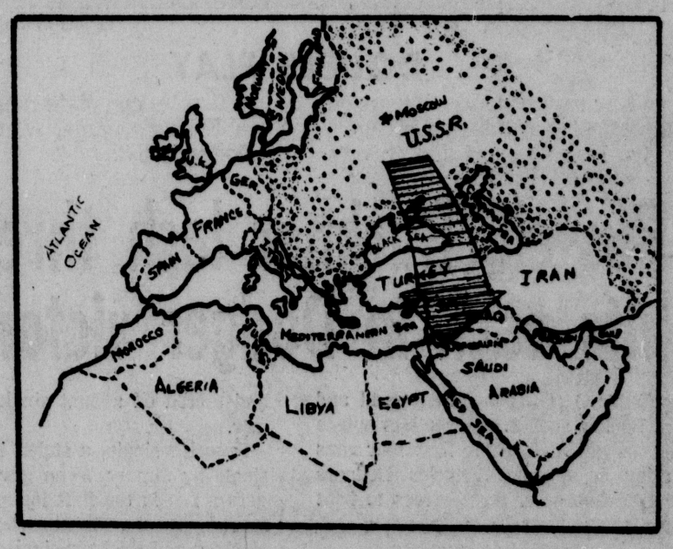
WELCOME

ISRAEL, RUSSIA. . . and ARMAGEDDON
The course of these two nations has been foretold in Bible prophesy for more than 2600 years. In the "latter days", say the Scriptures their paths will cross resulting in destruction for Russia and the elevation of Israel to world supremacy.
Calling the nations by their earliest names, the prophet Ezekiel declares:
"Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold I am against thee, O Gog, Prince of Rosh (RUSSIA), Meshech (MOSCOVY), and Tubal (TOBOLSKI): And I will turn thee about. . .and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army. . .Persia (IRAN), Cush (ETHIOPIA), and Put (LIBYA) with them. . .Gomer (FRANCE), and all his hordes; the house of Togarmah (SOUTH RUSSIA) and in the uttermost parts of the north, and all his hordes; even many peoples with thee. Be thou prepared. . .and be thou a guard unto them. . .in the latter days thou shalt come into the land that is brought back from the sword, that is gathered out of many peoples, upon the mountains of Israel, which have been a continual waste. . .
In that day when my people Israel dwelleth securely, shalt thou not know it? And thou shalt come from thy place out of the uttermost parts of the north, thou and many peoples with thee. . .and thou shalt come up against my people Israel. . ." Ezekiel 38:3-8, 14, 15.



At no time in history have these events yet occurred! The description of the nations in this prophesy did not fit world conditions until after World War II. It was then that Russia emerged as a superpower, able to lead the forces of Europe. Only since 1948 has the Jewish nation been in its homeland with its ancient name, ISRAEL. It has not had this name as a nation since the time Ezekiel prophesied, about BC 587.
The stage is now set, and we live in the "latter days" of this prophesy.
But what brings Russia, all of Europe and many other nations against tiny Israel? How are they destroyed? What is the reason? What does God have in store for the world after these things take place?
These are some of the questions to be answered in a stirring Bible Talk.

Verhoeven, Merenda pace Leos, 4-1

By DON BRADLEY
P-B Staff Writer

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. — It's one down and four to go for La Verne College's second national baseball championship.

The Leopards, now 35-7, defeated Point Park College of Pittsburgh, Pa. 4-1 in Friday's opening game of the 18th annual NAIA National Baseball Tournament here at Phil Welch Stadium.

That gives the Leos an off day today while the first round is completed. La Verne will play Lewis University of Illinois Sunday at 5:30 p.m. The Flyers (42) won their 13th straight game, over High Point, N.C. in Friday's second game.

Winning pitcher Tom Brennan (10-1) struck out 12 High Point batters to bring his season total to 132 in 86 innings.

Long John Verhoeven (13-1) and Hank Merenda led La Verne against Point Park. Verhoeven set the Pioneers down on six hits while striking out five and walking two.

Merenda had a perfect night at the plate. The dandy third baseman had two singles and a triple in his first three at-bats and then walked twice. He scored two runs and batted in one and stole a base.

Merenda went into the game as the Leopards' leading batter in playoff games. Sporting a .391 playoff average when Friday's contest began, he now is hitting .462 in eight games since the regular season ended. Merenda has scored 12 runs, batted in seven and walked 17 times. His 12 hits includes three doubles, a triple and a home run.

Verhoeven's strikeout-walk ratio was not as wide as usual. But the big Dutchman permitted only nine balls to be hit out of the infield including the six Point Park hits. It took him only an hour and 58 minutes to mow down the Pennsylvanians.

The Warriors got their only run in the second inning when losing pitcher Jim Ney (3-1) tripled to the right-center field fence and scored on a single by third baseman Greg Cieslinski.

Coach Ben Hines noted one flaw in the La Verne game.

"I was glad that we won, but I don't think we played that good," Hines commented. "We left runners in scoring position to often. But we played good defense and got good pitching."

The Leos nicked Ney for 10 hits, but left 11 runners stranded. Hines was happy with Merenda and Verhoeven.

"Merenda had another hot game for us," Hines said. "John (Verhoeven) didn't dominate like I thought he would, but they (Point Park) swung the bat better than I thought they would. However, Verhoeven did make them hit it on the ground most of the time."

Frankie Gustine, the Point Park coach, took the loss in stride. "Oh, that's a good team," he said, "A real good team. We might have been a little jittery."

The Pioneers (17-4) are slated to play High Point (13-9) this afternoon at 1:30 p.m. First round action will be completed when Sam Houston State of Texas (38-9) plays Ft. Hays State of Kansas (26-16) at 5:30 p.m. today and Wisconsin — Oshkosh (27-9) meets David Lipscomb of Tennessee (45-9) at 8

After Point Park had taken a 1-0 lead in the second inning, La Verne went out in front to stay in the third.

Merenda started it with a single up the middle. Paul Fleming walked. Mike Alonso flied to center with Merenda taking third after the catch. Wayne Redfearn lined a single to center driving in Merenda and moving Fleming around to third.

Leyva hit a grounder to third. Cieslinski fielded the ball but threw wildly to first, Fleming scoring. Art Sanchez forced Redfearn at third. Jesse Mendoza was hit by a pitch, but Don Snyder left the bases loaded with a fly ball to right.

Rich Fielder led off the third with a single. Merenda smashed a 1-1 pitch to right-center field for a triple scoring Fielder. Merenda scored on Fleming's sacrifice fly.

The Leos will practice this morning at 11:30 a.m. and Hines will make a decision on Sunday's pitcher. It will be Robb Mayhew (9-3) or Dan Quisenberry (11-2).

TOURNAMENT TOPICS — More than 25 major league scouts were in attendance Friday night. Attendance was a disappointing 321 on a cool night. The temperature began to drop Thursday night and was in the low 50's by the second game Friday night.

High Point Colleges' luggage and equipment did not arrive until Friday morning. The team attended Thursday night's banquet in slacks and tee-shirts.

Neither of the big hitters for La Verne or Point Park had a good night. Verhoeven struck out Lou Abel twice and the .463 hitter grounded into a double play and a force out the other two times. Alonso (.435) walked and was hit by a pitch, but went hitless in his three official times at bat.

Verhoeven, Merenda, and Leyva all had their pictures on the front sport page of the local paper Friday.

Claremont-Mudd coach and athletic director Bill Arce is attending the playoffs. Arce is pulling for the Leopards to win five straight as he has to leave Thursday for the University Division finals at Omaha, Nebraska.

After two steaming days and one chilly one, today's weather should be excellent. The forecast calls for sunny and warmer weather with a high in the upper 70's.

Rodriguez powers Halos

LOCAL - NATIONAL Sports

By BILL LANGLEY
P-B Sports Editor

ANAHEIM — Ellie Rodriguez made sure the Angels snapped their four-game losing streak Saturday night.

Rodriguez, who was acquired from the Milwaukee Brewers during the winter to solve the Angels' catching problem, drove in four runs with two home runs and a two-run double Friday to lead the Angels to a 5-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

It was definitely Ellie's big night as he accounted for four of the Angels' five runs against Detroit lefthander Mickey Lolich. Rodriguez also turned in his usual outstanding defensive job behind the plate as he helped Bill Singer record his seventh victory of the season.

Rodriguez belted his two-run double with two outs in the second inning to open the scoring then ripped solo home runs over the left field fence in the fifth and seventh frames.

"I have a lot more confiendence this season," Rodriguez said. "Last year at Milwaukee, it was just a guessing game whether I would play or not. It's a lot easier when you know you're a regular."

With a respectable .259 batting average, Rodriguez admits he has some thoughts about the All-Star game.

"I feel I have a shot at it if I keep hitting like this," the Angel catcher commented. "I have been selected for two All-Star games but I didn't get to play in either."

Lolich, who is one of baseball's biggest winners with 184 lifetime victories, has been a favorite for Rodriguez. The Tigers southpaw was the victim of Rodriguez' first major league hit in 1968 when Ellie was with the Yankees.

"It was just one of those nights," Rodriguez explained. "I got good pitches to hit. The double came on a hanging slider and the home runs were off fastballs."

Rodriguez, who had hit only six major league home runs in six seasons prior to joining the Angels, credits teammate Frank Robinson and coach Whitey Herzog for his power development this season.

"I am very fortunate to have both of them helping me," he said.

Singer became the Angels' top winner in allowing eight hits and four walks while striking out six.

The Diamond Bar resident gave up a two-run single to Ben Ogilvie in the fifth and a final tally in the ninth.

The Angels' biggest play came in the eighth when an appeal play at third base nullified a Tiger run.

Oglivie was caught leaving third base too soon in coming home on Jim Northrup's fly to left. The Angel bench and third baseman Paul Schaal noticed the premature getaway and third base umpire Hank Morganweck agreed when he called Oglivie out.

Instead of being 5-3 with the tying run at the plate in Norm Cash, the Angels were out of the inning.

"It really surprised me when Oglivie scored," Singer said. "(Joe) Lahoud made a good throw to the plate but we now know how Oglivie got there so quick.

ANGEL ANGLES — Robinson opened the eighth inning with a solid double to go-ahead of Hall-of-Famer Tris Speaker on the all-time career extra base list with 1,132 for seventh place . . . Nolan Ryan (6-5) will pitch for the Angels in this evening's 7 p.m. game vs Joe Coleman (6-4). In Sunday's 2 p.m. contest, it will be Woodie Fryman (1-3) vs Frank Tanana (4-6). The Angels begin a nine-game road trip in Milwaukee . . .

Outfielder Bobby Valentine, who suffered a dislocated left shoulder in Wednesday's fight with Clyde Wright, has been placed on the 15-day disabled list. Barry Raziano, a righthanded relief pitcher acquired from Kansas City in exchange for outfielder Vada Pinson, has been called up from Salt Lake City . . . He had a 3-0 record in the Pacific Coast League with an 1.44 ERA . . . Veteran Al Kaline, the Tigers' designated hitter, drilled a single in the eighth inning for his 2,906th lifetime hit. Kaline is currently 18th on the all-time hit list . . . Willie Horton, the Detroit slugger, sat out Friday night's game. He is tied for second in the American League with 12 home runs . . . Relief ace John Hiller leads the AL with a 1.44 ERA and is tied for second in the circuit with eight saves . . . The Tigers will be glad to get home. They have played 31 of their 46 games on the road.

DOUBLE PLAY

Dodger catcher Joe Ferguson is out at second as Chicago's Dave Rosello leaps and throws to first to complete double play in Friday's game, won by the Dodgers, 8-3.

Russell, Buckner lash three hits each in Dodger victory

CHICAGO (UPI) — Bill Russell and Bill Buckner collected three hits apiece and helped produce the first four runs Friday as the Los Angeles Dodgers took advantage of three errors to beat the Chicago Cubs 8-3.

Dodger starter Doug Rau, who hurled the first six innings, picked up his fifth win against one loss. Mike Marshall, making his 33rd appearance of the season —the Dodgers have played 50 games —finished up, allowing one hit and one walk in the final three innings to record his eighth save.

The Dodgers broke a 2-2 tie with two runs in the fourth to take the lead for good. With two out, Rick Auerbach and Rau singled and Auerbach scored when Rick Monday fumbled the ball in center. Rau took second on the error, went to third on Russell's infield hit and scored on a bunt single by Buckner.

Russell's single, a stolen base and a single by Jimmy Wynn gave the Dodgers a run in the first inning and they scored in the third when Russell doubled and Buckner singled.

The Cubs got their first run in the first on singles by Don Kessinger and Billy Williams and an infield out and their second in the third on a single by George Mitterwald, a sacrifice, an infield hit by Matt Alexander and an infield out.

The Dodgers clinched the game on three unearned runs wiith two out in the seventh. Jimmy Wynn and Steve Garvey walked and scorred on a throwing error by Dave Rosello. Willie Crawford, who reached base on Rosello's error, scored on a single by Joe Ferguson.

Pomona fifth in track finals

CHARLESTON, Ill. — Pomona Pitzer placed fifth in the NCAA Division III Track and Field championships here Friday night while Ashland College of Ohio captured first place with 61 points.

The Sagehens, with 36 team points, were paced by Ray Fogg's second place effort of 55-5¾ in the shot put. Steve Smith set a school record with a 14.4 performance in the high hurdles while running third and then came back to finish fourth in the intermediate hurdles with a 53.7 clocking.

Kevin Porter also recorded a third with a 223-7 toss in the javelin while teammate Bob Orell threw the javelin 221-10 for a fourth place effort.

Steve Mason cleared 14-6 in the pole vault to place fourth while Randy Luce ran a 14:14.6 in the three mile for a fifth spot. Bill Taylor, who turned in a new school mark in the 440 prelims with a 48.2 showing, finished fifth with a time of 48.8.

Cal Poly Pomona's eight-man contingent was reportedly disqualified Friday night on a technicality in the finals of the NCAA Division II of the Track and Field championships.

Host Eastern Illinois and defending champion Norfolk State tied for the Division II title with 51 points.

Cal Poly San Luis Obispo finished third with 48½ points while Cal State Northridge, the CCAA champs, had 48.

World shotput record in jeopardy

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — World shot put record holders Al Feuerbach and George Woods, operating out of their favorite pit and smack in the middle of the action, stage still another one of their standard-busting duels today in what may be the featured event of the Kennedy Games.

They were going head-to-head when they set the respective outdoor and indoor marks, and with both at the peak of condition in anticipation of the AAU championships in two weeks, no one would be surprised if one or the other sets a world record today.

Feuerbach's world record stands at 71-7 but Woods topped that with a 72-2 ¾ heave indoors. In 13 meetings this year, Woods has beaten Feuerbach 10 times.

The Kennedy Games will be dominated by open competitors such as Feuerbach and Woods but there will be a sprinkling of collegians, most of them shooting for qualifying marks for the NCAA championships which get underway at Austin, Tex., next Thursday.

Meet Director Dave Meggard has lined up what he calls a "quality" field.

"I went for the competitors rather than a big field in each event," said the University of California Athletic Director. "We'd rather have a balanced field rather than a huge field, and we won't highlight one event at the expense of another."

In some respects the Kennedy Games, at least this year, will resemble the pro track tour with not more than two events going on at the same time. Thus, when Feuerbach and Woods step forth for their shot put duel all the attention of an anticipated crowd of 10,000 will be riveted on the shot put.

With this being a "down year" in most running events except the 100 and the 440 and mile relays, field competitors are in a good spot to grab most of the attention.

John Powell, with a 223-4 heave in the discus last week at Modesto, currently is the hottest competitor in his specialty. Also Arnie Robinson in the long jump. Last week Robinson sailed 27-2 ¾ in the Cal Relays. That's the fifth best long jump ever and the best in the world this year.

The featured running event is the 100 dash where world record holder Ivory Crockett meets Steve Williams for the second straight week. Crockett took the world record to nine seconds flat three weeks ago, then beat Williams in 9.2 last week.

Chino's Law, Upland's Scott qualify for state CIF finals

BAKERSFIELD — Two San Antonio League tracksters qualified Friday night for tonight's finals of the state CIF meet to be held at Bakersfield Memorial Stadium. Jayson Law of Chino High sprinted to a third place, 21.2 clocking in his heat of the 220 to earn a spot in tonight's finals. The Cowboy flash nipped San Francisco's Mike Farmer, who had run a 9.5-100 and 20.8-220 this year, to make the finals.

Upland's Steve Scott was the other local to qualify. The Highlander sensation recorded a 1:52.0 to place second in his heat of the 880.

Scott's bid for the state title will begin at 7:30 p.m. tonight when the half mile gets under way while Law is scheduled to race at 9:05 p.m.

Mike Weaver scores with KO in second

SAN DIEGO—Pomona's Mike Weaver scored a second round knockout over Lee Mandingo Friday night at the Coliseum in San Diego.

The local heavyweight, who sent Mandingo to the canvas three times on left hooks, floored him for good just 52 seconds into the second round.

Strings win sixth in row

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — John Alexander beat Graham Stilwell 6-0 and Marita Redondo topped Sue Stap 6-2 Friday night to lead the Los Angeles Strings to their sixth win in a row, a 27-18 triumph over the Chicago Aces.

A Sports Arena crowd of 1,066 saw the Strings run their World Team Tennis record to 9-4 with their fifth home victory in as many matches.

Alexander teamed with Geoff Masters to beat Butch Buchholz and Stilwell 6-4 in men's doubles and the LA women's doubles duo of Karen Susman and Kathy Harter scored a 7-6 decision over Janet Young and Stap.

The Aces' only win came when Buchholz and Young teamed in mixed doubles to defeat John Fort and Redondo 6-2.

The Strings host the New York Sets Saturday night.

Bruin season opener in Tenn.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — UCLA will open its football season Sept. 7 at Knoxville, Tenn., instead of the Coliseum, it was announced Friday.

The Saturday afternoon game will be shown on national television.

Bruin athletic director J.D. Morgan said UCLA and Tennessee switched sites of their 1974 and 1975 meetings. In 1975, the Bruins will host the Volunteers at the Coliseum Friday night, Sept. 19. That game originally was set for Knoxville Saturday afternoon, Sept. 20.

"The changes were made for several reasons," said Morgan. "For one, it fits better into each team's schedule for both years. We're also doing it for economic reasons."

Don Marcotte signs contract

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Bruins Friday announced the signing of wing Don Marcotte to a new contract..

Marcotte, a five year veteran scored 24 goals and added 26 assists last season and was one of Boston's regular penalty killers.

Trevino's 64 grabs lead

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI) — Colorful Lee Trevino, his putter as hot as the Carolina sun, fired a course record 64 Friday for a one-stroke lead after two rounds of the $250,000 Kemper Open golf tournament.

Trevino, who called the round one of his best ever, birdied nine holes and bogeyed but one to post a 36-hole total of 134, 10 shots under par and one stroke better than six other golfers tied for second.

"Competitively, I think this is one of the lowest rounds I've ever shot," said the happy-go-lucky Trevino after breaking by a stroke the Quail Hollow Country Club course record of 65.

Young Tom Watson, who shot a 65 Thursday for the first round lead, fashioned a two-under-par 70 in the sweltering 80-degree heat and led the group at 135, one stroke off Trevino's torrid pace.

The others were little Chi Chi Rodriguez and veteran Gibby Gilbert who shot 65s, Florida Citrus Open winner Jerry Heard and J.C. Snead with 66s, and little-known John Jacobs with a 67.

Hubert Green, winner of two tournaments and second only to Johnny Miller in money earnings this year, led two others, Kermit Zarley and surprising Bob Menne, two strokes back at 136.

Veterans Ray Floyd with a 69 and Billy Casper with a 68 were in a bunch at 167. Miller, who eagled the par-5, 535-yard ninth hole, shot a 67 and Australian Bruce Crampton, only a shot off the first-round pace, fell to a par 72, and were in a group at 138.

Jack Nicklaus, playing in only his second Kemper, one of three "designated" tournaments on this year's tour, was at 69-139. Masters champion Gary Player was well back at 72-142.

Arnold Palmer, with a fat 76, posted a 76-hole total of 146, and failed to make the cut.

"I was putting exceptionally well," said the jolly Trevino after the round. Trevino's only bogey, on the par 4, 353-yard 16th hole, was the result of two bad shots after a near-perfect drive that left him 90 yards from the pin.

"I hit a sand wedge over the green and chipped back poorly and two-putted," he lamented.

Trevino, who hit an unusual three buckets of practice balls before his early-morning start, said, "I'm going to go out and hit some more. They're looking pretty good now."

The sprawling, finely-cut greens were credited for the wave of birdies. Nicklaus, whose strong points are long drives and accuracy, complained that the huge greens did not suit his game, adding that this was one reason he has avoided the Kemper.

Pekarcik fans 15 in 10-1 victory

By TIM CLARK
P-B Correspondent

POMONA — Larry Pekarcik destroyed the LaVerne offense here Friday night while his hitters took advantage of the porus LaVerne defense. Pomona Post 30 scored 10 runs (four of them unearned) in the seventh inning, to clobber LaVerne Post 330, 10-1.

Pekarcik struck out 15 LaVerne battery. He only allowed five hits (two in the ninth) and did not walk a batter.

LaVerne had its problems. The usually steady defense committed eight errors, four of them in the explosive seventh inning.

The game seemed destined to be a pitcher's duel between LaVerne's Ralph Beltran and Pekarcik. Beltran battled Pekarcik valiantly through six innings, allowing only a leadoff single to Bill Karr and a third inning hit to Tracey Cowger.

Pomona's Roger Slayton led off the seventh inning with a tough single under shortstop Bruce McNaught's glove. Pekarcik put down a perfect bunt, and advanced to first base, moving pinch runner John Souza to second. Dean Sickles then loaded the bases up when Beltron couldn't handle his soft roller to the right of the mound. Dave Pedroza drove in Souza with a fielder's choice and an error by LaVerne catcher Wally Pitts, giving Pomona a 1-0 lead.

Gerry Piccioni then singled to send Pakarcik and Sickles home, making the tally now 3-0. Bill Karr grounded the ball sharply to third baseman Steve Hines, who threw the ball into right field. Right fielder Jim Richards could not find the handle, so Pedroza and Piccioni trotted home.

John Freeman then greeted Beltran with a single, sending Karr home for a 6-0 lead.

Will Lewallen chased Beltran out with a single, with Freeman advancing to third. Gary Ravencamp now took control of the mound, and got Cowger to fly out to Dave Maloof. Now Slayton was up again, and Ravencamp promptly walked him, loading the bases.

Pakarcik then got his second single of the inning, driving in Freeman and Lewallen for a 8-0 bulge. Pinch runner Mike Keegan scored as Sickles rammed a triple to left-center, adding yet another run, 9-0. Pomona's final tally came when Sickles scored on an error by Carl Davis.

LaVerne cashed in their lone run in the ninth when McNaught singled and then scored on a triple by Maloof.

In other Legion action, Fontana clobbered Montclair, 10-1, and Upland downed Chino, 9 to 2.

Lee Roy signs Cowboy pact

DALLAS (UPI) — Linebacker Lee Roy Jordan, who had been rumored jumping to the World Football League, signed a one-year contract Friday with the Dallas Cowboys.

"I didn't get the $150,000 like I feel I'm worth," the veteran from Alabama chuckled. "But I am happy."

The Cowboys are the only National Football League team having in effect a court injunction preventing the WFL from signing its players to future contracts.

Before the injunction was granted last month, quarterback Craig Morton, running back Calvin Hill and wide receiver Mike Montgomery signed with WFL teams.

Jordan said he never seriously considered jumping to the new league.

UCLA's Oliver snubs Rams, signs WFL pact

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UPI) — The Honolulu Hawaiians of the World Football League Friday landed the Los Angeles Rams' third round draft choice when they signed Al Oliver, a 6-7, 275-pound offensive tackle from UCLA.

Oliver, 21, was the fourth draft choice of the Rams who has opted for the Hawaiians. The others were defensive back Norris Weese of Mississippi and tight end Frank Johnson of UC Riverside, fourth-round Rams' choices, and defensive backrunning back Derrick Williams of UCR, a ninth-round LA pick.

A spokesman for the Hawaiians, who will train here, said Oliver had been inked to a multi-year pact. Terms of the contract were not disclosed.

Oliver, from Artesia, Calif., was a UPI All-Coast first-team selection last season. A two-year starter, he helped the wishbone Bruins to a 9-2 record as a senior.

THE BIG KICK — Pomona Post 30's Larry Pekarcik struck out 15 batters Friday night as Gems topped La Verne Post 330, 10-1, in District 18 opener at Ralph Welch Park. Pekarcik is a Damien High product.

Oakland options Manny Trillo

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland A's Friday optioned infielder Manny Trillo to Tucson of the Triple-A Pacific Coast League.

A club spokesman said Trillo, who suffered a pulled thigh muscle April 22 and has been on the disabled list since, was being sent down to play his way back into shape.

Nastase, Borg, Smith advance

ROME (UPI) — Romania's Ilie Nastase, Sweden's Bjorn Borg and America's Stan Smith reached the quarterfinals Friday in the 31st Italian Open tennis championships.

Top-seeded Chris Evert of the United States reached the women's singles semifinals but Britain's Virginia Wade, the second seed, lost 7-5, 6-3 to South Africa's seventh-seeded Pat Pretorius.

Nastase, the defending champion and the top men's seed, overcame a bad first set on the rain-softened center court to bowl over Roscoe Tanner of Lookout Mountain Tenn., the 16th seed, 3-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Borg, third-seeded, beat 14th-seeded Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., 6-1, 7-6.

Fourth-seeded Smith, of Pasadena, Calif., reeled off a second-set shutout in defeating 13th-seeded Eddie Dibbs of Miami Beach, 7-5, 6-0.

Also reaching the men's quarterfinals were Guillermo Vilas of Argentina, Russia's Alex Metreveli, Americans Brian Gottfried, Steve Kulevitz and Manuel Orantes of Spain.

Vilas demolished West Germany's Karl Meiler, 6-2, 6-1; the eighth-seeded Metreveli ousted ninth-seeded Jiri Hrebec of Czechoslovakia, 6-2, 6-1; Orantes, the sixth seed and perhaps the hottest player in the tournament thrashed Rhodesia's Roger Dowdeswell, 6-1, 6-1; 12th-seeded Gottfried, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., whipped Egypt's Ismail El Shafei, 7-5, 6-0; and Kulevitz, of Baltimore, swept over Italy's Tonino Zugarelli, 6-2, 7-6.

Miss Evert, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., sailed to a 6-1, 6-1 win over Japan's eighth-seeded Kazuko Sawamatsu.

In the other women's quarterfinals, Czechoslovakia's Martina Navratilova, the sixth seed, squeezed past third-seeded Helga Masthoff of West Germany, 4-6, 7-6, 7-6; and the Soviet Union's fourth-seeded Olga Morozova beat fifth-seeded Julie Heldman of Houston 4-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Tennis players seek damages

PARIS (UPI) — Tennis players Jimmy Connors of the United States and Evonne Goolagong of Australia Friday asked for $2,000 in damages for every day French tennis officials continue rejecting their request to compete in the upcoming French Open championship.

A court heard the arguments of lawyers representing the players and the French Lawn Tennis Federation which excluded them for having played this season under contract with the World Team Tennis in the United States.

Robert Badinter, the attorney for Connors and Goolagong, said the action was "unjust, unjustifiable and prejudicial," and asked the court to outlaw the ban.

PASSENGER CAR TIRE GUARANTEE
Montgomery Ward guarantees each of its passenger car tires for a specified number of miles when used on passenger cars or station wagons, except taxis. If your tire does not give you this mileage because of:
- defects in material or workmanship,
- normal road hazard failure,
- premature tread wearout (2/32 inches or less remaining),

Montgomery Ward will:
1. During the first 10% of guaranteed mileage, replace the tire free.
2. During the remaining guaranteed mileage, replace it for a prorata charge based on mileage used.

Nail punctures repaired free during the entire guaranteed mileage.

For guarantee service and adjustments, return tire to any Montgomery Ward branch with the Guarantee Booklet issued at the time of sale.

Charge after first 10% of guaranteed mileage based on selling price in effect at the time of return at branch to which returned, including federal excise tax.

Passenger tires used on taxicabs, and motor vehicles other than passenger cars are guaranteed on the same basis against defects in materials and workmanship only.

Catholic event at Dodger Stadium

Charities Day buses to run

POMONA — Buses for transportation to the ninth annual Catholic Charities Day at Dodger Stadium will leave from St. Joseph Catholic Church on the day of the event June 9 at 11:45 a.m.

Those attending the event will gather at the church at 11 a.m. before boarding the buses. Tickets are $6 and include the round trip by bus and a reserved seat for the Dodgers-Chicago Cubs baseball game.

Funds raised during the day will be used to support the Catholic Social Service of the Catholic Welfare Bureau. The local Catholic Social Service is located at 420 W. Center St.

Catholic Social Service provides counseling services for individuals and families in need of assistance for marital problems, child behavior situations, parent-child difficulty and unwed parenthood.

Information or tickets may be obtained by calling Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ehler at 622-7713 or Catholic Social Service at 629-1692.

Coordinating the Charities Day trip are Robert M. Tortell, transportation; Mrs. Arthur C. McHugh, publicity; Mel Naughten, Claremont Chairman; Mitchell Benemie, La Verne-San Dimas chairman; Mariano E. Rodriguez, Pomona chairman, and Mrs. Frank Bordenave, Diamond Bar chairman.

Sabbath in Jewish faith is topic

LA VERNE — Members of the United Methodist Church Adult Discussion Group will meet with Dr. Alexander Mittelmann of Temple Sholom, Ontario, on Sunday at 9:15 a.m. to discuss the meaning of Sabbath in the Jewish faith.

Dr. Mittelmann will explain the history and meaning of Sabbath to the Methodist church members.

The ministry of Christian education will be the topic of the 10:45 a.m. worship service at the Methodist church. Worshippers will be asked to express their educational needs and desires to guide the Commission on Education in goal-setting and program development.

A coffee fellowship will follow the service to provide an opportunity for the congregation to meet Robin Marie Carroll, a La Verne College student who will join the church staff for the Summer Service Program.

JOY DAWSON

Evangelist to speak

POMONA — Joy Dawson, an evangelist, will appear at the First Assembly of God Church Sunday at the 10:45 a.m. and 7 p.m. services.

A native of New Zealand, Mrs. Dawson has spent the past four years ministering to adults and youth across the world. Her topics of discussion are "Knowing God and Making Him Known" and "We're Sick of Being Challenged. . .We Need To Be Changed."

Children's Day

POMONA — Children's Day will be celebrated at Pilgrim Congregational Church Sunday at the 10 a.m. worship service.

Special songs and reading will be included in the service for the children. Donald Sturgis will deliver a sermonette and choir awards will be presented during the morning.

Chino United picnic

CHINO — An all-church picnic at Featherly Park will follow the morning worship service of Chino United Methodist Church Sunday.

The worship service will be held at 9:30 a.m. The Rev. W. Stanley Creighton will speak on the topic, "Keep Your Roots Deep." Church school classes will also be held at 9:30 a.m.

Political discussion

LA VERNE — Representatives of the League of Women Voters will discuss the propositions which will appear on Tuesday's election ballot at the La Verne Church of the Brethren on Sunday at 9:15 a.m.

The meeting will be held in the social hall and is open to the public.

Minister returning to Korea

POMONA — The Rev. John Underwood will deliver his final sermon in the Pomona area at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday at 10:30 a.m. before returning to missionary service in Korea.

"Fire Carriers" will be Mr. Underwood's sermon topic.

The service will be a rededication of Mr. Underwood and his wife, Jean, as they return to the mission field. A reception will follow the service.

Mr. Underwood was born in Seoul, Korea, a member of a missionary family. He is a graduate of Hamilton College and Princeton Theological Seminary. He went to Korea to serve in 1947 and returned to America for a year's home assignment in 1953.

He met his wife, a Pomona native, at the Biblical Seminary in New York City. They were married in Pomona in 1954 and then went to Korea where they served until this year, except for home assignment periods at Princeton from 1959 to 1960 and in Pomona from 1966 to 1967.

Baritone in concert

UPLAND — Paul McNutt, baritone, will be heard in concert at the First Church of the Nazarene Sunday at 6 p.m.

McNutt will present an audio-visual concert of five miracles of Jesus Christ. As he sings the scriptures that relate the miracles pictures will be projected on a large screen.

McNutt earned an A.B. degree in music and studied at the Cornish Conservatory in Seattle, Wash.

St. Luke's to confirm junior class

CLAREMONT — The 1974 Junior Confirmation Class of St. Luke Lutheran Church will be confirmed and receive first Communion Sunday during the 10 a.m. worship service.

Members of the class are Bret Erickson, Mark Graudin, Allison Mowell, Derek Mowell, Shawn Mowell, Jim Omlid, Roxanne Rota, Pam Weidner and Paul Wendt.

"Jesus Promises You Eternal Life" will be the Rev. Arthur F. Graudin's sermon theme during the service.

No understanding

DETROT (UPI) — Automobile dealers often fail to understand what young men want in a car, the Newspaper Advertising Bureau says. They tend to overestimate the young man's interest in price and economical operation and to underestimate his interest in how easily and sharply the car handles and how well styled it is.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE INVITING BIDS FOR CASH CONTRACT NO. 2113 VALLEY BOULEVARD

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Los Angeles, in Room 383 of the Hall of Administration, 500 W. Temple Street, Los Angeles, California, 90012, until 9:30 o'clock A.M. on June 11, 1974, on which date they will be publicly opened and read, for the widening of an existing bridge, construction of cement concrete curb, gutter, drives, pavement and walks, slope paving, alley intersection, drainage structures, water and electrical conduits, crushed aggregate base, processed miscellaneous base with lime treated subbase alternate, select natural material, asphalt concrete pavement, asphalt concrete curb, fenced work, sewer work, together with concrete and tree removal, clearing and grubbing, embankment, excavation, grading, shaping, preparation of subgrade, removal of existing improvements and other incidental and appurtenant work necessary for the proper construction of the contemplated improvement, estimated to cost less than $1,600,000.00, all in accordance with the provisions of the Plans and Specifications and Instructions to Bidders therefor which are filed in Room 383.

The Engineer may, from time to time, and without Board approval, issue addenda to the contract documents during the period of advertising for bids, for the following purposes: (a) revising Prevailing Wage Scales, (b) clarifying or correcting special provisions, plans or bid proposal; provided however that any such addenda shall not change the original scope and intent of the project.

Purchasers of contract documents shall be notified of, and furnished with copies of, such addenda, either by certified mail or personal delivery, during the period of advertising.

Proposal must be submitted on forms prepared and furnished for the purpose, which may be obtained at the Information Desk in the lobby of the Los Angeles County Road Department Administration Building, 1540 Alcazar Street, Los Angeles, California 90033 at which office bidders may also purchase copies of the Plans and Specifications for the contemplated work for the price of $7.00 plus Sales Tax per set, not refundable. A mail address and a phone number must be left at the aforementioned office which the prospective bidder agrees is sufficient to reach him.

Each submitted proposal must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check, or a surety bond, payable to the County of Los Angeles in an amount equivalent to at least ten (10) per cent of the total aggregate bid price of such proposal, as a guaranty that the bidder, if his proposal be accepted, will enter into and execute the awarded contract, and furnish the required bonds in connection therewith, in accordance with the terms of the aforementioned Specifications and Instructions to Bidders. In the event that a surety bond is submitted in lieu of a check, it shall be subject to the condition that the surety thereon be approved by the County Auditor and County Counsel.

The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and to waive technical errors and discrepancies, if to do so seems to best serve the interests of the County.

Pursuant to the provision of Sections 1770 to 1777, inclusive, of the Labor Code of the State of California, the Board of Supervisors has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages for each craft or type of workman needed to execute the proposed contract, and it will be required that not less than said rates be paid to all such workmen employed or engaged on the work. Complete wage rate schedules are on file at the offices of the Board of Supervisors and the County Road Department and are included in the contract specifications available at the Road Department.

The rate of compensation for any classification not listed in the schedule but which may be required to execute the proposed contract, shall be commensurate and in accord with the rates specified for similar or comparable classifications or for those performing similar or comparable duties.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS: Bidders must satisfy themselves by personal examination of the location of the proposed work and by such other means as they may prefer as to the actual conditions and requirements of the work, and shall not at any time after submission of the bid dispute, complain, or assert that there was any misunderstanding in regard to the nature or amount of work to be done.

The contractor to whom this contract is awarded will be required, before execution of the contract by the County Board of Supervisors, to file with the County Board of Supervisors surety bonds as follows:

A "Faithful Performance Bond" amounting to 100 percent of the total contract price is required for all contracts.

A "Payment Bond" (labor and material) amounting to 50 percent of the total contract price is required for all contracts which have a total contract price in excess of $10,000.

By order of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

Dated May 14, 1974.

POMONA CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH

"Where We All Share in Customer Care"

There are good little cars and there are great little cars

The answer is at
POMONA CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH
(and you can drive one home today)

Good Little Cars	Great Little Cars
Good little cars are priced low.	Plymouth Duster is priced surprisingly low compared to other small cars.
Good little cars can get good mileage like Nova, Maverick and Mustang II.	Great little cars like Plymouth Duster proved in certified tests conducted by the United States Auto Club that they can get much better gas mileage in city and highway driving than Nova or Maverick. And in the same USAC test, they even got better mileage in city traffic than a 4-cylinder Mustang II.*
Good little cars can seat four or maybe five people like Vega, Pinto and Maverick.	Great little cars like Plymouth Valiant and Duster, have more hiproom than Nova, Hornet, Maverick, Vega and Pinto.
Good little cars offer locked-in, out-of-sight trunk space like Pinto.	Great little Plymouth Duster offers more than three times the trunk space of Pinto, all under lock and key and out of sight.
Good little cars offer conventional ignition.	Great little cars like Plymouth Valiant and Duster offer Electronic Ignition feature on small cars from Chrysler standard. An exclusive standard Corporation.
Good little cars require points and condenser replacement. And, they require spark plug changes at 6,000 miles. These changes are recommended by the manufacturers and could cost you as much as $81 every 24,000 miles.	Great little cars like Plymouth Valiant and Duster have no points or condenser to replace, and spark plugs can last up to 18,000 miles under normal driving conditions. A savings to you of up to $62 over competitive 6-cylinder cars like Nova and Ventura in the first 24,000 miles alone.†

Four Arts Festival

Culture can be a picnic

"Picnic on the Plaza" is the theme for the second annual Four Arts Festival to be presented free on the plaza of the Pomona civic center from 2 to 7 p.m. Sunday.

Residents of Pomona and neighboring cities are invited to attend the festival, bringing picnic suppers to dine on while being entertained by five local cultural groups with art exhibits and demonstrations, band and chorus concerts, and ballet and dramatic performances.

LeRoy Hughes, first president of the Pomona Valley chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encourangement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America and former president of Valley Community Theater, will be master of ceremonies.

The display of local artistic talent will open with an Art Galleria from 2 to 5 p.m., at which members

Travel tips

Shopping in India saves tourist $$$

BOMBAY — Best buys here are textiles, as India ranks as one of the world's two top textile producers. Bombay is the fabric center; so plan to do your buying here.

Forget about machine-made things—look for handlooms. Surprisingly, handlooms usually cost no more than machine made, which is taxed to protect hand weavers.

Be sure to see a patoloa (pronounced pah-TOE-la) sari, which takes about a year to make. The design is dyed into silk threads before weaving, giving it a watery appearance. These were great treasures on the old caravan routes. Assam, a small state in the Himalayas, does marvelous things with textures. Just feel their cotton saris, bedspreads and tufted jackets.

Raw silk, 45 inches wide, in natural and rainbow colors, costs less than $5 a yard; for evening wear hand-blocked silk organza with gold or silver threads is irresistible at about $8 a yard. Hand woven upholstery and drapery materials, 48 inches wide, run from $2-$4 a yard in cotton, about $8 in pure silk. (Note: When a merchant uses the term "art silk," he means artificial silk rather than pure silk.) Another type of fabric—khadi—is hand spun in addition to being hand woven.

Expect saris to be from 42 to 45 inches wide; length depends upon where they were woven. In North India it's five yards, six in the south, nine in rural areas around Bombay. (Use a sari as dress yardage—or learn to drape it as the Indian woman does for her dress.)

Each part of the country makes a different type of fabric; Handloom House stocks the widest variety. This is a government store with branches in major cities, but best in Bombay. Also recommended in Bombay—especially for drapery and upholstery materials: Contemporary Arts & Crafts, D.C.M. and Chunilal Mulchand.

More good buys:

BRASSWARE. Bowls, boxes, urns, candle holders, lamp bases—you'll find them everywhere. New items are sold at government emporiums and souvenir shops; the Sundar Nagar Market in Delhi offers the best selection of old pieces. Prices go upward from $1, with cost depending upon size, age and workmanship. Too, look for primitive statues made by the Adavasis, an aboriginal tribe.

WALL HANGINGS. Paintings on cloth and embroidered mirror work come from Rajasthan. Hand blocked blue-and-brown cloth prints are made in South India. Long linen pieces completely covered with silk embroidery are really bridal shawls called phulkari (pronounced FULL-car-e), but their unwieldy size makes them better wall decorations. The women of Madhubani, in central India, recently started applying to paper the bold folk designs they paint on their houses. Frayed twigs serve as brushes; dyes are mixed with goat's milk.

ART OBJECTS. South India makes exquisite bronze statues—see them at the Tamil Nadu Emporium in Bombay. In Delhi, shop at the Sundar Nagar Market; in Bombay, at Natesan's and—if you know your merchandise and are a shrewd bargainer—at Chor Bazaar. Antiques (over 100 years old) require a permit for export.

CLOTHES. Hand embroidered denim pants and jackets, custom made in 24 hours, cost $25. Off-the-rack silk dresses and evening pajamas are $50; silk blouses and men's shirts, $15. Shop for these at boutiques in major hotels. Long cotton dresses in hand made batik, hand embroidered, run $4.50—in pure silk prints, $8. Get them at Lucknow Chikan International in Bombay.

JEWELS. Star rubies, blue sapphires, golden topazes, garnets and others—all mined here—are priced about 50 per cent less than at home. Buy only at tourist bureau recommended shops.

The finest collection of inexpensive handicrafts assembled under one roof is at the Handicrafts & Handlooms Export Corp., Lok Kalyan Bhavan, 11-A Rouse Ave. Lane, Delhi. This government enterprise uses top designers, including Hanae Mori, Carol Horn and Jeanne Peral. Other good selections are at the Cottage Industries Emporiums in Bombay and Delhi and the state government emporiums—most of them located in Delhi, a few in Bombay.

Take purchases from private stores with you; only government emporiums can be relied upon to ship merchandise.

Erotica in good old days

What if the gay blades of Pomona didn't have such things as Playboy centerfolds or pornographic movies like "Deep Throat" to turn them on back in the Gay Nineties? Don't feel too sorry for them because they were denied that sort of literary and theatrical erotica.

And don't feel too sure it was being denied them. After all, if the truth must be told, the forces that cater to the prurient interests of the male animal were aboard in the land even in those long gone days—and if we are to judge by an advertisement which appeared in an 1892 issue of the Pomona Weekly Times, they were profiting by such catering.

Maybe not to the extent that the purveyors of putrid prurience are profiting today but then, when one takes into consideration the relative value of money then and now, they were apparently doing all right by themselves.

At any rate, according to that advertisement, for only "six 2 cent stamps," a paltry 12 cents to be exact, curious Pomona males in search of literary titillation could secretly send off for "WHEN"—and in due time, as the advertisement promised, they would receive "A rare book for men. Mailed secure."

Some instructions for good dog house

By DR. FRANK MILLER

DEAR DR. MILLER: How do you keep a dog house from getting damp? I'm having that trouble with mine, or rather, my dog's.—A.N.

Dear A.N.: Start with a good roof and work down from there. An overhang, particularly over the entryway, is helpful. The opening should face away from the prevailing wind and a "door" of some material is advisable. The dog house should be up off the ground to allow air circulation under it. There must be adequate but non-drafty ventilation within the dog house, plus adequate—preferably disposable—bedding. A low wattage shielded light bulb or means of supplying some safe heat is an excellent dampness chaser.

TEMPERATURE - TAKING TIP — When in doubt about your dog or cat's health, take its temperature—and preferably more than once. The best thermometer has a stubby tip though even a longer tipped oral one may be used with some additional care. For both dogs and cats, temperature-taking is most successful when done rectally. The thermometer should be well shaken (down) first, then lubricated, then inserted rectally and held in about three minutes.

If your pet has a tail available, it serves as a handy handle. Encircle the tail from above with one hand and hold the thermometer below from both sides with the other hand's thumb and fingers. By holding onto the tail in this manner it is easier to keep the thermometer in the same relative position.

Normal temperature for both species is between 101 and 102 degrees. A very excited animal may run a temperature higher than the high normal of 102 by a degree or so. In this case, it is a good idea to recheck his temperature in a couple of hours when, hopefully, the animal is calmer.

Except in the case of an excited animal, you should consider 102 plus a fever. For most animals a temperature under 101 degres is subnormal. Some very large breed dogs may run a normal temperature below this and very old animals may run a consistently low temperature. A fever over 104 degrees is alarming. A subnormal temperature is even more serious. While there are many other guides to health or illness in your pet, a thermometer is a handy aid. It is also useful when calling the doctor for advice to be able to tell him your animal's temperature.

DEAR DR. MILLER: I have one very excellent—she's show quality—rabbit. My other female rabbit is nice enough but not nearly so good. I'd like to raise as many rabbits from the first female as I could. If I used the second doe for a foster mother, how often could I breed Doe One? They are both maintained in top shape as far as general health goes. —S.S.

Dear S.S.: No matter how cooperative Doe Two may be in this endeavor, Doe One had better have a buck waiting in the wings or the whole program is obviously doomed. Actually, it's easier on the doe to remain continuously pregnant (except for brief periods of parturition, of course) than to go through interrupted pregnancies with periodic lactations. Consequently, Doe One could be bred repeatedly and her young given away to foster mothers.

"Mothers", you'll note, is plural. The very fact that lactation is the hard part would indicate that one foster mother wouldn't be able to handle the load. With several foster mothers however, as many as 11 litters could be obtained per year by perennially pregnant Doe One.

of the Pomona Valley Art Association will exhibit works in a wide variety of media. Several will give demonstrations of their art. Among those displaying th ir work will be Withy Hathaway, PVAA president, Alfonse Fages and Louise King, watercolors; Alvin Anderson, oil paintings; Julie Parsons, weaving; Vera Tyson, oils; macrame and jewelry; Ruth Jackson, collage; Claire Doney, stitchery; Dory Eudey, paintings and graphics, and William Knox, oils and acrylics.

The Performing Arts section of the festival will start at 5 p.m. with a program by the Pomona Concert Band under the baton of guest conductor James Lytthans. The 65-piece group is regularly conducted by its founding director, Stan Selby, professor music at Mt. San Antonio College. He is on sabbatical leave this year. Lytthans will lead the group in a concert of band music and light classics.

At 5:15 the Pomona Community Chorus, directed by Ray Woods, will be center stage to sing Brahms' "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place" and selections from Meredith Willson's "The Music Man." Accompanist is Gary Toops. The chorus, one of the busiest chorale groups in Pomona, will make some 20 appearances this year. After the concert at the civic center, the group will perform Brahms' "Requiem" at the Pilgrim Congregational Church, 600 N. Garey Ave.

Valley Concert Dance Theater, under the direction of JoAnn Warner, former soloist with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, will present a varied program starting at 5:45 p.m. The dancers will perform the waltz, "Wunderbar"; the junior company will present "Classics Divided by Four" to music by Malcolm Arnold, and the senior company will offer "Fantasia," a blend of ballet and modern dance.

Performing will be Anne Billingsley, Georgette Bochkor, Pam Cumbie, Cyndi Kimball, Janine Mishalski, Jacki Paulson, Patty Taylor, Robyn Whitney, Tara Williams, Barbara Billingsley, Dawn Butler, Linda Fisher, Michael Girardot, Patricia Lawrence, Victoria Nash, Colleen Schultz, Becka Whitney and Patti Ziolkowski.

At approximately 6:15 p.m. Valley Community Theater will present scenes from its current show, the musical comedy "Once upon a Mattress." The play stars Lynda Hershey as Princess Winnifred, the role played by Carol Burnett in the Broadway production.

Also featured are Karen Russikoff, Lady Larken Nick Hooyboer, Sir Harry; Bobbi Welch, Queen Ag gravain; Gerald O'Connor, King Sextimus; Bra Ekstrand, Sir Studley; Scott Poindexter, Sir Harold and David Spencer, Sir Luce. Judy Clem directs an Jeryl Geary is musical director.

The more than 100 local artists in the four cultur al areas taking part in the festival invite all valle residents to pack a picnic and bring the family t enjoy an afternoon of the arts at the civic center.

ON THE COVER

Music, dance, art and drama will be presented by five local cultural organizations in the second annual Four Arts Festival to be held in the plaza of the Pomona civic center from 2 to 7 p.m. Sunday. Families are invited to bring picnc suppers. Admission is free. At the piano, Ray Woods, director of the Pomona Community Chorus, goes over the score with his soloists. At top, the brasses of the Pomona Community Band seem to serenade Janine Michalski of the Valley Concert Dance Theater.

British spy novel taut and exciting

By GREG SHAPTON

THE COOLER by George Markstein. Doubleday, $6.95.

Here is a spy novel with a quirk, a different angle. What happens when the government makes a mistake in selecting its secret agents? What do they do with a spy who is flawed, yet is too highly trained and knowledgeable to be simply discharged?

Under such a set of circumstances, the author weaves a credible plot of intrigue and clandestine operations designed to prevent the Germans from discovering the landing beaches for the invasion of Normandy.

Normandy was one of the two secrets that the British had to keep from falling into German hands.

The other was the Cooler, a secret place called Inverloch set up by British Intelligence as a dumping ground for unsuitable and mentally unstable agents.

Through an elaborate cover story, the rest of the British government is led to believe that Inverloch is used to give highly sensitive training to people who are going on extremely delicate operations. In fact, this prefabricated myth is told to the unstable agents sent there.

Flawed agents were never told the real reason why they were sent to Inverloch; they were just told that they required additional special training. Unknown to them, they could never leave until the knowledge they had was valueless.

Prefacing the story, we are told that though the story is fiction, there really was a Cooler. Those who know about it don't have to be told any more. Those who don't, can't be told any more. This rather interesting thought eats at your mind all the way through the book, and provides further fuel to wondering about the intricacies of intelligence work.

A variety of colorful characters dot the landscape of this novel. First there is Agent Loach, "transferred" to Inverloch after he practically kills a girl with a riding crop.

Then there is Clare, who, during training to be an undercover agent, turns against one of her own people in a training exercise. Unsafe because she likes killing she also is sent to Inverloch. And there is Major Ince of British Intelligence, who sends "the too-late-discovered problems" to the Cooler, and tries to keep the rest of the Government from finding out about the place. On the other side we have Grau, the German agent operating out of London, transmitting information to Germany from the radio transmitter under the floor of his used book shop.

Through an incredible maze of events, all of these characters are intertwined in a crisis that is thrown into the lap of British Intelligence.

The Germans have somehow managed to get an agent into the Cooler, an agent with a radio link to Germany. So the Cooler, a holding tank of top agents all knowing too much, and all of them unstable, becomes a time bomb with potential disastrous effects on the upcoming invasion of Normandy. It becomes a race against time to find out who the double agent is before the secret of Normandy can be broadcast to the Germans.

The novel is taut and exciting, yet short enough to be read in a single evening. Impeccably British in flavor and style, this is a spy novel to be read not only by enthusiasts of the spy genre, but also by others for sheer pleasure reading. Not a great novel when compared to works by John Le Carre, Helen McInnes, or Len Deighton, it nevertheless is a notable work for a first novel.

Print series on rivers of America

Holt, Rinehard and Winston, introduced a new paperback series, "The Rivers of America," last month. Originally begun in hardcover in 1937 by Holt, the series is geared to display the panorama of American history through the stories of the nation's rivers.

A broad range of novelists, poets, and historians have contributed their insights and historical expertise to make this an important literary series. The first volume was "Kennebec," by Pulitzer Prize-winning poet Robert P. Tristram Coffin.

A selected number of the titles in the original "Rivers of America Series" are now available in paperback: The Hudson," by Carl Carmer; "The Columbia,' by Steward Holbrook; "The French Broad," by Wilma Dykeman; "The Potomac," by Frederick Gutheim; and "The Colorado," by Frank Waters. Each new paperback volume is illustrated, carries a new preface by the author, and retails at $4.95.

BOOK REVIEWS

Gripping tale describes plot against Nazi

By COURTNEY COLEMAN

THE BORMANN BRIEF by Clive Egleton, Coward, McCann, Geoghagan, $6.95.

Martin Bormann, Hitler's deputy, vanished in the early days of May, 1945, in the ruins of the Third Reich; his fate remains a mystery to this day.

Egleton's gripping tale takes place eight months earlier, shortly after the failure of the Stauffenberg bomb plot on Hitler's life.

Bormann becomes the target of a second asassination attempt by a group of German generals bent on bringing about a negotiated end to the war.

This plot against Bormann is, as far as I know, entirely Egleton's brainchild. Most of the characters in this novel are fictional; Bormann himself remains as mysterious a man here as he was in real life.

The most clearly drawn characters are the Germans involved in the intrigue, while the English participants and the one American seem unreal and shallow. The German plotter, General Gerhardt, and his Nazi antagonist, Kastner, are complex men caught in conflicting demands of honor, patriotism, sexual needs and self-preservation—all heightened by their certainty of the impending collapse of Hitler's regime.

It is this careful development of character that distinguishes Egleton's story from a hundred other stories of wartime intrigue.

The reader knows in advance, of course, that the plot will fail, but this does not lessen his fascination with the story. Part of this fascination undoubtedly has to do with the monstrosities of Hitler's regime; we sometimes seem to perceive our humanity most deeply by the study of cases of inhumanity.

On whatever level this tale is read, it is one of the best of its type.

Reviewer calls biography of Cohan 'a work of art'

By NICHOLAS C. POLOS

GEORGE M. COHAN: The Man Who Owned Broadway, by John McCabe. Doubleday, $7.95.

If George M. Cohan owned Broadway today he'd probably sell it. Since the demise of the American theatre "the Great White Way" is not what it used to be, and our nostalgia ("memory with the pain removed") confirms this ugly fact.

This compact little book is more than the authentic narrative of the stage adventures of the "Yankee Doodle musical comedy man." It is a fascinating and intensive study of the American theatre along New York's Broadway from 1901 to 1940.

John McCabe, a professional actor and author of "Mr. Laurel and Mr. Hardy" has given us an exciting and moving historical panorama of American musical comedy with a deep perspective of a talented actor who seems to have reaffirmed the American Dream.

When James Cagney portrayed George M. Cohan in the film "Yankee Doodle Dandy," he said: "He was a product of his times, when performers had no guarantee against starvation. It was a very rough period. As far as I know, there was no formal schooling and the stong creative drive gave him no rest."

McCabe writes with warmth, humor and a wealth

24th year

Big O Tire celebrates

POMONA — Oral Little's Big O Tire business is celebrating its 24th birthday this month with an anniversary sale at 505 W. Holt Ave.

Sale or not, Little and his son, Ken, who own and manage one of the largest retread plants in the area, maintain that their greatest asset is the good will they have built up during the past quarter century.

The good will is the result of honest deals, efficiency of operation, reliability and fair prices, they say.

"The Big O is our own tire," Ken Little explained. "It is every bit as good as the big name brands, but we can sell it cheaper because our costs are lower. And we can offer a full free-replacement warranty coast to coast for the life of the tread. This means that if anything goes wrong while there is still tread on the tire, any of Big O's 300 stores throughout the nation will replace it free of charge."

The business has a huge retread plant — a 44,000 square-foot room — in the Mira Loma Space Center where mass production lowers manufacturing costs and high volume requires better and more accurate equipment. The entire plant is automated. It supplies retreads to Big O stores from San Diego to Bakersfield.

As for efficiency, the customer rarely has to wait long for a tire change. The Littles have installed a "speed lane" that changes a set of tires in 10 minutes.

Also participating in the local Big O celebration is the store at 748 E. Mission Ave., operated for the past six years by Dean Burrell.

Burrell was trained by the Littles for whom he worked 11 years before he opened his own store.

In addition to the Big O label, both stores handle the B. F. Goodrich tires with standard guarantees.

"We are proud of our image and the quality of the merchandise we sell," Ken Little said. "My father founded the business on an honest attitude and service to the customer. Our attitude hasn't changed since he got into the tire business 38 years ago. I'm going to be here for many more years to continue the same type of relationship with our customers."

The stores also carry tire accessories, including chrome, mag-type and heavy duty truck wheels. Service on mag-type wheels includes balancing and installation. With the purchase of mag-type wheels there is a guarantee for free balancing, replacement of valve stems, rotation every 8,000 to 10,000 miles and flats service.

As a customer convenience, Big O offers a six-month financing program.

Assisting the Big O stores are Carlos Hernandez, service manager, and Mark Thorsted, service specialist both at the Holt Avenue address and John Salazar, service specialist at the Mission Avenue establishment.

Ken Little, manager of Big O Tires at 505 W. Holt Ave., left, and Dean Burrell, manager-owner of Big O Tires at 748 E. Mission Ave., give joint inspection to a new tire.

Oral Little, who started the business 24 yea ago, is still quite active in daily activities.

Read The Facts About Tire Retreading

24 YEAR CELEBRATION SALE

Serving The Pomona Valley 24 Years

Most people don't know that 70% of the cost of a new tire is in the casing. 30% of the manufacturing expense is the tread. Does it make sense to discard the tire when that 30% wears out?

We don't think so.

Neither do airlines. Tires on jumbo jets, supporting hundreds of tons at very high speeds, last just a few takeoffs and landings before the tread is scrubbed off. But they're retreaded up to 10 times, as long as that vital casing remains undamaged.

Trucking firms, who watch their operating expenses on a strict cost per mile basis, purchase tires largely on their ability to stand up under many retreadings. To insure top quality, we retread our tires ourselves, in our own retread shop. Because we've got complete control over workmanship, materials and equipment, we can be certain we're selling only the very finest retreads possible. We take one heck of a lot of old tires off customers' cars. Most we must discard .Thorough inspections reveal flaws in most tires that makes them unsafe or unsuitable for retreading. Perhaps our standards are too high. There's always a shortage of casings we can retread. If we lowered our standards, we could produce more retreads at a lower cost. No thanks. We can afford to give our retreads a written, comprehensive road hazard, manufacturing and treadwear guarantee for 12,000 miles, because we know what goes into them. Our retreads have to be good. As a bonus our retreads are sold with a 100% Free Replacement Guarantee, covering road hazards and defects in workmanship and materials. NATIONWIDE. We can't afford disappointed customers if we are going to become the largest tire retailer in the country.

Our name goes on every retread we make. And in compliance with Federal regulations, we mold our own Department of Transportation identifying code into the sidewalls. The point is, if the retreads we sell aren't every bit as good as we say they are, you've got nobody to blame but us.

GUARANTEED RETREADS ON INSPECTED CASINGS ARE SUPERIOR TO INEXPENSIVE NEW TIRES.

'Happy Days' star was Griffith's Opie

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Ronny Howard, the star of the new "Happy Days" series, is the selfsame young man who played little Opie for eight years on the old "Andy Griffith Show."

Howard has shortened his name to Ron. At age 22 he thinks it has more dignity, even though he plays a 17-year-old high school kid in the new ABC-TV series.

In real life Ron is a part time student at USC, majoring in theater arts. He graduated from public high school two years ago with a 3.5 grade point average out of a possible 4.0. He also lettered in varsity basketball.

Ron lives at home with his family in Burbank, along with younger brother Clint who plays one of the young buckeroos in "The Cowboys."

Ron's room is sloppy, comfortable chamber which looks more like a laboratory than sleeping quarters. It is crowded with cameras and film equipment. There is an editing table in one corner with reels and splicing material. Clothes are tossed hither and yon, along with scripts and textbooks.

Has short haircut

He drives a Volkswagen to work and school, usually dressed in tennis sneakers, flares and a T-shirt. Because he wore a crewcut as a basketball player he is accustomed to the short haircut he must wear for the show.

Ron has breakfast at home, then reports to Paramount Studios at 7:15 for work. Production generally runs on until 7 o'clock in the evening, after which he stops for a bite to eat before returning home. He's addicted to cheeseburgers, french fries and malts.

Some day soon Ron plans to find an apartment equidistant from his parents' home, Paramount and USC. But there is a possibility he will locate near UCLA, 15 miles on the other side of town.

The reason for this is a pretty young coed who is majoring in psychology. She and Ron have been steady dating for the better part of two years. She isn't interested in acting

Coaches Sports

When Ron does depart he will be leaving a cat, three dogs, a colony of hamsters and tanks of tropical fish behind. Most of the menagerie belongs to brother Clint, an ardent animal fancier.

Ron has been a working actor since he was six years old. He's accustomed to seeing reruns of "The Andy Griffith Show" and isn't fazed by seeing himself as a child.

"Once in a while I get critical of myself in those shows," he says, "then I realize it isn't right to criticize an 8-year-old kid actor."

He is still a sports buff and spends much of his free time on weekeends coaching basketball and baseball in the Burbank Park Recreation League for youngsters from toddlers to age 14.

"I've never regretted being a working child," he says. "It has allowed me to pay for my own education even though my parents can afford it. I've managed to meet some of the most interesting people in the world and to travel."

Ron was never isolated from other children. When he wasn't working his parents enrolled him in public schools. His classmates were unimpressed with his acting status.

Seek cinema degree

Dates for dinner and movies with his girlfriend are limited to weekends due to the demands of the series.

On Friday and Saturday nights Ron almost invariably can be found in a theater watching a new movie. During the days when he isn't coaching he works with bits and pieces of film, learning editing techniques in his room. He also enjoys watching televised sports events

This semester Ron has dropped out of USC classes to give full time to the show. But this summer he will enroll once more as a sophomore, determined to earn a degree in cinema toward the day when he will become a director.

Waikiki's 1st high rise hotel leveled

HONOLULU (UPI) — Waikiki's first high-rise hotel, which once attracted millionaires and movie stars, was rubble today.

The Waikiki Biltmore, a 250-room, 12-story hotel built in 1955, was demolished by explosives recently to make room for a multimillion dollar complex slated for completion in September, 1976.

Admit women to academies, says legislator

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., urged approval recently of a bill to admit women to U.S. service academies, saying it's time to tell them "to grow up, get rid of their Mickey Mouse, and catch up with America and the rest of the world."

Commenting at a House Armed Services Committee hearing, Stratton said Pentagon objections to legislation calling for admission of women to the three service academies is "based on nothing more than inertia and resistance to change."

"The services need qualified women today more than the women need the services," he said. "The volunteer Army is not working."

Chess

Fatal interference

The arsenal of chess tactics has an enduring richness. We are continuously surprised by the various and sometimes new means by which positions can be compromised and pieces pried away from the opponent.

For example, Boris Spassky startled the chess world and indicated he was still alive when he tore to shreds Fischer's favorite Poisoned Pawn variation of the Sicilian Defense and won Bobby's queen. That transaction was a surprise, if not a miracle, for Fischer had apparently defied the laws of chess economy by brazenly and successfully ingesting the Socilian poisoned commonplace. He used the pawn for a decade.

But Spassky's method was old and inevitable procedure of hounding the queen with threats until it had no retreat. A rather more exquisite and exceedingly rare technique is the subject of this column. It is the so-called Nowotny interference theme and is best explained by considering our first example.

(Diagram 1)

BLACK

FUCHS
WHITE

Interfere, I dare you!

The position Fuchs-Korchnoi, 1965, does not seem drastically out of balance. It is true that black is a pawn ahead. But the white pieces on the face of it seem better developed, as the black rook is still in the corner and the black bishop is under attack.

However, black's lineup on the king file poses the constant threat of 1 . . . R-K8 check and mate, though at the moment, the rook check is met by the bishop retreat, 2) B-B1. In addition, black's queen is attacking the white rook at Q3 which is, however, defended by the other rook.

We have encircled the square at Q6 because it is the intersection of the two lines indicated by the superimposed arrows. It is the intersection of the lines of the crucial rook and bishop trajectories, and is the nerve center of the white defense. In fact, black wins by playing 1 . . . B-Q6!!!, as given in the second diagram. This interference move, but cutting off both vital lines, threatens mate and the rook with a vengeance.

(Diagram 2)

BLACK

FUCHS
WHITE

You win

In the actual game, Fuchs played 2. BxB, and after . . . QxR; 2. B-B1 Q-B4; resigned because of the material deficit.

The point of the combination, as you can see, is that after 1 . . . B-Q6, white has the unenviable choice of 2. BxB (as played), interfering with the defense of the rook, or 2. RxB, interfering with the bishop's defense of the last rank.

If you are intrigued by the logic of the Nowotny theme, try the next one. Black has sacrificed two minor pieces and a queen for the position given in our third position. At the moment 1 . . . PxP mate is prevented by the queen at K1, and N-B7 mate by the rook at R2. Of course, 1 . . . R-Q7!!! utilizes he interference motif to win (If QxR, then N-B7 check, QxN, PxB mate.) White's extra pieces are useless to prevent mate.

More about

Life of George M. Cohan

of detail including a brief skirmish with the chronology of Cohan's life as he tries to unravel the Independence Day argument of Cohan's birthday. The photographs are a historian's delight, and McCabe's attention to minute accuracy reveals a high regard for the reality of the past. This is not fiction in the making nor a series of authenticated lies but an honest biography without any grand theme other than its subject, George M. Cohan, who was once Broadway's "sovereign entertainer."

McCabe's personal narrative of the "derbied vaudevillian "who waved an aggressive American flag," and produced over 80 Broadway shows, is an honest characterization done in psychological depth with a keen and candid evaluation of Cohan's artistry.

In this respect his book is much more valuable than Ward Morehouse's 1943 biography, "George M. Cohan, Prince of the American Theater." The author is not entirely interested in presenting a sharp monolithic concrete statue of Cohan. He probes the creative spirit of a man "who struck a note in the American heat which has not yet stopped sounding."

Anyone who has ever had a Walter Mitty desire to be a song-and-dance man will appreciate this unique portrayal of a "little giant" who once owned Broadway. There is a more than adequate index that reads like a "Who Was Who," in the American theater plus a comprehensive chronology of Cohan's theatrical activities from 1901 to 1940.

The book is well-organized, the author has a gifted pen, and the interpretations are persuasive though exhibiting some small signs of sympathy for his subject.

As the footlights dim on the historic American stage one cannot help but be reminded of Ruskin's illuminating observation: "Great nations and men write their biographies in three manuscripts: the book of their deeds, the book of their words, and the book of their art. Of the three, the only trust-worthy one is the last."

If George M. Cohan could have read this book he would have applauded McCabe's effort, and no doubt called for "author, author," while the band quietly played in the background "Give my regards to Broadway."

If the play's the thing then the playright is the real artist. This book is a work of the art.

Legislator proposes renter deduction on federal taxes

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman William T. Bagley, a Republican candidate for state controller, has proposed giving California renters the same property tax deductions on their federal income tax that homeowners now enjoy.

He said his plan would enable California renters to deduct from $100 million to $300 million a year in property taxes from their federal income tax as homeowners now do.

At a news conference, the San Rafael lawmaker conceded it was now late in the legislative session to introduce a new bill to implement his plan. But he said he may attempt to include it in pending legislation or to press the issue next year if he is elected state controller.

He said approximately two million California renters pay income taxes and noted that 20 per cent of their monthly rent payments go for property taxes.

The proposal would classify the renter as the "primary obligor" for property taxes under state law. He said such persons automatically under federal law could deduct 20 per cent "of the rent paid as taxes."

"So if a person is paying $200 a month rent, $40 of that is taxes and $40 times 12 (months) is $480 deduction per year on the income tax which the renter can take," Bagley said.

Landlords, he said, wouldn't be hurt by the plan because they no longer would be required to declare as rental income that portion of rents attributable to property taxes.

Bagley said his plan "would not cost the state a dime" if it applied only to federal income taxes. Aides conceded if it were applied to state income taxes a revenue loss would occur.

PHS sets student concerts

Pomona High School drama classes will present concerts featuring Jim Gallucci and Gary Rice today and Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the Devil's Ring Theater.

Doors will open at 7 p.m. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children. They may be purchased at the door.

Gallucci and Rice play and sing their own compositions. Bob Hughes of the band "Lucille," will perform. Pomona High graduate Jim Curl will sing. Dennis Castellano, a Pomona High junior, will play piano.

Gallucci and Rice said their performances are to promote Proposition T on the June 4, primary election ballot.

"We are confident that when people see how interested the high school students are in increasing the available funds to the schools, they will see how necessary it will be to pass Proposition T," the musicians said.

Seniors get cash awards

POMONA — Three high school seniors have been awarded $400 scholarships each by the Women's Auxiliary at Pomona Valley Community Hospital to further their medical careers.

JOANNE MERRILL

MECHA voted club of the year at Pomona High School

By KEN SWART
Pomona Righ Reporter

POMONA — Movimiento Estudiantil Chicano de Aztlan (MECHA) has been named 1974 Club of the Year at Pomona High School. It is sponsored by student activities director Francisco Garcia.

MECHA was selected Club of the Year by the Club Council, an organizaton comprised of representatives of all campus clubs. This is the second consecutive year MECHA has won the award.

Branches

At the beginning of the 1974 school year, Pomona High MECHA created MECHA Central, with branch clubs at Garey, Ganesha and Bonita high schools. The purpose of MECHA Central is to assist Chicano students in organizing their resources and helping one anotner.

This year MECHA de Pomona sponsored "Semana de la Raza," a Chicano Culture Week at Pomona High. It created the Ballet Folklorica, a campus Chicano dance troupe, which has performed at numerous school and city functions and on KCET television.

Key Club

The runner-up Club of the Year was the Key Club, which is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

Alfred Escoto, president of MECHA, was named Club President of the Year. John Donaldson, president of the Key Club was runner-up.

This was the first year the club president awards have been given out.

During the final Club Council meeting this year, Bob Weis was elected president for next year. Weis is active in student drama. He is president of the campus American Field Service Club. He succeeds Doreen Music who is active in student government and served as president of the Interact Club, a Rotary Club youth organization.

PC to graduate Class of 1974 Sunday

By REGINA DE PAOLA
Pomona Catholic

Annette Liberatore has been chosen valedictorian of the graduating class of '74 at Pomona Catholic High School. The decision was based on scholastic ability.

Annette has served as president of the California Scholastic Federaton and was an active member of the National Honor Society. She was an officer of the Young Citizen's Council. She plans to attend the University of San Diego this fall and major in liberal arts.

Terri Alves, senior class president, was chosen salutatorian. She addressed the faculty and students at honors convocation Friday. The theme of the speech was "We are standing on the threshold of a dream; the future, which now is becoming a reality."

Cal Poly

Terri will attend Cal Poly Pomona this fall. She plans to enter the medical profession. She was an active member of the California Scholastic Federation and the National Honor Society this year.

During the last week of school seniors are given salutes by juniors, sophomores and freshmen. Juniors showed a movie, "Thoroughly Modern Milly." The other classes held luncheons.

Honors

Honors convocation Friday afternoon was presided over by Father Norman Priebe, a teacher at Pomona Catholic, and Father Joseph Carter, an assistant at St. Joseph's Church. Scholarship awards were presented.

A baccalaureate mass will be held at 9:30 a.m. Sunday. Graduation will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday at St. Joseph Church. Msgr. James Clyne of Los Angeles will officiate, representing Cardinal Timothy Manning. Msgr. William Barry, pastor of Our Lady of the Assumption Church of Claremont, will deliver the commencement address in place of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas P. English, pastor of St. Joseph.

Pomona High picks 1974-75 cheerleaders

By KEN SWART
Pomona High Reporter

POMONA — Pomona High School varsity, junior varsity, sophomore and freshman cheerleaders for 1974-75 have been chosen.

The varsity cheerleaders are Lori Bamesberger, Karen Ebersole, Lyn Masaki, Clarice Moses, DeDe Sharp, Kathy Triana and Adele Zimmerman.

Cheer

Girls chosen to represent Pomona High as Soul cheerleaders are Jennette Steward, Pam Massey, Tanya Glover, Karen Pettet, Michelle Spotville and Roberta Stiger.

The junior varsity and sophomore cheerleaders are Valerie Dillow, Nanci Feldman, Sylvia Jennings, Nedra Kayashima, Angela Pelato, Jean Sherk, Kim Warner, Vicki Williams and Joan Witherell.

Freshman cheerleaders are Star Bumanalog, Patti Harrison, Jill Masaki, Kim Norvell, Jackie Paulson and Teresa Young.

Song

Girls in the song division are Nancy Bamesberger, Linda Bauter, Laura Buchanan, Linda Halstead, Carolyn Rinaldi and Dana Warner.

Girls in the 74-75 flag division are Sue Baird, Debbie Chambers, Cheryl Embry, Jill McClay, Debbie Parra and Chris Williams.

Rally mascots are Pam Wheelesss, Cheryl Daniels and Frank Kohel.

Bilingual education

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation greatly expanding bilingual education for youngsters has cleared the Senate Education Committee, which was told there are 67 languages spoken by California school children.

The committee Wednesday sent to the Finance Committee on a 6-0 vote the measure boosting bilingual programs from $4 million this year to $15 million next year and $30 million the year thereafter.

The bill (SB2176) by Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco, was prompted by a recent U. S. Supreme Court decision which held current bilingual programs were inadequate. The ruling came in a class-action suit on behalf of Chinese-American students in San Francisco.

2 teen-agers surrender after 7-hour ordeal in bank

24 hostages released for $1 million

By GEORGE FRANK

RANCHO CORDOVA, Calif. (UPI) — Two teen-aged robbers held 24 persons hostage in a bank, received $1 million in ransom and pleaded their case on television Friday before surrendering meekly to an army of police.

The hostages, including three men, 18 women, and three small children, were released unharmed. "Everybody's all right," a sheriff's spokesman said.

Michael D. Madigan, 18, and Brian J. Young, 19, walked out of the suburban shopping center bank surrounded by more than 100 heavily armed officers after they were promised they could watch themselves on TV.

One of the bushy haired bandits gave a clenched fist power salute outside the barricaded bank, and a crowd of youthful onlookers in this suburb of Sacramento cheered.

The two surrendered with Sheriff's Deputy Robert Ruh, who had entered the bank earlier wearing only his trousers in exchange for the release of eight initial hostages.

In the rambling TV interview, Madigan and Young, both of Rancho Cordova, complained of having no money, food, job or transportation.

"I wouldn't be doing this except I need the money. I can't stand living like animals," Madigan said as he nervously fingered the trigger of his revolver.

Young added, "I just want to get this money and I just want to leave."

TV newsman Bill Harvey of KCRA and cameraman Harry Sweet were allowed in the bank five hours after the youths stormed it. The suspects earlier robbed a crowded supermarket-department store four doors away and escaped with two shotguns, a revolver and ammunition.

"They wanted to tell their story to the community," Harvey said.

The newsmen rushed the film to the station for processing, but the two suspects gave up before the interview was broadcast and were en route to jail when it was first aired.

Before the TV men were allowed into the bank, an unarmed officer pushed three grocery carts containing $1 million in cash up to a night deposit slot of the Crocker National Bank and tediously dropped in bundle after bundle of cash which had been collected at a nearby bank.

Eight of the hostages, including a pregnant woman, a woman with a heart condition and a mother and her infant child, were released after Ruh went into the bank.

The 16 others were freed after Ruh and the two youths surrendered. They had demanded that Ruh negotiate with them. They were acquainted with him because he patrols the Rancho Cordova area.

SURRENDER TO POLICE

Michael Madigan, 18, left, and Brian Young, 19, both of Rancho Cordova, are taken into custody after surrendering to police Friday afternoon ending a tense 7-hour drama during which they held 24 persons hostage in a bank in the Sacramento suburb. The pair originally demanded a $1 million ransom, but agreed to give up after being interviewed on television.

Aged, poor hit hardest by taxes, report shows

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A private research report said Friday increasingly higher taxes are wiping out recent advances in federal spending for social security, Medicare, food stamps, and other programs aimed at helping aged and low-income Americans.

The analysis was part of an annual review of government fiscal policy published Friday by the Brookings Institution, a respected private research organization with headquarters here.

The study notes that in the fiscal year beginning July 1 the administration has earmarked $98.2 billion for "cash income maintenance." This is 32 per cent of the $304 billion that the government plans to spend during next year —a much higher percentage for such programs than in recent years.

Government money for "essentials" such as medical care, food, housing and education programs has swollen to $33 billion, or 11 per cent of the total budget, also a higher per centage than in earlier spending programs.

But these gains are partly offset by a tax structure that the Brookings study said is increasingly regressive —meaning that low-income people are carrying a heavier share of the tax burden relative to their incomes.

After examining all sources of government revenue, the Brookings group concluded that "social insurance (security) taxes that weigh relatively heavily on low-income people are growing the most."

Simultaneously, the study said, tax breaks for farmers, oil producers and other businessmen have reduced the effective yield of corporate income taxes as a revenue producer.

Agnew's back tax reportedly paid

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has satisfied Internal Revenue Service claims against him by paying all of his back income taxes, the Baltimore Sun reported Friday.

Agnew resigned from office and pleaded no contest to a negotiated tax evasion charge Oct. 10, after federal prosecutors agreed not to seek his indictment on charges of taking kickbacks while a county, state and federal official.

Although Agnew's 1967 tax return showed a taxable income of $26,099 and $6,416 in taxes owed, A criminal information filed Oct. 10 said he actually earned $55,509 and should have paid $19,947 in taxes.

The amount the IRS collected from Agnew was not revealed, but the newspaper said the charge would have called for back payments of about $25,000, including $13,551 in unpaid taxes for 1967, a 50 per cent penalty and a 6 per cent interest charge.

A 40-page summary of evidence read into court records by federal prosecutors claimed Agnew received about $87,500 in unreported income between 1966 and 1973.

Police jail three in marijuana raid

ALTA LOMA — Narcotics officers from the San Bernardino Sheriff's office arrested three men and seized $100,000 worth of marijuana here Friday afternoon.

The arrests and seizure climaxed a three-month investigation in the West End by members of the Regional Narcotics Task Force and Sheriff's Narcotics Officers.

Arrested were Jimmy Sotolo Pena, 31, 7737 Aspen St., Fontana, James Lee, 31, 17127 Malaga St., Fontana, and Dennis Eugene Herron, 36, 4465 5th St., Riverside. Each was jailed on suspicion of possession of marijuana for sale and carrying loaded firearms.

The arrests were made after undercover narcotics officers purchased 10 kilos of marijuana from the suspects in the parking lot of an Alta Loma bar.

In the investigation that followed, deputies discovered the 500 pounds of marijuana hidden at one of the suspects homes.

Officials believe that the trio were one of the major sources of marijuana for the West End communities.

Joan Kennedy hospitalized

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Joan Kennedy, wife of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., has been hospitalized at the urging of her physician for a complete rest, the senator's office announced Friday.

Dick Drayne, Kennedy's press secretary, declined to reveal where Mrs. Kennedy has been hospitalized.

Unconfirmed reports said she was admitted to Silver Hill Hospital in Connecticut.

Drayne said Mrs. Kennedy has been "under continuing strain" because of the illness of their oldest son, Edward Jr., who had his leg amputated last November to arrest a form of bone cancer. He has required regular preventive treatments since.

Supreme Court agrees to hurry Nixon decision

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court agreed Friday to make a hurry-up judgment on whether President Nixon must produce additional evidence in the Watergate coverup case, and set oral arguments for July 8.

The court acted on a plea by special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski to shortcut the normal legal process by taking the case away from the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, where it is now docketed on an appeal by the President.

The decision was a setback for White house lawyers, who argued that the court should let the case take its normal course through the judicial process.

Because Justice William H. Rehnquist has disqualified himself, the case will be heard by a eight-man Supreme Court. This raises the posibility of a tie vote, which would leave in effect U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica's May 20 order that Nixon must surrrender the subpoenaed materials.

Rehnquist gave no reason for disqualifying himself, but he served as assistant attorney general while one of the defendants, John N. Mitchell, headed the Justice Department.

In its brief order Friday, signed by Chief Justice Warren Burger, the court instructed the President's lawyers and Jaworski to file briefs by 1 p.m. EDT June 21. Briefs filed in reply must be completed by July 1 in preparation for the July 8 oral arguments, the order said. Each side will have one hour to give its arguments.

"We will file our briefs and make our arguments at the appropriate time," White House counsellor Dean Burch told reporters after the Supreme Court order.

Lockheed urges halt in trading

BURBANK, Calif. (UPI) — The giant Lockheed Aircraft Corp., which was bailed out by the federal government in 1971 with a loan guarantee, asked the New York Stock Exchange to halt trading on its stock Friday while it reviewed its financial situation.

The company said Lockheed directors and financial advisers, Lazard Freres & Co., will review proposals to strengthen Lockheed's financial position at a June 3 meeting.

Lockheed spokesmen said the company would provide no further details until after the meeting.

After Lockheed, one of the nation's largest defense contractors, advised the NYSE of the news, the exchange held up trading at 12:21 p.m. EDT. Lockheed shares were at 4⅜, up ⅛, at the time. Trading did not resume.

U.N. approves troops as guards for Golan Heights

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The Security Council, without dissent, Friday approved a joint U.S.-Soviet resolution creating a U.N. force to stand between Israeli and Syrian forces on the Golan front.

The tally was 13-0, with China and Iraq refusing to participate in the vote.

U.S. ambassador John Scali hailed the development as a critical step in a "quickening movement" toward middle east peace.

The Soviet Union, which balked at adoption of an authorizing resolution Thursday during private consultations in which Soviet Ambassador Yakov A. Malik was reported to have "bellowed like a bull" against hasty action, joined in sponsoring Friday the resolution identically as drafted by the United States.

The speculative explanation for Malik's turnabout was that he had not received instructions Thursday from Moscow and stalled for time. China also had sought further time to consider the agreement.

U.S. Ambassador John Scali, introducing the resolution authorizing Secretary General Kurt Waldheim to send a force of approximately 1,250 men to serve as a U.N. Disengagement Observer Force (UNDOF) between Syrian and Israeli forces in the Golan Heights sector, paid scant heed to Moscow's part in achieving the Middle East pact.

'Food prices dropping' says agriculture secretary

Butz boosts Veysey's campaign, but opponent Jim Lloyd 'butts in'

By ED PRATHER
P-B Staff Writer

POMONA — U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz came to Pomona Friday to bolster the campaign of Congressman Victor Veysey, R-43rd Dist., but was unexpectedly met by one of Veysey's potential opponents as well.

West Covina City Councilman Jim Lloyd, a frontrunner for the Democratic nomination in the new 35th Congressional District, briefly confronted Butz prior to a news conference at Cal Poly's Kellogg West.

Lloyd attempted to hand Butz a letter outlining local consumers' complaints over the cost of food and requesting Butz to hold a public meeting locally to discuss food prices.

Butz refused to accept the letter and told Lloyd that he should "get up to date—food prices are coming down."

"—You obviously don't belong here, Butz said to Lloyd.

Veysey then asked Lloyd to leave, and he did.

As the press conference began, Butz reiterated his claim that costs are on the way down and listed beef, poultry, wheat and corn as items that are now dropping in price.

"Sure prices were up. But they reached a plateau and now they are starting to come down again," he said.

Butz chided the news media for what he called "irresponsible statements" and publicizing "scare campaigns" about shortages and high prices.

He also had harsh words for last year's consumer meat boycott, which he said led to decreased beef supplies and higher prices.

But the real culprit, said Butz, are labor costs that prevent prices from coming down further.

He described how lettuce from the Salinas Valley is shipped to the Midwest in railroad cars only two-thirds filled because of labor rules.

"There's a lot of featherbedding," he claimed.

"The best way to bring prices down is to increase supplies. We should encourage that by simply letting the market work and stop interference," he continued.

When asked about Friday's report by by the Senate Watergate committee that President Nixon ignored his advisers while raising the price supports on milk in 1972, Butz, who was not a cabinet member at the time, said that he never discussed the matter with the president or his predecessor in the Department of Agriculture.

He did say, however, that it was Democratic pressure in the Congress that led to the higher support.

They are "devoid of leadership," he continued.

He claimed that there is pressure right now to again increase the dairy industry supports, but that he is resisting that pressure and doesn't expect supports to be raised in the near future.

Following the press conference, Butz attended a brief reception and later delivered a speech at a Veysey campaign dinner at Pomona National Golf Course.

Butz is the second member of the Nixon cabinet to speak here in behalf of Veysey, who lost his old district in the Brawley area due to reapportionment. Earlier this year, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Casper Weinberger spoke at a Veysey fundraiser.

Ford voices his opinion: Nixon 'innocent, period'

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford said Friday President Nixon is innocent of any involvement in the Watergate break-in and innocent "by preponderance of evidence" of any part in the cover-up scandal.

"President Nixon is innocent, period," Ford said.

The vice president said there were excerpts in the 1,300 pages of White House conversation transcripts "that can be taken out of context that somebody might construe" as evidence Nixon took part in the cover-up. But Ford said he himself did not believe this.

"John Dean, by his own word, admits the President didn't know about it," Ford said.

"In my judgment, President Nixon is innocent of any involvement in the Watergate break-in," Ford said, "and, by the preponderance of evidence, is innocent of any cover-up."

When reporters at a news conference in the New Hampshire Capitol pressed him on the apparent difference in his statements about the break-in as opposed to the cover-up, Ford said: "President Nixon is innocent, period."

He said, "It's my judgment no evidence is available of an impeachable offense."

Ford was in New Hampshire to attend a $25-a-ticket fund-raising reception for the state Republican party in Manchester Friday night.

Ford said Nixon in 1971 agreed to raise milk support prices to 85 per cent of parity "because about 120 house members and 30 senators" had introduced bills to raise the support even higher, to 90 per cent.

"If the Watergate committee disagrees with that, the Watergate committee doesn't know what it's talking about," he said.

Ford said he wondered how many of those 120 House members and 30 senators also received substantial campaign contributions from milk producers.

The U.S. Supreme Court said Friday it would hear oral arguments July 8 on whether President Nixon must produce additional evidence on the Watergate cover-up.

Ford said this was "not necessarily" a setback for Nixon.

Girl dead for 10 years

2 jailed in probe of human bones

FONTANA (UPI) — An 11 month investigation that started last July with the discovery of human bones in hills south of here culminated Friday in the arest of a divorced couple, Antonio Rivera, 38, Colton, and Merla Rivera, 35, Fontana.

They were arrested at their respective homes Friday.

A coroner's inquest determined the bones were those of Judy Rivera, who was about three years old at the time of her death nearly 10 years ago.

The bones were fourd in a shallow grave last July 1 by a passer-by after rain had washed soil from the top of the grave.

No missing persons report had ever been filed for the child, and it was not until three months ago that authorities began to suspect the bones were those of Judy Rivera.

At that time, police began questioning other children of the Riveras who had grown and moved to other parts of Southern California.

Recently sufficient evidence was gathered to turn the matter over to a coroner's jury for inquest.

Charges in connection with the death were to be filed later Friday.

WEATHERMEN BLAMED — Attorney General Evelle Younger Friday blamed the militant Weathermen group for the bombing of his downtown offices and compared the organization with the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army. The blast ripped through the sixth floor of the old state office building in Los Angeles Friday morning causing extensive damage.

Disability help increased

Viet vets to benefit by two measures

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon Friday signed two measures increasing benefits for Vietnam era veterans and their families.

The White House also announced a new program to place representatives on college campuses to unsnarl delays in benefit checks.

One of the measures signed by Nixon extends by one month to June 30 the period in which veterans and eligible wives and widows have to use their educational assistance benefits. The Veterans Administration estimates that cost of the extension will be $44.8 million because of additional persons enrolling in college.

The other measure would increase disability benefits to veterans and their dependents from 15 to 18 per cent. This program will cost an estimated $566.8 million in its first full year.

"I am gratified...the Congress has responded to my proposals to lift basic benefits by an amount which recognizes increases in the cost of living," Nixon said in a statement.

He expressed disappointment that Congress failed to enact a system for automatic increases based on the cost of living, but said the increases of 15 to 18 per cent approximate the rise in the Consumer Price Index since these benefits were last increased.

"These benefit increases will be helping approximately two and one half million of our most deserving men and women veterans," he said.

S.B. teachers stage walkout; effect argued

SAN BERNARDINO (UPI) — Just how effective a one-day walkout by city teachers proved Friday depended upon which side you talked to.

Ron McPeck, president of the San Bernardino Teachers Association said about 1,000 teachers or 85 per cent stayed out of the city's 50 schools in a one-day protest over salaries and large classroom sizes.

Al Bruton, assistant to the superintendent of San Bernardino City Schools, however, said only 484 teachers of the district's 1,140 teachers were absent and that normal class operations were maintained.

The Teachers Association staged the "Teacher Dignity Day" walkout to back up demands for an 11.5 per cent salary increase and reduction in classroom size.

Three homes damaged

Owner of SLA hideout files $90,000 claim

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The owner of a home destroyed in a violent gun battle and fire that killed six members of the Symbionese Liberation Army May 17 has filed claim seeking $90,000 for her property.

Mrs. Florence Lishey, who owned the home the SLA members used as a hide out and two adjacent homes which were damaged, filed her claim with the city clerk's office Friday.

Her claim states: "For my houses, furniture, roofs, clothing —$90,000. I will accept a fair price."

Asst. City Attorney John Neville, who is handling investigation of claims stemming from the gun battle and subsequent fire, said the claim "would take some time to process."

He said a full appraisal of the damaged homes would be made before the claim is sent to the city council.

The council Thursday voted to pay nine minor claims totaling $1,384 for damage to windows, fences, doors, furniture and food spoilage caused by tear gas.

The largest of the claims was $489, filed by Mrs. Lishey's daughter, Lizzie Powell, who lived in one of the adjacent homes.

Mrs. Lishey told newsmen her claim included roof damage to three other homes she owns in the area. She said she owns a total of 15 homes in the neighborhood.

The six members of the SLA, which included Donald DeFreeze, the leader of the terrorist group who called himself "Cinque," entered Mrs. Lishey's home on May 16.

Attorneys in Palm Springs for seminar

PALM SPRINGS — Several valley attorneys are taking part in this weekend's annual seminar of the San Bernardino - Riverside - Pomona branch of the California Trial Lawyers Association here.

William M. Shernoff, Claremont, Arthur J. Jaffee and Richard C. Mallery, Pomona, and Harold A. Bailin, Ontario, are participating in the event at the Spa Hotel. Guest speaker is S.I. Hayakawa, former president of San Francisco University during the troubled period of the late 1960s.

The group also plans to elect new officers and directors during the session.

Involuntary manslaughter verdict given

POMONA — Mack Hilliard Lewis was ruled guilty Friday of involuntary manslaughter in the beating death here Oct. 21 of a woman described as his common-law wife.

Lewis, 31, 125 Randy St., was found guilty by a jury which had been deliberating the case since Tuesday. The trial was before Judge Betty Jo Sheldon.

The victim, Luna Pearl Welton, 38, died as the result of liver and brain damage suffered during a severe beating, the coroner's office reported. Blood was found in every room of Lewis' house, investigators said.

Mrs. Welton was the mother of 4-year-old twin girls and a 6-year-old son, all of whom were placed in foster homes as the result of her death. The victim also had two grown children.

Witnesses said that Lewis and Mrs. Welton had fought during a party in the house. She was discovered dead in bed the next morning. Judge Sheldon scheduled Lewis' probation hearing and sentencing for July 8.

Lewis originally was charged with murder in Mrs. Welton's death.

Blast hurts 40

RADFORD, Va. (UPI) — An explosion rocked an Army munitions plant Friday, injuring 40 persons. Officials fearing more blasts at the Radford Arsenal ordered homes in the area evacuated.

A TNT plant, one of many buildings at the sprawling munitions center, was demolished and debris from the explosion was thrown for hundreds of yards, one plant worker said.

742 degrees

La Verne College will graduate largest class

LA VERNE — A total of 742 degrees will be awarded at the largest commencement exercises in the 82-year history of La Verne College, at 5 p.m. Sunday on the quadrangle in front of the La Verne College Chapel.

Graduation ceremonies will be preceded by baccalaureate services at 10:30 a.m. in the Church of the Brethren and a president's reception for graduating seniors at 3 p.m. in the President's Dining Room, Davenport Dining Hall.

Students taking park in the commencement exercises represent graduates of the La Verne College undergraduate, graduate and law center programs and graduates of the La Verne College Residence Centers at Pt. Mugu Naval Station, Vandenberg Air Force Base, North Island Naval Station and Subic Bay Naval Station.

Following a greeting by Mrs. Mary E. La Fetra, chairman of the Board of Trustees, President Leland B. Newcomer will address the graduates and guests. Dr. William Willoughby, professor of philosphy and religion, will give the invocation.

The ceremonial dress of commencement exercises will be discussed by Dr. Margaret Preska, dean of the undergraduate programs and services.

Officiating at the ceremonies and taking part in the formal conferring of degrees will be Newcomer; Dr. Preska; Dr. Donald Clague, dean of the graduate school; Judge Paul Egly, dean of the Law Center; and Mrs. La Fetra.

Also participating in the program will be Registrar William Wagoner, Associate Professor of Music James Fahringer and Asst. Professor of Music Douglas Moorehead.

Poly student association presents awards for year

POMONA — Hal Roach, manager of the student business office at Cal Poly, received a standing ovation as he was presented an award Thursday night by retiring student president Walter Allen III.

Roach was among several who received special awards at a "thank you" banquet organized by outgoing president Allen and vice president Cenobio Chacon.

Roach, who joined the Cal Poly staff in August 1967, suffered a massive coronary attack about six months ago. He was characterized as a "generous and strong individual with courage and conviction" by Allen. He returned to his position as manager of student business activities two months ago.

The more than 200 guests stood to applaud Roach as he took the award. His wife, Lillian, was presented a dozen long-stem roses.

Dr. James. Bell and Henry House were named administrators of the year. Bell, vice president of administrative and student affairs, came to Cal Poly in August 1968. House, with the university since July 1947, serves as dean of students.

Persons receiving awards for outstanding performance in student body activities programming were: Chacon, Leon Vargas, Tom Pruitt, Brian Regalbuto, Larry Goetz, Wendie Scott, Kathy Stanton, Debbie Glatts, Beatrice Bateman, Dean Roche, Wayne Dunlap, Bernard Alvarez, Hector Montenegro, Debbie Dinoto, Tom Andrews, John Friend, Sue Di Floure, Joe Ricigliano, Allen Coloman, Bill Carlquist, Jean Dunn, June Schaefer.

Donna Coloman, John Hanna, Joe Foeheringham, Betty McFetridge, Cathy McCall, Marilyn Wetzler, Carol Springer, C. W. Boyd, James Bell Jr., Bo Buchynsky, Dan Marak, Carol Elrod, Suzi Weber, Teri Lewis, Sandy Zornes, Keleigh Gunnels, John Snedden, Ron Ham, Pat Allen, Dee MacLaughlan, Bill Stegal, Gary Horton, Andree Joseph, Lydia Avila, Mary Dee Brady, Marcia Murry, John Driggers, Joe Armendarez, John Rico, John Tulack, Jim Kline, Frank Mitchell, Lem Chin, Dr. Shah Wali Khan, Dr. Charles Clay, David Woffinden, Carol Shryver, Enrique Segura and Allen.

Brian Regalbuto, president pro-tem of the student senate, was named outstanding member of student government. He also received a presidential award.

Others earning the Associated Students, Inc., presidential award were Miss Scott, Dunlap, Andrews, Coloman, Mrs. Schaefer, Boyd, Bell Jr., Miss Lewis, Mrs. Allen, Miss MacLaughlan, Mrs. Coloman, Armendarez, Rico, Tulack, Kline, Mitchell, Chin, Dr. Khan and Dr. Clay.

Taibu W. Horseley, president of the Black Council for Unity, and Elin Terrazione received special student scholarships.

Clubs and organizations recognized for contributions to the campus and community were KCBK Radio, the SPAN project, Lambda Chi, rally squad, the Sign Shop, Neuman Club, University Police Department, Masa Tutorial Service, Alpha Phi Omega, MECHA, Black Council for Unity, Alpha Kappa Sigma and Sigma Phi Delta.

At the conclusion of the banquet new ASI president Joseph Armand Armandarez and vice president Kathy Stanton were installed. George Vaughan will serve as ASI treasurer during 1974-75.

2 who aided in CIM escape get prison terms

SAN FRANCISCO — Two men convicted of helping California Institution for Men convict Ronald Beaty escape in 1972 were sentenced to federal prison today.

U.S. Dist. Judge Robert Peckham sentenced Bruce Hobson, 24, Mountain View, to four years in prison under the Youth Corrections Act and gave Morton Newman, 31, Menlo Park, a five-year prison term.

The judge allowed both to remain free on $5,000 bail each, pending appeal.

The two were convicted April 28 by a jury of 10 women and two men. Hobson was convicted of harboring Beaty and providing him with food, clothing and a gun. Newman was found guilty of conspiracy and of acting as a lookout.

Beaty escaped from prison guards in Chino Oct. 6, 1972. One guard was killed and another badly wounded in the escape. Beaty pleaded guilty to murder and was sentenced to a life term.

L.A. municipal judge running for Superior Court position

LOS ANGELES — Joan Dempsey Klein is running for a judgeship on the Los Angeles County Superior Court based on her achievements as a Municipal Court judge for the past 11 years.

Judge Klein, now presiding judge of the Municipal Court in Los Angeles, is the instigator of such reforms as night traffic court, bail-by-mail for traffic violations, a detoxification program which diverts alcoholics from the criminal justice system and a study dealing with the problems of witnesses in the courts.

She says she is committed to work for court reforms "to bring the civil and criminal justice system into the 20th century."

Mrs. Klein, a fifth generation Californian, is the recipient of the California Trial Lawyers Association's Municipal Court Judge of the year award for 1973; and the 1969 Angel of Distinction award of the LA Central City Association.

She is a professor of judicial administration at USC, and a frequent speaker for women's and services organizations. In 1963 she was chosen Alumnus of the Year by the UCLA Law School.

Prior to taking the bench, Mrs. Klein servied eight years in trial work as depty attorney general for California. On the Municipal Court bench, she has presided in virtually all divisions, civil and criminal jury and nonjury. She also served on the Los Angeles Superior court as a judge pro tem by appointment of the Judicial council.

She and her family reside in the San Fernando Valley.

Two planning commissioners, two students in Claremont city race

By GEORGE MacLAREN
P-B Staff Writer

CLAREMONT — A record percentage of voters for a City Council election is expected next Tuesday when Claremont residents have the opportunity to choose among four candidates for a successor to attorney Craig McManigal who resigned last Dec. 31 because of the new disclosure of assets law.

Vying for the fifth council seat are city planning commissioners Eleanor Cohen and William McLaughlin, and college students Teena Ann Boyk and Joseph Armendarez.

The regular council election in April attracted a disappointing 26 per cent turnout of voters, compared to a whopping 48 per cent in 1972 when the controversial Foothill Freeway issue was put to voters on the City Council ballot.

A 60 per cent turnout is forecast for the primary election Tuesday to which the special council election has been combined.

Front-runners are Mrs. Cohen, housewife, planning commissioner and environmentalist, and planning commission vice-chairman McLaughlin, a physicist and businessman.

Mrs. Cohen was vice chairman of the Claremont Environemental Task Force and editor of the task force's final report in 1970-71. She was first vice president of the Claremont Coordinating Council two years, and edited the council's Handbook for Youth in 1973.

She was an also-ran to McManigal and Frank Hungerford in the 1972 council race, losing by only 220 votes to Hungerford.

McLaughlin is president of Advanced Materials Technology, Inc., and active in community service.

Miss Boyk is a freshman at La Verne College. She will be working this summer as a counselor and lifeguard at the David and Margaret Home for Children, Armendarez, 27, is a senior at Cal Poly Pomona and a a lab technician at Pacific State Hospital.

All the candidates stated their views about Claremont's problems, except Armendarez, who also failed to attend the League of Women Voters' forum last Wednesday night.

Tenna Ann Boyk

Miss Boyk feels that the city of Claremont is unique because it represents a distinctive type of growth and vitality.

"The city must go either forward or backward, and I think its future should be directed," Miss Boyk said.

She would like to see a survey of the city government, an evaluation of city departments to get personnel balance.

Miss Boyk likes the proposal of bike lanes and proposes putting them on Indian Hill Boulevard and Mountain Avenue for school children.

She is disappointed that the present post office at Second Street and Harvard Avenue cannot be retained. Arrow Highway will not work as a site because a post office built there would be too far from the general population, she thinks. The Postal Service has chosen the site at Arrow Highway and Buckwell Avenue.

She proposes a study of the fire and police departments. She feels that both departments need a sufficient number of men, and that the community should have equal protection from both at all times.

She believes that a solution to the transportation problem, especially for senior citizens, would be extension of the RTD bus route north on Indian Hill Boulevard to Foothill Boulevard. She would also encourage a study of the dial-a-taxi set-up.

Miss Boyk favors a study of Claremont's park sites and the present parks to see how much use they receive.

Eleanor Cohen

Mrs. Cohen believes that the City Council must set priorities, because of the effects that Senate Bill 90 has put on the city's ability to raise taxes.

She believes that abandoned housing is a city problem, and that many persons are unaware that it is an important issue. She thinks that the Valley Association of Cities is a good start in the right direction, and that the association's concerns should be expanded to include transportation needs.

Mrs. Cohen, mother of two, thinks that bike and pedestrian safety are two high priority items. She cited a recent study made by the League of Women Voters which showed that 80 per cent returning questionnaires are concerned about bike safety and bike lanes on city streets.

Bike lanes make sense economically, Mrs. Cohen believes. She would like to see bike racks in the Village shopping area and at the new county library.

Funding, she believes, should come through the Southern California Association of Governments (SCAG).

She thinks that subsidizing of dial-a-taxi should be explored for senior citizens, and that the city should be ready with a plan when state and federal funds are available.

Mrs. Cohen is proposing establishment of a human relations council, not just for ethnic relations, but for youth and older persons.

Mrs. Cohen would like to see the city youth commission merged with the new commission. She doesn't think the commission members can "sink their teeth" into anything.

She wants funds raised through the Redevelopment Agency to be used to identify the Village shopping area.

She would like a more equitable tax assessment in the city, and strongly supports Proposition 1 which would provide Claremont with about $75,000 that should be used to take care of the park sites which have been waiting for some time.

ELEANOR COHEN

TENNA ANN BOYK

WILLIAM McLAUGHLIN

William McLaughlin

McLaughlin proposes an industrial relations review of the city hall management. He says there is "obviously something wrong" at city hall, and that there is a "consistent amount of dissension."

He stresses the turnover in department heads, and notes that City Manager Keith Mulrooney has been around longer than any department head.

He thinks that the City Council should perform the task or hire an outside agency.

He feels that the Redevelopment Agency is an interesting tool, and will assist both in the downtown area and in the industrial park.

McLaughlin said that it is "absolutely asinine to plunk a new post office down on top of 30 homes on Bonita Avenue." Bonita is the site recommended by the city council.

"The poor people are always getting the short end of the sticks," he commented. He called the Bonita Avenue project a "conflict of logic that is inconceivable."

McLaughlin thinks the best spot would be the packing house at Indian Hill Boulevard and First Street, because it would be within pedestrian access to the downtown area.

He would like to see the city commissions better balanced with a wide spectrum of backgrounds, experience, and political and economic points of view represented.

McLaughlin wants an improvement in relations between the City Council and the school board since the two agencies represent the same persons.

McLaughlin feels the biggest problems facing Claremont are inflation and the tax limitations placed on government by Senate Bill 90.

He thinks that the police department is "in good shape" but the city needs more policemen. He doesn't believe that the cross-trained police officer program, where officers are prepared to double as firemen, has been as valuable as the city manager says.

The fire department needs some improvements in the facilities area, McLaughlin said. He doesn't believe that Fire Station 1 would survive a mild earthquake, and thinks it would be better if headquarters were moved to Fire Station 2.

He would favor a valleywide fire protection system or joining the county system.

McLaughlin thinks senior citizens need more involvement in the community. Retired persons have a wealth of knowledge and experience which could be useful, McLaughlin feels.

Death penalty for area slaying case challenged

POMONA — Pomona Superior Court Judge Francis J. Garvey will rule June 6 on a motion which two murder suspects hope will prevent them from facing a possible death penalty trial here.

The defendants are Johnny R. Thomas, 28, and Roger L. Cox, 29, who are charged with murdering 49-year-old J. W. Clements March 19. Clements' body was found dumped in Live Oak Canyon, near Claremont, with the throat cut and with several stab wounds. The discovery was made by a young hiker.

Thomas and Cox were arrested several days later in Kansas and were returned here by sheriff's homicide detectives to face trial. Investigators said Clements, who lived in Corona but who worked at a Pomona tire company and often slept there in his camper, was slain during an attempt to rob him after an evening out with friends.

It is the allegation that Clements was slain during a robbery which the prosecution says qualifies the defendants for the death penalty if found guilty.

The defense maintains there were not witnesses to the incident, that no robbery can be shown and for that reason the special allegation must be dropped from the complaint against Cox and Thomas.

Special allegations now must be added to murder charges to qualify cases for the death penalty. The action is the result of the initiative California voters passed after capital punishment was ruled unconstitutional by first the state Supreme Court and later the U.S. Supreme Court.

Other special circumstances which can require the death penalty upon a first-degree murder conviction include murder for hire, of a peace officer, or murder committed during forcible rape or during sex crimes on children or murder committed during burglary or kidnaping or when murder has been committed by someone with a previous murder conviction.

These latest conditions have yet to be tested constitutionally.

2 U.S. officials to take part in Webb graduation

CLAREMONT — Two federal officials in Washington, D.C., both alumni of Webb School, will participate in the school's commencement exercises Sunday at 2 p.m.

Philip A. Loomis Jr., a member of the Securities and Exchange Commission, will be awarded an honorary membership in the Cum Laude Society for distinguished achievement in his career.

Charles R. Work, deputy commissioner of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, will give the commencement address.

Webb will graduate 44 seniors, all of whom have been accepted by four-year colleges, twelve achieved life membership in the California Scholarship Federation, and 11 won scholarships or honors at entrance to college. Three were National Merit Scholarship finalists, one of whom won a $1,000 scholarship.

Commencement music will be furnished by the combined glee clubs of St. Lucy's Priory High School and Webb School.

The Frances and J. E. Libaw Orchestra, founded at Webb this year, will be conducted by Christopher Trussell, director of music.

The baccalaureate service will be held at 11 a.m. Sunday on campus. Dr. David Alexander, president of the Pomona College, will give the sermon.

Oh-que Chorale will debut in L.V. church performance

LA VERNE — The Oh-que Chorale, a 14-voice choir under the direction of Thomas Schultz, will present a debut performance on Sunday at 8:15 p.m. at the La Verne Church of the Brethren.

Among the selections in the program will be Dello Joio's "Jubilant Song," American, Hungarian and English folk songs, and Scott Joplin's, "The Entertainer."

Members of the chorale are sopranos Robin Ansel, Teri Carmichael, Carol Gnagy, Virginia Johnson and Susie Stewart; altos Dena Carper, Karen Karelius and Marsha Miller; tenors Laury Fiora, Michael Gnagy and Schultz; and basses Hugh Folkins, Russell Johnson and Daniel Schultz.

Schultz, a former faculty member at La Verne College, has sung as a soloist throughout the San Gabriel Valley and has directed several church choirs.

James Low, a voice coach at USC, will be the accompanist for the chorale.

The chorale is currently rehearsing under Low's direction as the chorus for the opera, "I Pagliacci," to be performed at the Redlands Bowl on July 9 and at the Santa Monica Bowl on July 12.

Suspect linked to killings freed in another case

POMONA — Tommy Langston, 21-year-old Pomonan named as a suspect in the double slaying Oct. 11 of two liquor store workers here, was ruled innocent Friday of armed robbery in a different case.

The trial in Pomona Superor Court required three days. The jury deliberated one day.

Langston was accused of the holdup of a service station tow-truck driver. The jury which acquitted him was not convinced of his identification as the robber, according to Joe Borges Jr., the defendant's attorney.

Despite the fact that Langston and two other men were named as suspects by Pomona police in the slaying of two men at Plaza Liquors, 1785 N. Garey Ave., he has never been charged formally with that offense.

Chino employes to vie in softball

CHINO — Chino Municipal Association members will play city officials, supervisors and police officers to a softball game Sunday afternoon at 3.

Members of the employes group will play against management and police personnel at the softball field behind the Chino Unified School District office at 5160 Riverside Drive.

CHP flays public apathy over speed limit

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California Highway Patrolmen are arresting nearly three times the usual number of speeders but are hardly making a dent in the multitude of motorists ignoring the 55 m.p.h. limit, CHP Chief Walter Pudinski said Friday.

"We are now averaging 4,116 speeding arrests per day, which gives us a total of 120,000 a month," Pudinski said. "And this is very, very difficult because we're arresting all we can and we're still not solving the problem."

Last year the patrol averaged 1,300 speeding arrests daily.

Pudinski said there are so many persons violating the energy crisis-spawned 55 m.p.h. limit "that if I had the necessary manpower and equipment I could arrest 100,000 speeders a day.

"Unless I get the support of the motoring public, how can I enforce the speed limit?" Pudinski asked in an interview.

"When 70 per cent are in violation it is impossible to catch all the speeders. Do we lose credibility with the public? Yes, you bet we do," he added.

The "speed thing," Pudinski said, has "me worried because I just can't seem to get the public to understand that we are diligently enforcing the 55 —we've never stopped enforcing the 55. And we'll continue to enforce the 55 until the law is changed."

But he added that "law enforcement is not enough. Whenever we have a law which the great majority are violating those that are charged with the responsibility of enforcement are in trouble. We must have the cooperation of the public."

Pudinski also said that while there had been reports that he favored a return to the 65 m.p.h. limit "I actually did not say that."

"I did say that when the energy problem has improved sufficiently and when we have sufficient statistical facts about the 55 mile speed limit, the legislature might want to consider re-instating the 65 mile limit," Pudinski said.

"We need more statistical data and more time before we can determine the exact effects of the 55 mile limit on traffic safety," he added.

"I never said I'm against the 55,' the CHP commissioner declared. "I said that if we lose respect for traffic law enforcement, the public loses respect, then the Highway Patrol loses credibility."

Pudinski also said he thought the 55 m.p.h. limit, which went into effect Jan. 1 "has been great for traffic safety." But he added, "I don't want to lead the public into a false sense of security' concerning decreased highway fatalities.

Fatals in California the first four months of this year totaled 1,045, a 27 per cent drop compared to the 1,430 for the same period in 1973.

He said that in addition to the lower speed limit, traffic volume was down during the period and many other safety factors were involved.

Editor of convict's book tells of his confession

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The editor for George Jackson, convict-author killed in San Quentin in August, 1971, says Jackson confessed killing a Soledad Prison guard himself and exonerated the other two "Soledad Brothers."

Gregory Armstrong, who edited Jackson's book, "Soledad Brother," tells of the confession in a new book published this week, "The Dragon Has Come," which tells of the final 14 months of Jackson's life during which the author and the convict worked together on Jackson's book.

Armstrong says that in the taping of an interview with Jackson at Soledad Prison June 19, 1970, they were talking about grand jury testimony on the killing of the guard when Jackson said:

"But you didn't read it close. If you had read it close you would have read that somebody has got me holding this guy with my right arm. He's over here, but still he can't see my face. I'm supposed to be holding this cat with my right arm. Now listen, man, he didn't see my face until later on when I dropped the buy and I'm supposed to be beating on him."

Armstrong thinks the words just "slipped out." But he says he still has the tape. Shortly afterwards, Armstrong writes, they turned off the tape recorder and Jackson whispered to him:

"You know those other two guys didn't have anything to do with that incident. I didn't need them. They would have only gotten in the way. If it looks like the trial is going bad, that's what I'm going to say. Nobody else is going to hang for me."

Jackson was killed by San Quentin Guards during an escape attempt before the trial started. The "other two guys" were Fleeta Drumgo and John Clutchette, who were acquitted at the trial of the guard's murder.

Everything you did or didn't want to know about retreads

Item: 28,080,000 retreads were manufactured in the US during 1973.

Item: 87% of the retreaders in the US produce fewer than 3,000 retreads per month.

Item: In the manufacturing process retreads should be inspected for possible imperfections not after they're cooled off but while they're still hot out of the molds.

* * *

The nuts & bolts about retreads may not be quite as exciting as the latest murder story or who won the Seventh at the track yesterday.

On the other hand, the way new tire prices are increasing a lot more car owners are going to get a lot more interested in retreads.

You might be one of them.

And if you can spare 5 minutes to read the rest of this ad, you may know more about retreads than many tire dealers know.

* * *

Historical event: We started manufacturing our own 4day retreads at our own plant in Gardena, California, in December, 1972, 1½ years ago.

People ask why.

In 1959 there were about 10,000 retread shops in the US, turning out about 30,000,000 passenger car retreads a year. (Not to mention another 12,000,000 truck retreads).

Today, there are half that many. What's happening to the retread business?

Half as many retreaders are producing about the same number of retreads. That means the average retreader is twice as big as fifteen years ago.

With the introduction of belted construction, tires became vastly more complex, and retreading required far more precision. The marginal operators with primitive skills and out-dated equipment can no longer survive.

Now that all the major tire manufacturers have started to produce radials, retreading standards are becoming even more complex and demanding.

* * *

It is our opinion, based on considerable experience with radials, that the best radial tires still are being produced in Europe. Manufacturers there use segmented matrices instead of attempting to do a compromise job with the old style full-circle clamshell matrices which were designed originally for the old style four-ply unbelted tires.

In our retread plant we use European-style segmented matrices exclusively, except for one tire in one size for which we don't have a suitable segmented matrix. Our shop uses the newest, most modern bagless retread equipment, specifically designed to retread the higher performance and longer wearing belted and radial tires.

We think there is a growing need for retreads in this country. High performance retreads are increasingly difficult to make, but they cost the car owner considerably less than half what an equivalent new tire costs. Our expertise, our facilities and our objectives are aimed at providing the best retreads that can be produced.

Additional retread brain food

The new bagless retreading equipment, which we use, requires us to be more critical in the selection of casings and in each step of the retreading process.

There can be no half way for us. Our final product either is superior to others, or we're forced to reject it.

If we're going to turn out a better retread than you can get elsewhere, not only do we have to have better equipment and expertise but we have to do a better job of inspecting the casing before, during and after retreading it.

When a retread is hot out of the matrix, any trapped air is still expanded. Thus imperfections such as liner, tread and casing separations are visible but within minutes often are impossible to spot.

With conventional retreading equipment there usually is a time lag between the cooking and the inspection. Our bagless method enables us to inspect our retreads minutely the moment they come out of the mold.

Every tire manufacturer, new or retread, takes a licking on some small percentage of his production. We want to take ours in the plant, not on the customer's car.

* * * *

In the US about seven new tires are sold for every retread produced.

In Europe the ratio of retread to new approaches one to one.

Nearly half the car owners in Europe ride on retreads.

* * * *

A high percentage of the casings we retread come from our 21 4day stores.

We need additional casings, which we buy from casing jobbers.

These jobbers have trouble with us. We're too particular. We have to be.

There are usually as many as 100 casing jobbers close enough to service our retreading plant.

They come and go. Often their telephone numbers are good for two or three weeks only.

Our used casing requirements are so demanding that many of the smaller jobbers don't even approach us. They would have a problem selling the retreadable casings we reject which aren't good enough for our requirements.

As new tires improve in mileage, fewer retreadable casings are generated.

We take in 5,000 casings to get less than 500 usable ones.

We don't intend to become the biggest retreader, because we manufacture primarily to retail and wholesale from our own 4day Tire Stores.

We really have no choice, because to become really big you need a place to dispose of unusable casings. One of the biggest US retreaders owns 190 wilderness acres out behind his plant. We don't.

* * * *

Our retread plant has to be neater, cleaner and more efficient than many others.

Fire hazard. There is almost no way to put out a tire casing fire once it starts.

The L.A. County Fire Dept is one of the strictest fire depts in the US.

* * * *

Casings in the fastest selling tire sizes, F, G and H 14-inch tires are in the shortest supply but in the 15-inch sizes they're more plentiful.

As a general rule, casings in plentiful supply are most tightly graded; those in short supply are less critically graded.

We try not to be careless about rejecting casings in hard to find sizes but our inspectors are required to apply the same grading standards to all sizes, scarce or plentiful.

* * * *

Another penalty we have to live with:

Neil McIntyre, who runs our plant, is a nationally known authority, a consultant and problem-solver in the retread industry.

No excuses. We have to be better than anyone else.

Our plant is run by the best man in the business.

Our guarantee: If in normal use a tire bought at 4day fails due to workmanship or road hazards (including running flat to get to freeway shoulder) or wears out before you have received the guaranteed mileage, we'll give you credit (or mail you cash) for the unused miles upon return of tire and guarantee. Credit will be percentage of unused miles multiplied by price. Even if prices have increased, replacement will be at price you paid minus the credit due you. To keep in effect, bring guarantee to any 4day Tire Store every 4,000 to 6,000 miles so we can inspect tires, rotate them (free) if necessary, adjust pressure, inform you if alignment or other work required, and record date and mileage. Needed corrections must be made within 500 miles at any qualified repair shop. Then keep repair bill in the car with your guarantee.

If you have a complaint inform our owners, Don Carr, Bob Hofmann or Phil Lansdale, 1600 W Coast Hwy., Newport Beach, Ca 92660. Or phone collect, 714 642-9262, from anywhere in Southern California.

*Credit means BankAmericard or Master Charge. 4% off cash (except Michelin, which we discount in a different manner). The 4% difference on a 30 day charge is 48% annual percentage rate. The deferred payment price is our cash price plus federal excise tax plus finance charge.

† Note: No mileage guarantee on tires sold at our wholesale unmounted cash-&-carry prices. Our cash prices and our credit prices include cost of guarantee, inspection, rotation if needed, and mounting.

Safe defense works best

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Passive defense consists of playing as safely as possible and waiting for declarer to attack new suits. Most of the time it is just about as successful as sitting down and hoping that something nice will happen, but there are times when it pays off.

West leads out his ace and king of hearts. South ruffs and leads the king of spades. West ducks and South continues with the queen. West wins and if he is inclined to panic, he will look at those clubs in dummy and shift to a diamond tricks before the clubs are developed.

Opening lead—♥K

This diamond lead will be right up South's alley since it will give him two diamond tricks and his contract.

A West who can count will note that South started with just five spades and will make four spade tricks. Adding three club tricks comes to a total of seven and South will need two diamond tricks for his contract. Hence any diamond tricks available to the defense will keep.

West will simply lead his last trump. South will win and attack clubs. West takes his ace, gets out with a heart or a club and continues to wait for declarer to play diamonds.

South will have to break the diamond suit and barring some really silly play by East or West will lose two tricks there.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

"If the way Mon spends money is a crime, why don'cha impeach her?"

Grumman, Navy in hot water over F14 plane

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Grumman Aerospace Corp. has told the Navy it can't continue building the controversial F14 "tomcat" fighter unless the Pentagon comes up with $125 million in advance cash payments, Senate sources say.

Grumman's demand for the unusual cash-in-advance procedure cannot be met without an okay from Congress, but the Navy has concealed the demand from Capitol Hill since January, the sources said.

The Navy action was discovered within the past week by a Senate Armed Services Committee aide. A memo detailing his findings was made public Thursday by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo.

Committee sources said the group was "acutely embarrassed" by the Navy action because its $21.8 billion 1975 arms budget went to the Senate floor Friday — and the bill contains $722.5 million more for F14s.

The committee is said to fear the new disruption of the trouble-plagued F14 program could lead the Senate to junk it altogether. The program perform anywhere near its original specifications.

The Navy's inability to pay Grumman in advance without congressional approval stems from a compromise worked out last year with Congress after the company refused to build more of the planes.

Grumman said then it would go bankrupt if the Navy insisted on buying more planes at the original contract price of $12.6 million a copy.

In a complex deal, Grumman agreed to take a $200 million loss on the first 150 planes, and the Navy got approval from Congress to raise the price on all subsequent models.

In a move to win congressional assent, the Navy and Grumman signed a contract for 48 planes at a price of $737 million last September. However, the contract was made contingent on the appropriation of funds by Congress.

When the 1974 appropriations bill reached the floor, Sens. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., tacked on an "anti-bailout amendment" that prohibited the Navy from advancing more than $25 million without a congressional okay.

Its purpose was to make Grumman borrow from the banks to finance its work, rather than from the government.

Surgery for pretty lips

Hair dyes have been around for many centuries, contact lenses for many years. But relatively recent is that surgical operation designed to give a thin-mouthed woman the bee-stung-lip look. Take a girl with a lipline like a tear in a tire. And with mousy hair. And with eyes of indefinite hue. It's now possible for her to become a green-eyed red-haired beauty with invitationally full lips. Thus a woman age 50 with such treatment not only can look age 35, but can look considerably better than she looked when she actually was age 35.

A. Not so far.

Thin

How many words can you come up with that give special meaning to "thin"? There are all kinds of thinness, you know. Not just slender or skinny. There's scrawny, wiry, willowy, lithe, gaunt and many more. Do believe they even outnumber those numerous works that suggest overweight. Like portly, obese, plump, plethoric, corpulent and stout.

Ancient Egypt's noblemen were required by law there to douse perfume on themselves at least once a week. An environmental thing, as I understand it. May have been the first clean air act.

Grumman, Navy in hot water over F14 plane

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Grumman Aerospace Corp. has told the Navy it can't continue building the controversial F14 "tomcat" fighter unless the Pentagon comes up with $125 million in advance cash payments, Senate sources say.

Grumman's demand for the unusual cash-in-advance procedure cannot be met without an okay from Congress, but the Navy has concealed the demand from Capitol Hill since January, the sources said.

The Navy action was discovered within the past week by a Senate Armed Services Committee aide. A memo detailing his findings was made public Thursday by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo.

Committee sources said the group was "acutely embarrassed" by the Navy action because its $21.8 billion 1975 arms budget went to the Senate floor Friday — and the bill contains $722.5 million more for F14s.

The committee is said to fear the new disruption of the trouble-plagued F14 program could lead the Senate to junk it altogether. The program perform anywhere near its original specifications.

The Navy's inability to pay Grumman in advance without congressional approval stems from a compromise worked out last year with Congress after the company refused to build more of the planes.

Grumman said then it would go bankrupt if the Navy insisted on buying more planes at the original contract price of $12.6 million a copy.

In a complex deal, Grumman agreed to take a $200 million loss on the first 150 planes, and the Navy got approval from Congress to raise the price on all subsequent models.

In a move to win congressional assent, the Navy and Grumman signed a contract for 48 planes at a price of $737 million last September. However, the contract was made contingent on the appropriation of funds by Congress.

The doctor comments

Vegetables we eat have no cholesterol

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Is it true that some nuts do not contain cholesterol? What about chestnuts and peanuts?

DEAR READER — Nuts don't contain any choesterol. Cholesterol is an animal product found in the flesh of animals and such products as milk and eggs. Just remember that if the product is from the vegetable kingdom it is choesterol-free.

The catch is that large amounts of fat cause our liver to produce more cholesterol. This appears to be particularly true of saturated fats common in animals and in coconut oil. Almost all raw nuts are high in fat. Part of this fat is saturated fat.

About 87 per cent of the calories in peanuts is fat and 15 per cent of the calories is saturated fat. That is not very good from a nutritional point of view, if you want to avoid fat and saturated fat. English walnuts would be better since only 82 per cent of their calories is fat and quite remarkablly only 5 per cent of their calories is from saturated fat. They are rich in polyunsaturated fat.

Raw chestnuts are an exception in the nut group and are really a low fat food. They are more like a bean. Only 6 per cent of their calories are from fat. Obviously neither peanuts nor chestnuts contain cholesterol since they are from the plant kingdom.

For more information about choesterol write to me in care of this newspaer, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019, and ask for the booklet on cholesterol. Send 50 cents to cover costs.

DEAR DR. LAMB—This is a differnt kind of question from an 80-year-old woman in excellent health. Is it possible at her age to revitalize flaccid muscles of the upper arms and inner thighs by exercise? She had been a swimmer for years when her body was in fine form (firm and rounded). It's different now.

DEAR READER — Yes, there is no difference in muscle fibers in older people and younger people. A muscle is enlarged and its strength increased by placing it under progressive weight loads, such as in weight lifting. You don't need to use weights to do this.

You can exercise your arms against resistance and this puts the muscle fibers under load and will stimulate their enlargement and increase their strength. If a muscle's strength cannot be increased or it cannot grow, it is usually because of poor circulation to the muscle.

Just to use a well-known public illustration of what strength or resistant exercises can do for your muscles, Governor Wallace of Alabama has pointed out recently that he is a lot stronger in the upper part of his body than he ever was before he was shot. With the subsequent paralysis of the lower part of his body he has built up all the muscles in his arms and shoulders so that he can use them to help himself get around. This growth and increase in muscle mass in this area of the body has been a direct result of resistance or strength-type training. You don't have to be in your 20s to develop good muscle mass.

I do think as you get older it is even more important to check with your doctor about the types of exercises you do. The group of people who should be particularly careful about weight lifting and strength-type exercises are those who already have high blood pressure.

The new math doesn't add up

By JOSEPH FIRMAN

New math has grown old.

As one of a legion of parents plagued by the innovations of the new system of teaching mathematics to our youngsters, I am shedding no tears over the de-emphasizing recently ordered by the state Board of Education. In school I was always terrible in math, but my quavering "I do" had hardly died in the church sanctuary when I found myself surrounded with moppest demanding to be taught "the new math."

Since university mathematicians first laid the new math on unsuspecting school districts in the early 1960s, there has been a steady decline in the math achievement test scores of California school children. Nt to mention their perplexed parents.

The state board has now become bored with the new math which focuses on abstract reasoning and theoretical problem-solving. The members approved a "new mathematics framework" for California public schools that stresses "a smooth transition from concrete learning experiences to abstract learning experiences." ("Brain" is concrete, but "mind" is abstract.)

To the consternation and incredulity of all California and particularly the educational fraternity, the new program makes sense. You teach a little girl that 2 plus 2 equals 4, and when she grows to womanhood, yum, she can add $2,000 to $2,000 to find out what her monthly alimony should be. This is going from abstract to concrete at 7 per cent.

The big gun that sank or at least disabled the USS New Math was Assemblyman Leroy Greene, D-Sacramento, who wants to be sure that our kids "are being prepared to use mathematics in everyday life." The proposal is so logical, you wonder how a legislator ever came up with it. It's 6 to 2 he has children who needed help with the new math.

By a singular coincidence, the title of a mathematics textbook which I am working on now — or will be as soon as I can get my typewriter out of hock — is "Mathematics in Everyday Life." There is, of course, no such thing as "everyday life," but there certainly is a mathematics, and it (they?) plays a vital part in our lives.

Figures are so important. The old "502" (drunk driving) has been changed to 23102a. Useful to know. The speed limit has gone from 65 mph to 55 mph. Vital to know. The new girl in Accounts Receivable is 42-32-34. Exciting to know.

The chapters in my soon-to-be remaindered textbook are revelatory: "How To Keep a Firm Hand While Writing an Overdraft," "How To Estimate Your Grocery Bill Without Fainting," "Seven Hundred and Thirty Common Mistakes Made by Wives in Balancing Checkbooks," "Modern Hospital Fees, or Where Can You Get a Hotel Room for $130 a Day?" and "How To Talk to the IRS Man Without Crying."

My book will teach you to multiply by four the "estimate" for your car repair, to subtract $10 from your bank account if you ask a lawyer for the time of day, to divide by four (light, phone, water, gas) your income tax refund, and to add 11 per cent sales tax to everything you buy except gasoline (16 per cent).

New Math, old math — what difference does it make? You're in the middle and the screws are turning.

Train collision

Rescue crews marvel at light injury toll

INGERSOLL, Ont. (UPI) — Rescue crews found far fewer casualties than they had expected when they arrived at the scene of a freight and passenger train collision.

They discovered 20 derailed cars and fewer than 30 persons seriously enough injured to require treatment.

"Amazing," said one rescuer of the mishap which occurred Thursday near this southern Ontario town located halfway between Toronto and Windsor.

The crash between a Canadian National passenger train travelling at a speed of 60 miles per hour and the 50-car freight train happened just minutes after the passenger grain pulled out from the Ingersoll station.

Authorities said the passenger train, carrying about 100 persons, sideswiped a freight car which had broken away from the train and lay at an angle on the track.

All of the passenger coaches spilled off the track, including the engine and first car which completely turned over, and 14 of the boxcars derailed.

Policemen who arrived at the scene, located some 185 miles northeast of Detroit, described it as a "disaster."

At least 60 passengers were rushed to a nearby hospital, but only a small portion were detained for treatment.

"It's a miracle that there weren't any more injuries," said one unidentified survivor. "And it's amazing there were no fatalities."

The passenger train was en route from Toronto while the freight train was bound from Sarnia to Hamilton at the time of the mishap.

Names of the injured were not released, but authorities said two who were very seriously injured were transferred to University Hospital in nearby London.

New satellite in position

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The first satellite powerful enough to broadcast directly to simple ground receivers is on station above the Pacific for years of experiments beaming educational television and specialized medical services to rural America and India.

The new communications station, called Applications Technology Satellite 6 (ATS 6), was propelled into a 22,300-mile high stationary orbit from Cape Canaveral Thursday by the Air Force.

After examining tracking data, NASA's project manager, John H. Thole, said ATS6 should have enough control rocket fuel to operate for at least five years.

From its location above the Galapagos Islands, ATS 6 is able to beam radio and television to any place in the United States. It will begin its pioneering experiments after controllers at the Goddard Space Flight Center complete several weeks of tests.

In the United States, educational television and medical services will be beamed to communities in Applachia and the Rocky Mountains and in Alaska.

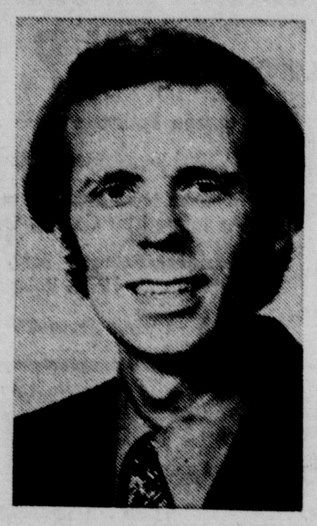
New pastor for D.B. church

DIAMOND BAR — The Rev. Scott Owsley has assumed duties as pastor of the Canyon Community Church (Evangelical Free).

Mr. Owsley, who succeeds the Rev. Richard Shook who resigned to accept a position with a Pomona insurance company, previously served the Evangelical Free Church in Hemet for 2½ years.

The new minister received his B.A. degree from Sacramento State University where he majored in psychology and English and was a student leader in Inter Varsity Christian Fellowship and Campus Crusade for Christ. He is a graduate of Talbot Theological Seminary, the graduate school of Biola College.



REV. SCOTT OWSLEY

Mr. Owsley served for three summers at Mount Hermon Christian Conference Grounds in the Santa Cruz mountains as a counselor and youth director. He served for two years at Fillmore Presbyterian Church as the youth pastor before serving in Hemet.

"I am very interested in communicating God's word, the Bible, to the Diamond Bar church and then secondly, communicating the Living World, Jesus Christ, to the community," Mr. Owsley stated.

He and his family are residing in Whittier.

Temple Sholom rites

ONTARIO — Services will be held at Temple Sholom on Friday at 8 p.m. and June 8 at 9 a.m.

Dr. Alexander Mittelmann will speak at both services.

Area to observe Council of Churches Sunday

Council of Churches Sunday will be observed this weekend by churches of a dozen denominations throughout the valley.

The observance coincides with Pentecost Sunday, the birthday of the Christian church.

Some congregations will use the occasion to discuss the importance of Christian unity, others will receive an offering to gather funds to pay their annual donation to the council. All participating churches will distribute a new brochure supplied by the council which has been prepared by the Department on Membership and Communications.

The brochure narrates the history of the council, its purposes and programs and how churches and individuals can participate in and support the work. The central theme of the brochure is "We Advance Together."

Membership in the council includes churches throughout the valley in 11 communities. The council was established to "provide an agency for the cooperation of the churches in Christian education, worship, evangelism world relief, Christian social concerns and such other matters as may achieve more effectively the objectives of the Christian church."

Current officers of the council are Dr. James W. Angell, president; the Rev. Leland Wilson, vice president; Mrs. LaVurla Miller, secretary, and Harlan Goodrich, treasurer. Dr. G. Merrill Lenox is executive director.

Society to be topic

CHINO — The Rev. James Ferrigan will speak at Sunday Masses of St. Margaret Catholic Church on the work done by the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

Masses are celebrated at the church at 8 and 10 a.m., noon and 7:30 p.m.

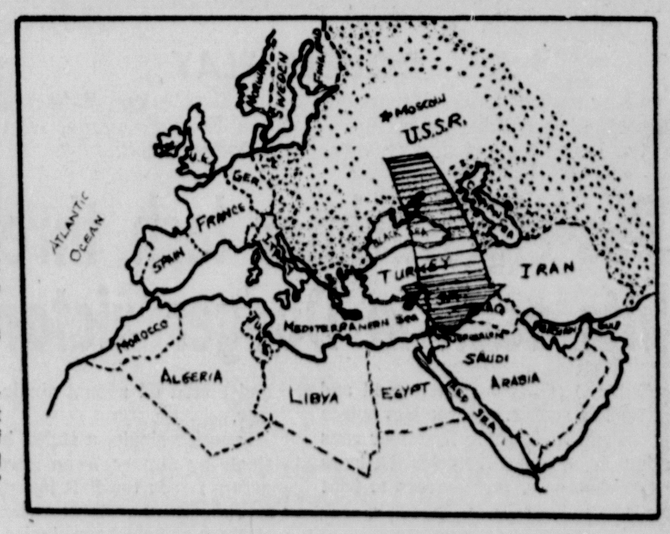
ISRAEL, RUSSIA. . . and ARMAGEDDON
The course of these two nations has been foretold in Bible prophesy for more than 2600 years. In the "latter days", say the Scriptures their paths will cross resulting in destruction for Russia and the elevation of Israel to world supremacy.
Calling the nations by their earliest names, the prophet Ezekiel declares:
"Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold I am against thee, O Gog, Prince of Rosh (RUSSIA), Meshech (MOSCOVY), and Tubal (TOBOLSKI): And I will turn thee about. . .and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army. . .Persia (IRAN), Cush (ETHIOPIA), and Put (LIBYA) with them. . .Gomer (FRANCE), and all his hordes; the house of Togarmah (SOUTH RUSSIA) and in the uttermost parts of the north, and all his hordes; even many peoples with thee. Be thou prepared. . .and be thou a guard unto them. . .in the latter days thou shalt come into the land that is brought back from the sword, that is gathered out of many peoples, upon the mountains of Israel, which have been a continual waste. . .
In that day when my people Israel dwelleth securely, shalt thou not know it? And thou shalt come from thy place out of the uttermost parts of the north, thou and many peoples with thee. . .and thou shalt come up against my people Israel. . ." Ezekiel 38:3-8, 14, 15.



At no time in history have these events yet occurred! The description of the nations in this prophesy did not fit world conditions until after World War II. It was then that Russia emerged as a superpower, able to lead the forces of Europe. Only since 1948 has the Jewish nation been in its homeland with its ancient name, ISRAEL. It has not had this name as a nation since the time Ezekiel prophesied, about BC 587.
The stage is now set, and we live in the "latter days" of this prophesy.
But what brings Russia, all of Europe and many other nations against tiny Israel? How are they destroyed? What is the reason? What does God have in store for the world after these things take place?
These are some of the questions to be answered in a stirring Bible Talk.

Verhoeven, Merenda pace Leos, 4-1

By DON BRADLEY
P-B Staff Writer

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. — It's one down and four to go for La Verne College's second national baseball championship.

The Leopards, now 35-7, defeated Point Park College of Pittsburgh, Pa. 4-1 in Friday's opening game of the 18th annual NAIA National Baseball Tournament here at Phil Welch Stadium.

That gives the Leos an off day today while the first round is completed. La Verne will play Lewis University of Illinois Sunday at 5:30 p.m. The Flyers (42-2) won their 13th straight game, over High Point, N.C. in Friday's second game.

Winning pitcher Tom Brennan (10-1) struck out 12 High Point batters to bring his season total to 132 in 86 innings.

Long John Verhoeven (13-1) and Hank Merenda led La Verne against Point Park. Verhoeven set the Pioneers down on six hits while striking out five and walking two.

Merenda had a perfect night at the plate. The dandy third baseman had two singles and a triple in his first three at-bats and then walked twice. He scored two runs and batted in one and stole a base.

Merenda went into the game as the Leopards' leading batter in playoff games. Sporting a .391 playoff average when Friday's contest began, he now is hitting .462 in eight games since the regular season ended. Merenda has scored 12 runs, batted in seven and walked 17 times. His 12 hits includes three doubles, a triple and a home run.

Verhoeven's strikeout-walk ratio was not as wide as usual. But the big Dutchman permitted only nine balls to be hit out of the infield including the six Point Park hits. It took him only an hour and 58 minutes to mow down the Pennsylvanians.

The Warriors got their only run in the second inning when losing pitcher Jim Ney (3-1) tripled to the right-center field fence and scored on a single by third baseman Greg Cieslinski.

Coach Ben Hines noted one flaw in the La Verne game.

"I was glad that we won, but I don't think we played that good," Hines commented. "We left runners in scoring position to often. But we played good defense and got good pitching."

The Leos nicked Ney for 10 hits, but left 11 runners stranded. Hines was happy with Merenda and Verhoeven.

"Merenda had another hot game for us," Hines said. "John (Verhoeven) didn't dominate like I thought he would, but they (Point Park) swung the bat better than I thought they would. However, Verhoeven did make them hit it on the ground most of the time."

Frankie Gustine, the Point Park coach, took the loss in stride. "Oh, that's a good team," he said, "A real good team. We might have been a little jittery."

The Pioneers (17-4) are slated to play High Point (13-9) this afternoon at 1:30 p.m. First round action will be completed when Sam Houston State of Texas (38-9) plays Ft. Hays State of Kansas (26-16) at 5:30 p.m. today and Wisconsin — Oshkosh (27-9) meets David Lipscomb of Tennessee (45-9) at 8

After Point Park had taken a 1-0 lead in the second inning, La Verne went out in front to stay in the third.

Merenda started it with a single up the middle. Paul Fleming walked. Mike Alonso flied to center with Merenda taking third after the catch. Wayne Redfearn lined a single to center driving in Merenda and moving Fleming around to third.

Leyva hit a grounder to third. Cieslinski fielded the ball but threw wildly to first, Fleming scoring. Art Sanchez forced Redfearn at third. Jesse Mendoza was hit by a pitch, but Don Snyder left the bases loaded with a fly ball to right.

Rich Fielder led off the third with a single. Merenda smashed a 1-1 pitch to right-center field for a triple scoring Fielder. Merenda scored on Fleming's sacrifice fly.

The Leos will practice this morning at 11:30 a.m. and Hines will make a decision on Sunday's pitcher. It will be Robb Mayhew (9-3) or Dan Quisenberry (11-2).

TOURNAMENT TOPICS — More than 25 major league scouts were in attendance Friday night. Attendance was a disappointing 321 on a cool night. The temperature began to drop Thursday night and was in the low 50's by the second game Friday night.

High Point Colleges' luggage and equipment did not arrive until Friday morning. The team attended Thursday night's banquet in slacks and teeshirts.

Neither of the big hitters for La Verne or Point Park had a good night. Verhoeven struck out Lou Abel twice and the .463 hitter grounded into a double play and a force out the other two times. Alonso (.435) walked and was hit by a pitch, but went hitless in his three official times at bat.

Verhoeven, Merenda, and Leyva all had their pictures on the front sport page of the local paper Friday.

Claremont-Mudd coach and athletic director Bill Arce is attending the playoffs. Arce is pulling for the Leopards to win five straight as he has to leave Thursday for the University Division finals at Omaha, Nebraska.

After two steaming days and one chilly one, today's weather should be excellent. The forecast calls for sunny and warmer weather with a high in the upper 70's.

Rodriguez powers Halos

By BILL LANGLEY
P-B Sports Editor

ANAHEIM — Ellie Rodriguez made sure the Angels snapped their four-game losing streak Saturday night.

Rodriguez, who was acquired from the Milwaukee Brewers during the winter to solve the Angels' catching problem, drove in four runs with two home runs and a two-run double Friday to lead the Angels to a 5-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

It was definitely Ellie's big night as he accounted for four of the Angels' five runs against Detroit lefthander Mickey Lolich. Rodriguez also turned in his usual outstanding defensive job behind the plate as he helped Bill Singer record his seventh victory of the season.

Rodriguez belted his two-run double with two outs in the second inning to open the scoring then ripped solo home runs over the left field fence in the fifth and seventh frames.

"I have a lot more confiendence this season," Rodriguez said. "Last year at Milwaukee, it was just a guessing game whether I would play or not. It's a lot easier when you know you're a regular."

With a respectable .259 batting average, Rodriguez admits he has some thoughts about the All-Star game.

"I feel I have a shot at it if I keep hitting like this," the Angel catcher commented. "I have been selected for two All-Star games but I didn't get to play in either."

Lolich, who is one of baseball's biggest winners with 184 lifetime victories, has been a favorite for Rodriguez. The Tigers southpaw was the victim of Rodriguez' first major league hit in 1968 when Ellie was with the Yankees.

"It was just one of those nights," Rodriguez explained. "I got good pitches to hit. The double came on a hanging slider and the home runs were off fastballs."

Rodriguez, who had hit only six major league home runs in six seasons prior to joining the Angels, credits teammate Frank Robinson and coach Whitey Herzog for his power development this season.

"I am very fortunate to have both of them helping me," he said.

Singer became the Angels' top winner in allowing eight hits and four walks while striking out six.

The Diamond Bar resident gave up a two-run single to Ben Ogilvie in the fifth and a final tally in the ninth.

The Angels' biggest play came in the eighth when an appeal play at third base nullified a Tiger run.

Oglivie was caught leaving third base too soon in coming home on Jim Northrup's fly to left. The Angel bench and third baseman Paul Schaal noticed the premature getaway and third base umpire Hank Morganweck agreed when he called Oglivie out.

Instead of being 5-3 with the tying run at the plate in Norm Cash, the Angels were out of the inning.

"It really surprised me when Oglivie scored," Singer said. "(Joe) Lahoud made a good throw to the plate but we now know how Oglivie got there so quick.

ANGEL ANGLES — Robinson opened the eighth inning with a solid double to go-ahead of Hall-of-Famer Tris Speaker on the all-time career extra base list with 1,132 for seventh place . . . Nolan Ryan (6-5) will pitch for the Angels in this evening's 7 p.m. game vs Joe Coleman (6-4). In Sunday's 2 p.m. contest, it will be Woodie Fryman (1-3) vs Frank Tanana (4-6). The Angels begin a nine-game road trip in Milwaukee . . .

Outfielder Bobby Valentine, who suffered a dislocated left shoulder in Wednesday's fight with Clyde Wright, has been placed on the 15-day disabled list. Barry Raziano, a righthanded relief pitcher acquired from Kansas City in exchange for outfielder Vada Pinson, has been called up from Salt Lake City . . . He had a 3-0 record in the Pacific Coast League with an 1.44 ERA . . . Veteran Al Kaline, the Tigers' designated hitter, drilled a single in the eighth inning for his 2,906th lifetime hit. Kaline is currently 18th on the all-time hit list . . . Willie Horton, the Detroit slugger, sat out Friday night's game. He is tied for second in the American League with 12 home runs . . . Relief ace John Hiller leads the AL with a 1.44 ERA and is tied for second in the circuit with eight saves . . . The Tigers will be glad to get home. They have played 31 of their 46 games on the road.

Pomona fifth in track finals

CHARLESTON, Ill. — Pomona Pitzer placed fifth in the NCAA Division III Track and Field championships here Friday night while Ashland College of Ohio captured first place with 61 points.

The Sagehens, with 36 team points, were paced by Ray Fogg's second place effort of 55-5¾ in the shot put. Steve Smith set a school record with a 14.4 performance in the high hurdles while running third and then came back to finish fourth in the intermediate hurdles with a 53.7 clocking.

Kevin Porter also recorded a third with a 223-7 toss in the javelin while teammate Bob Orell threw the javelin 221-10 for a fourth place effort.

Steve Mason cleared 14-6 in the pole vault to place fourth while Randy Luce ran a 14:14.6 in the three mile for a fifth spot. Bill Taylor, who turned in a new school mark in the 440 prelims with a 48.2 showing, finished fifth with a time of 48.8.

Cal Poly Pomona's eight-man contingent was reportedly disqualified Friday night on a technicality in the finals of the NCAA Division II of the Track and Field championships.

Host Eastern Illinois and defending champion Norfolk State tied for the Division II title with 51 points.

Cal Poly San Luis Obispo finished third with 48½ points while Cal State Northridge, the CCAA champs, had 48.

WATCHING IT MISS

Russell, Buckner lash three hits each in Dodger victory

CHICAGO (UPI) — Bill Russell and Bill Buckner collected three hits apiece and helped produce the first four runs Friday as the Los Angeles Dodgers took advantage of three errors to beat the Chicago Cubs 8-3.

Dodger starter Doug Rau, who hurled the first six innings, picked up his fifth win against one loss. Mike Marshall, making his 33rd appearance of the season —the Dodgers have played 50 games —finished up, allowing one hit and one walk in the final three innings to record his eighth save.

The Dodgers broke a 2-2 tie with two runs in the fourth to take the lead for good. With two out, Rick Auerbach and Rau singled and Auerbach scored when Rick Monday fumbled the ball in center. Rau took second on the error, went to third on Russell's infield hit and scored on a bunt single by Buckner.

Russell's single, a stolen base and a single by Jimmy Wynn gave the Dodgers a run in the first inning and they scored in the third when Russell doubled and Buckner singled.

The Cubs got their first run in the first on singles by Don Kessinger and Billy Williams and an infield out and their second in the third on a single by George Mitterwald, a sacrifice, an infield hit by Matt Alexander and an infield out.

The Dodgers clinched the game on three unearned runs with two out in the seventh. Jimmy Wynn and Steve Garvey walked and scorred on a throwing error by Dave Rosello. Willie Crawford, who reached base on Rosello's error, scored on a single by Joe Ferguson.

World shotput record in jeopardy

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — World shot put record holders Al Feuerbach and George Woods, operating out of their favorite pit and smack in the middle of the action, stage still another one of their standard-busting duels today in what may be the featured event of the Kennedy Games.

They were going head-to-head when they set the respective outdoor and indoor marks, and with both at the peak of condition in anticipation of the AAU championships in two weeks, no one would be surprised if one or the other sets a world record today.

Feuerbach's world record stands at 71-7 but Woods topped that with a 72-2 ¾ heave indoors. In 13 meetings this year, Woods has beaten Feuerbach 10 times.

The Kennedy Games will be dominated by open competitors such as Feuerbach and Woods but there will be a sprinkling of collegians, most of them shooting for qualifying marks for the NCAA championships which get underway at Austin, Tex., next Thursday.

Meet Director Dave Meggard has lined up what he calls a "quality" field.

"I went for the competitors rather than a big field in each event," said the University of California Athletic Director. "We'd rather have a balanced field rather than a huge field, and we won't highlight one event at the expense of another."

In some respects the Kennedy Games, at least this year, will resemble the pro track tour with not more than two events going on at the same time. Thus, when Feuerbach and Woods step forth for their shot put duel all the attention of an anticipated crowd of 10,000 will be riveted on the shot put.

With this being a "down year" in most running events except the 100 and the 440 and mile relays, field competitors are in a good spot to grab most of the attention.

John Powell, with a 223-4 heave in the discus last week at Modesto, currently is the hottest competitor in his specialty. Also Arnie Robinson in the long jump. Last week Robinson sailed 27-2 ¾ in the Cal Relays. That's the fifth best long jump ever and the best in the world this year.

The featured running event is the 100 dash where world record holder Ivory Crockett meets Steve Williams for the second straight week. Crockett took the world record to nine seconds flat three weeks ago, then beat Williams in 9.2 last week.

Chino's Law, Upland's Scott qualify for state CIF finals

BAKERSFIELD — Two San Antonio League tracksters qualified Friday night for tonight's finals of the state CIF meet to be held at Bakersfield Memorial Stadium. Jayson Law of Chino High sprinted to a third place, 21.2 clocking in his heat of the 220 to earn a spot in tonight's finals. The Cowboy flash nipped San Francisco's Mike Farmer, who had run a 9.5-100 and 20.8-220 this year, to make the finals.

Upland's Steve Scott was the other local to qualify. The Highlander sensation recorded a 1:52.0 to place second in his heat of the 880.

Scott's bid for the state title will begin at 7:30 p.m. tonight when the half mile gets under way while Law is scheduled to race at 9:05 p.m.

Mike Weaver scores with KO in second

SAN DIEGO—Pomona's Mike Weaver scored a second round knockout over Lee Mandingo Friday night at the Coliseum in San Diego.

The local heavyweight, who sent Mandingo to the canvas three times on left hooks, floored him for good just 52 seconds into the second round.

Strings win sixth in row

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — John Alexander beat Graham Stilwell 6-0 and Marita Redondo topped Sue Stap 6-2 Friday night to lead the Los Angeles Strings to their sixth win in a row, a 27-18 triumph over the Chicago Aces.

A Sports Arena crowd of 1,066 saw the Strings run their World Team Tennis record to 9-4 with their fifth home victory in as many matches.

Alexander teamed with Geoff Masters to beat Butch Buchholz and Stilwell 6-4 in men's doubles and the LA women's doubles duo of Karen Susman and Kathy Harter scored a 7-6 decision over Janet Young and Stap.

The Aces' only win came when Buchholz and Young teamed in mixed doubles to defeat John Fort and Redondo 6-2.

The Strings host the New York Sets Saturday night.

Bruin season opener in Tenn.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — UCLA will open its football season Sept. 7 at Knoxville, Tenn., instead of the Coliseum, it was announced Friday.

The Saturday afternoon game will be shown on national television.

Bruin athletic director J.D. Morgan said UCLA and Tennessee switched sites of their 1974 and 1975 meetings. In 1975, the Bruins will host the Volunteers at the Coliseum Friday night, Sept. 19. That game originally was set for Knoxville Saturday afternoon, Sept. 20.

"The changes were made for several reasons," said Morgan. "For one, it fits better into each team's schedule for both years. We're also doing it for economic reasons."

Don Marcotte signs contract

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Bruins Friday announced the signing of wing Don Marcotte to a new contract..

Marcotte, a five year veteran scored 24 goals and added 26 assists last season and was one of Boston's regular penalty killers.

Trevino's 64 grabs lead

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI) — Colorful Lee Trevino, his putter as hot as the Carolina sun, fired a course record 64 Friday for a one-stroke lead after two rounds of the $250,000 Kemper Open golf tournament.

Trevino, who called the round one of his best ever, birdied nine holes and bogeyed but one to post a 36-hole total of 134, 10 shots under par and one stroke better than six other golfers tied for second.

"Competitively, I think this is one of the lowest rounds I've ever shot," said the happy-go-lucky Trevino after breaking by a stroke the Quail Hollow Country Club course record of 65.

Young Tom Watson, who shot a 65 Thursday for the first round lead, fashioned a two-under-par 70 in the sweltering 80-degree heat and led the group at 135, one stroke off Trevino's torrid pace.

The others were little Chi Chi Rodriguez and veteran Gibby Gilbert who shot 65s, Florida Citrus Open winner Jerry Heard and J.C. Snead with 66s, and little-known John Jacobs with a 67.

Hubert Green, winner of two tournaments and second only to Johnny Miller in money earnings this year, led two others, Kermit Zarley and surprising Bob Menne, two strokes back at 136.

Veterans Ray Floyd with a 69 and Billy Casper with a 68 were in a bunch at 167. Miller, who eagled the par-5, 535-yard ninth hole, shot a 67 and Australian Bruce Crampton, only a shot off the first-round pace, fell to a par 72, and were in a group at 138.

Jack Nicklaus, playing in only his second Kemper, one of three "designated" tournaments on this year's tour, was at 69-139. Masters champion Gary Player was well back at 72-142.

Arnold Palmer, with a fat 76, posted a 76-hole total of 146, and failed to make the cut.

"I was putting exceptionally well," said the jolly Trevino after the round. Trevino's only bogey, on the par 4, 353-yard 16th hole, was the result of two bad shots after a near-perfect drive that left him 90 yards from the pin.

"I hit a sand wedge over the green and chipped back poorly and two-putted," he lamented.

Trevino, who hit an unusual three buckets of practice balls before his early-morning start, said, "I'm going to go out and hit some more. They're looking pretty good now."

The sprawling, finely-cut greens were credited for the wave of birdies. Nicklaus, whose strong points are long drives and accuracy, complained that the huge greens did not suit his game, adding that this was one reason he has avoided the Kemper.

Pekarcik fans 15 in 10-1 victory

By TIM CLARK
P-B Correspondent

POMONA — Larry Pekarcik destroyed the LaVerne offense here Friday night while his hitters took advantage of the porus LaVerne defense. Pomona Post 30 scored 10 runs (four of them unearned) in the seventh inning, to clobber LaVerne Post 330, 10-1.

Pekarcik struck out 15 LaVerne battery. He only allowed five hits (two in the ninth) and did not walk a batter.

LaVerne had its problems. The usually steady defense committed eight errors, four of them in the explosive seventh inning.

The game seemed destined to be a pitcher's duel between LaVerne's Ralph Beltran and Pekarcik. Beltran battled Pekarcik valiantly through six innings, allowing only a leadoff single to Bill Karr and a third inning hit to Tracey Cowger.

Pomona's Roger Slayton led off the seventh inning with a tough single under shortstop Bruce McNaught's glove. Pekarcik put down a perfect bunt, and advanced to first base, moving pinch runner John Souza to second. Dean Sickles then loaded the bases up when Beltron couldn't handle his soft roller to the right of the mound. Dave Pedroza drove in Souza with a fielder's choice and an error by LaVerne catcher Wally Pitts, giving Pomona a 1-0 lead.

Gerry Piccioni then singled to send Pakarcik and Sickles home, making the tally now 3-0. Bill Karr grounded the ball sharply to third baseman Steve Hines, who threw the ball into right field. Right fielder Jim Richards could not find the handle, so Pedroza and Piccioni trotted home.

John Freeman then greeted Beltran with a single, sending Karr home for a 6-0 lead.

Will Lewallen chased Beltran out with a single, with Freeman advancing to third. Gary Ravencamp now took control of the mound, and got Cowger to fly out to Dave Maloof. Now Slayton was up again, and Ravencamp promptly walked him, loading the bases.

Pakarcik then got his second single of the inning, driving in Freeman and Lewallen for a 8-0 bulge. Pinch runner Mike Keegan scored as Sickles rammed a triple to left-center, adding yet another run, 9-0. Pomona's final tally came when Sickles scored on an error by Carl Davis.

LaVerne cashed in their lone run in the ninth when McNaught singled and then scored on a triple by Maloof.

In other Legion action, Fontana clobbered Montclair, 10-1, and Upland downed Chino, 9 to 2.

Lee Roy signs Cowboy pact

DALLAS (UPI) — Linebacker Lee Roy Jordan, who had been rumored jumping to the World Football League, signed a one-year contract Friday with the Dallas Cowboys.

"I didn't get the $150,000 like I feel I'm worth," the veteran from Alabama chuckled. "But I am happy."

The Cowboys are the only National Football League team having in effect a court injunction preventing the WFL from signing its players to future contracts.

Before the injunction was granted last month, quarterback Craig Morton, running back Calvin Hill and wide receiver Mike Montgomery signed wiith WFL teams.

Jordan said he never seriously considered jumping to the new league.

UCLA's Oliver snubs Rams, signs WFL pact

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UPI) — The Honolulu Hawaiians of the World Football League Friday landed the Los Angeles Rams' third round draft choice when they signed Al Oliver, a 6-7, 275-pound offensive tackle from UCLA.

Oliver, 21, was the fourth draft choice of the Rams who has opted for the Hawaiians. The others were defensive back Norris Weese of Mississippi and tight end Frank Johnson of UC Riverside, fourth-round Rams' choices, and defensive backrunning back Derrick Williams of UCR, a ninth-round LA pick.

A spokesman for the Hawaiians, who will train here, said Oliver had been inked to a multi-year pact. Terms of the contract were not disclosed.

Oliver, from Artesia, Calif., was a UPI All-Coast first-team selection last season. A two-year starter, he helped the wishbone Bruins to a 9-2 record as a senior.

Fuel shortage stopping race

PARIS (UPI) — Because of oil restrictions imposed by the Portuguese Government, the Estoril Grand Prix scheduled for July 14 has been cancelled, the International Automobile Federation said Friday.

Nastase, Borg, Smith advance

ROME (UPI) — Romania's Ilie Nastase, Sweden's Bjorn Borg and America's Stan Smith reached the quarterfinals Friday in the 31st Italian Open tennis championships.

Top-seeded Chris Evert of the United States reached the women's singles semifinals but Britain's Virginia Wade, the second seed, lost 7-5, 6-3 to South Africa's seventh-seeded Pat Pretorius.

Nastase, the defending champion and the top men's seed, overcame a bad first set on the rain-softened center court to bowl over Roscoe Tanner of Lookout Mountain Tenn., the 16th seed, 3-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Borg, third-seeded, beat 14th-seeded Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., 6-1, 7-6.

Fourth-seeded Smith, of Pasadena, Calif., reeled off a second-set shutout in defeating 13th-seeded Eddie Dibbs of Miami Beach, 7-5, 6-0.

Also reaching the men's quarterfinals were Guillermo Vilas of Argentina, Russia's Alex Metreveli, Americans Brian Gottfried, Steve Kulevitz and Manuel Orantes of Spain.

Vilas demolished West Germany's Karl Meiler, 6-2, 6-1; the eighth-seeded Metreveli ousted ninth-seeded Jiri Hrebec of Czechoslovakia, 6-2, 6-1; Orantes, the sixth seed and perhaps the hottest player in the tournament thrashed Rhodesia's Roger Dowdeswell, 6-1, 6-1; 12th-seeded Gottfried, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., whipped Egypt's Ismail El Shafei, 7-5, 6-0; and Kulevitz, of Baltimore, swept over Italy's Tonino Zugarelli, 6-2, 7-6.

Miss Evert, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., sailed to a 6-1, 6-1 win over Japan's eighth-seeded Kazuko Sawamatsu.

In the other women's quarterfinals, Czechoslovakia's Martina Navratilova, the sixth seed, squeezed past third-seeded Helga Masthoff of West Germany, 4-6, 7-6, 7-6; and the Soviet Union's fourth-seeded Olga Morozova beat fifth-seeded Julie Heldman of Houston 4-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Gallantmear (Morris) 122
Key (Brooks) 119
Mr. Personality (Ballou) 119
Cue Bid (Hart) 119

MASON'S PICKS — Tontos Guy may hold class edge over this group of marathoners (2-1). War Patch has favorable rail post position and is the one to beat (5-2). Fancy Willow a stout threat off some races (9-2).
LONGSHOT — Key

THIRD RACE — 350 YARDS. 2 YEAR OLDS. ALLOWANCE. PURSE $1600.
Wanda Witch (Watson) 119

Bobbie Burlesk (Ward) 119
Record Charger (Cardoza) 119
Swoosh (Banks) 119
Silent Treatment (Hart) 119
Easy Date (Treasure) 119

MASON'S PICKS — Jack Oakie is much the best of these two-year-olds (1-1). Easy Date has a sharp recent local workout and appears to be a good prospect (3-1). Wanda Witch sure to give it a game effort (9-2).
LONGSHOT — Silent Treatment

FOURTH RACE — 549 YARDS. 3 YEAR OLDS & UP. ALLOWANCE. PURSE $1800.

Eighth Wonder (Treasure) 119
Dupe's Niner (Watson) 122
Moishe (Hart) 119

MASON'S PICKS — Pegasus Moon comes off sharp local victory and no reason shouldn't handle this longer distance (5-2). Dupes Niner figures as the one to beat off that last winning effort (3-1). Sure As Al has leading rider aboard (7-2).
LONGSHOT — Eighth Wonder

FIFTH RACE — 400 YARDS. 3 YEAR OLDS. ALLOWANCE. PURSE $3000.
Mickeys Sun Flower (Cardoza) 117

La La Caduzza (Page) 119
Lightning Bid (Watson) 119
Rhythm Man (Morris) 119
Midnight Speed (Watson) 119

MASON'S PICKS — Barleo Rocket was unlucky to lose to tougher field. Should make amends here (9-5). Leotas Dial has trained well for seasonal debut (7-2). Barron Bid likely to give it a game late challenge (9-2).
LONGSHOT — Blazon Dandy

SEVENTH RACE — 870 YARDS. 3 YEAR OLDS & UP. ALLOWANCE. PURSE $4000.
John's Rocket (Lipham) 122

Tennis players seek damages

PARIS (UPI) — Tennis players Jimmy Connors of the United States and Evonne Goolagong of Australia Friday asked for $2,000 in damages for every day French tennis officials continue rejecting their request to compete in the upcoming French Open championship.

A court heard the arguments of lawyers representing the players and the French Lawn Tennis Federation which excluded them for having played this season under contract with the World Team Tennis in the United States.

Robert Badinter, the attorney for Connors and Goolagong, said the action was "unjust, unjustifiable and prejudicial," and asked the court to outlaw the ban.

PASSENGER CAR TIRE GUARANTEE
Montgomery Ward guarantees each of its passenger car tires for a specified number of miles when used on passenger cars or station wagons, except taxis. If your tire does not give you this mileage because of:
- defects in material or workmanship,
- normal road hazard failure,
- premature tread wearout (2/32 inches or less remaining),

Montgomery Ward will:
1. During the first 10% of guaranteed mileage, replace the tire free.
2. During the remaining guaranteed mileage, replace it for a prorate charge based on mileage used.

Nail punctures repaired free during the entire guaranteed mileage.

For guarantee service and adjustments, return tire to any Montgomery Ward branch with the Guarantee Booklet issued at the time of sale.

Charge after first 10% of guaranteed mileage based on selling price in effect at the time of return at branch to which returned, including federal excise tax.

Passenger tires used on taxicabs, and motor vehicles other than passenger cars are guaranteed on the same basis against defects in materials and workmanship only.

Catholic event at Dodger Stadium

Charities Day buses to run

POMONA — Buses for transportation to the ninth annual Catholic Charities Day at Dodger Stadium will leave from St. Joseph Catholic Church on the day of the event June 9 at 11:45 a.m.

Those attending the event will gather at the church at 11 a.m. before boarding the buses. Tickets are $6 and include the round trip by bus and a reserved seat for the Dodgers-Chicago Cubs baseball game.

Funds raised during the day will be used to support the Catholic Social Service of the Catholic Welfare Bureau. The local Catholic Social Service is located at 420 W. Center St.

Catholic Social Service provides counseling services for individuals and families in need of assistance for marital problems, child behavior situations, parent-child difficulty and unwed parenthood.

Information or tickets may be obtained by calling Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ehler at 622-7713 or Catholic Social Service at 629-1692.

Coordinating the Charities Day trip are Robert M. Tortell, transportation; Mrs. Arthur C. McHugh, publicity; Mel Naughten, Claremont Chairman; Mitehell Benemie, La Verne-San Dimas chairman; Mariano E. Rodriguez, Pomona chairman, and Mrs. Frank Bordenave, Diamond Bar chairman.

Sabbath in Jewish faith is topic

LA VERNE — Members of the United Methodist Church Adult Discussion Group will meet with Dr. Alexander Mittelmann of Temple Sholom, Ontario, on Sunday at 9:15 a.m. to discuss the meaning of Sabbath in the Jewish faith.

Dr. Mittelmann will explain the history and meaning of Sabbath to the Methodist church members.

The ministry of Christian education will be the topic of the 10:45 a.m. worship service at the Methodist church. Worshippers will be asked to express their educational needs and desires to guide the Commission on Education in goal-setting and program development.

A coffee fellowship will follow the service to provide an opportunity for the congregation to meet Robin Marie Carroll, a La Verne College student who will join the church staff for the Summer Service Program.

JOY DAWSON

Evangelist to speak

POMONA — Joy Dawson, an evangelist, will appear at the First Assembly of God Church Sunday at the 10:45 a.m. and 7 p.m. services.

A native of New Zealand, Mrs. Dawson has spent the past four years ministering to adults and youth across the world. Her topics of discussion are "Knowing God and Making Him Known" and "We're Sick of Being Challenged. . .We Need To Be Changed."

Children's Day

POMONA — Children's Day will be celebrated at Pilgrim Congregational Church Sunday at the 10 a.m. worship service.

Special songs and reading will be included in the service for the children. Donald Sturgis will deliver a sermonette and choir awards will be presented during the morning.

Chino United picnic

CHINO — An all-church picnic at Featherly Park will follow the morning worship service of Chino United Methodist Church Sunday.

The worship service will be held at 9:30 a.m. The Rev. W. Stanley Creighton will speak on the topic, "Keep Your Roots Deep." Church school classes will also be held at 9:30 a.m.

Political discussion

LA VERNE — Representatives of the League of Women Voters will discuss the propositions which will appear on Tuesday's election ballot at the La Verne Church of the Brethren on Sunday at 9:15 a.m.

The meeting will be held in the social hall and is open to the public.

Minister returning to Korea

POMONA — The Rev. John Underwood will deliver his final sermon in the Pomona area at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday at 10:30 a.m. before returning to missionary service in Korea.

"Fire Carriers" will be Mr. Underwood's sermon topic.

The service will be a rededication of Mr. Underwood and his wife, Jean, as they return to the mission field. A reception will follow the service.

Mr. Underwood was born in Seoul, Korea, a member of a missionary family. He is a graduate of Hamilton College and Princeton Theological Seminary. He went to Korea to serve in 1947 and returned to America for a year's home assignment in 1953.

He met his wife, a Pomona native, at the Biblical Seminary in New York City. They were married in Pomona in 1954 and then went to Korea where they served until this year, except for home assignment periods at Princeton from 1959 to 1960 and in Pomona from 1966 to 1967.

Baritone in concert

UPLAND — Paul McNutt, baritone, will be heard in concert at the First Church of the Nazarene Sunday at 6 p.m.

McNutt will present an audio-visual concert of five miracles of Jesus Christ. As he sings the scriptures that relate the miracles pictures will be projected on a large screen.

McNutt earned an A.B. degree in music and studied at the Cornish Conservatory in Seattle, Wash.

St. Luke's to confirm junior class

CLAREMONT — The 1974 Junior Confirmation Class of St. Luke Lutheran Church will be confirmed and receive first Communion Sunday during the 10 a.m. worship service.

Members of the class are Bret Erickson, Mark Graudin, Allison Mowell, Derek Mowell, Shawn Mowell, Jim Omlid, Roxanne Rota, Pam Weidner and Paul Wendt.

"Jesus Promises You Eternal Life" will be the Rev. Arthur F. Graudin's sermon theme during the service.

No understanding

DETROT (UPI) — Automobile dealers often fail to understand what young men want in a car, the Newspaper Advertising Bureau says. They tend to overestimate the young man's interest in price and economical operation and to underestimate his interest in how easily and sharply the car handles and how well styled it is.

Temple Street, Los Angeles, California, 90012, until 9:30 o'clock A.M. on June 11, 1974, on which date they will be publicly opened and read, for the widening of an existing bridge, construction of cement concrete curb, gutter, drives, pavement and walks, slope paving, alley intersection, drainage structures, water and electrical conduits, crushed aggregate base, processed miscellaneous base with lime treated subbase alternate, select natural material, asphalt concrete pavement, asphalt concrete curb, fenced work, sewer work, together with concrete and tree removal, clearing and grubbing, embankment, excavation, grading, shaping, preparation of subgrade, removal of existing improvements and other incidental and appurtenant work necessary for the proper construction of the contemplated improvement, estimated to cost less than $1,600,000.00, all in accordance with the provisions of the Plans and Specifications and Instructions to Bidders therefor which are filed in Room 383.

The Engineer may, from time to time, and without Board approval, issue addenda to the contract documents during the period of advertising for bids, for the following purposes: (a) revising Prevailing Wage Scales, (b) clarifying or correcting special provisions, plans or bid proposal; provided however that any such addenda shall not change the original scope and intent of the project.

Purchasers of contract documents shall be notified of, and furnished with copies of, such addenda, either by certified mail or personal delivery, during the period of advertising.

Proposal must be submitted on forms prepared and furnished for the purpose, which may be obtained at the Information Desk in the lobby of the Los Angeles County Road Department Administration Building, 1540 Alcazar Street, Los Angeles, California 90032 at which office bidders may also purchase copies of the Plans and Specifications for the contemplated work for the price of $7.05 plus Sales Tax per set, not refundable. A mail address and a phone number must be left at the aforementioned office which the prospective bidder agrees is sufficient to reach him.

Each submitted proposal must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check, or a surety bond, payable to the County of Los Angeles in an amount equivalent to at least ten (10) per cent of the total aggregate bid price of such proposal, as a guaranty that the bidder, if his proposal be accepted, will enter into and execute the awarded contract, and furnish the required bonds in connection therewith, in accordance with the terms of the aforementioned Specifications and Instructions to Bidders. In the event that a surety bond is submitted in lieu of a check, it shall be subject to the condition that the surety thereon be approved by the County Auditor and County Counsel.

The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and to waive technical errors and discrepancies, if to do so seems to best serve the interests of the County.

Pursuant to the provision of Sections 1770 to 1777, inclusive, of the Labor Code of the State of California, the Board of Supervisors has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages for each craft or type of workman needed to execute the proposed contract, and it will be required that not less than said rates be paid to all such workmen employed or engaged on the work. Complete wage rate schedules are on file at the offices of the Board of Supervisors and the County Road Department and are included in the contract specifications available at the Road Department.

The rate of compensation for any classification not listed in the schedule, but which may be required to execute the proposed contract, shall be commensurate and in accord with the rates specified for similar or comparable classifications or for those performing similar or comparable duties.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS: Bidders must satisfy themselves by personal examination of the location of the proposed work and by such other means as they may prefer as to the actual conditions and requirements of the work, and shall not at any time after submission of the bid dispute, complain, or assert that there was any misunderstanding in regard to the nature or amount of work to be done.

The contractor to whom this contract is awarded will be required, before execution of the contract by the County Board of Supervisors, to file with the County Board of Supervisors surety bonds as follows:

A "Faithful Performance Bond" amounting to 100 percent of the total contract price is required for all contracts.

A "Payment Bond" (labor and material) amounting to 50 percent of the total contract price is required for all contracts which have a total contract price in excess of $10,000.

By order of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

Dated May 14, 1974.

POMONA CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH

"Where We All Share in Customer Care"

There are good little cars and there are great little cars

The answer is at
POMONA CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH
(and you can drive one home today)

Good Little Cars	Great Little Cars
Good little cars are priced low.	Plymouth Duster is priced surprisingly low compared to other small cars.
Good little cars can get good mileage like Nova, Maverick and Mustang II.	Great little cars like Plymouth Duster proved in certified tests conducted by the United States Auto Club that they can get much better gas mileage in city and highway driving than Nova or Maverick. And in the same USAC test, they even got better mileage in city traffic than a 4-cylinder Mustang II.*
Good little cars can seat four or maybe five people like Vega, Pinto and Maverick.	Great little cars like Plymouth Valiant and Duster, have more hiproom than Nova, Hornet, Maverick, Vega and Pinto.
Good little cars offer locked-in, out-of-sight trunk space like Pinto.	Great little Plymouth Duster offers more than three times the trunk space of Pinto, all under lock and key and out of sight.
Good little cars offer conventional ignition.	Great little cars like Plymouth Valiant and Duster offer Electronic Ignition feature on small cars from Chrysler standard. An exclusive standard Corporation.
Good little cars require points and condenser replacement. And, they require spark plug changes at 6,000 miles. These changes are recommended by the manufacturers and could cost you as much as $81 every 24,000 miles.	Great little cars like Plymouth Valiant and Duster have no points or condenser to replace, and spark plugs can last up to 18,000 miles under normal driving conditions. A savings to you of up to $62 over competitive 6-cylinder cars like Nova and Ventura in the first 24,000 miles alone.†

Four Arts Festival

Culture can be a picnic

"Picnic on the Plaza" is the theme for the second annual Four Arts Festival to be presented free on the plaza of the Pomona civic center from 2 to 7 p.m. Sunday.

Residents of Pomona and neighboring cities are invited to attend the festival, bringing picnic suppers to dine on while being entertained by five local cultural groups with art exhibits and demonstrations, band and chorus concerts, and ballet and dramatic performances.

LeRoy Hughes, first president of the Pomona Valley chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encourangement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America and former president of Valley Community Theater, will be master of ceremonies.

The display of local artistic talent will open with an Art Galleria from 2 to 5 p.m., at which members

Travel tips

Shopping in India saves tourist $$$

BOMBAY — Best buys here are textiles, as India ranks as one of the world's two top textile producers. Bombay is the fabric center; so plan to do your buying here.

Forget about machine-made things—look for handlooms. Surprisingly, handlooms usually cost no more than machine made, which is taxed to protect hand weavers.

Be sure to see a patoloa (pronounced pah-TOE-la) sari, which takes about a year to make. The design is dyed into silk threads before weaving, giving it a watery appearance. These were great treasures on the old caravan routes. Assam, a small state in the Himalayas, does marvelous things with textures. Just feel their cotton saris, bedspreads and tufted jackets.

Raw silk, 45 inches wide, in natural and rainbow colors, costs less than $5 a yard; for evening wear hand-blocked silk organza with gold or silver threads is irresistible at about $8 a yard. Hand woven upholstery and drapery materials, 48 inches wide, run from $2-$4 a yard in cotton, about $8 in pure silk. (Note: When a merchant uses the term "art silk," he means artificial silk rather than pure silk.) Another type of fabric—khadi—is hand spun in addition to being hand woven.

Expect saris to be from 42 to 45 inches wide; length depends upon where they were woven. In North India it's five yards, six in the south, nine in rural areas around Bombay. (Use a sari as dress yardage—or learn to drape it as the Indian woman does for her dress.)

Each part of the country makes a different type of fabric; Handloom House stocks the widest variety. This is a government store with branches in major cities, but best in Bombay. Also recommended in Bombay—especially for drapery and upholstery materials: Contemporary Arts & Crafts, D.C.M. and Chunilal Mulchand.

More good buys:

BRASSWARE. Bowls, boxes, urns, candle holders, lamp bases—you'll find them everywhere. New items are sold at government emporiums and souvenir shops; the Sundar Nagar Market in Delhi offers the best selection of old pieces. Prices go upward from $1, with cost depending upon size, age and workmanship. Too, look for primitive statues made by the Adavasis, an aboriginal tribe.

WALL HANGINGS. Paintings on cloth and embroidered mirror work come from Rajasthan. Hand blocked blue-and-brown cloth prints are made in South India. Long linen pieces completely covered with silk embroidery are really bridal shawls called phulkari (pronounced FULL-car-e), but their unwieldy size makes them better wall decorations. The women of Madhubani, in central India, recently started applying to paper the bold folk designs they paint on their houses. Frayed twigs serve as brushes; dyes are mixed with goat's milk.

ART OBJECTS. South India makes exquisite bronze statues—see them at the Tamil Nadu Emporium in Bombay. In Delhi, shop at the Sundar Nagar Market; in Bombay, at Natesan's and—if you know your merchandise and are a shrewd bargainer—at Chor Bazaar. Antiques (over 100 years old) require a permit for export.

CLOTHES. Hand embroidered denim pants and jackets, custom made in 24 hours, cost $25. Off-the-rack silk dresses and evening pajamas are $50; silk blouses and men's shirts, $15. Shop for these at boutiques in major hotels. Long cotton dresses in hand made batik, hand embroidered, run $4.50—in pure silk prints, $8. Get them at Lucknow Chikan International in Bombay.

JEWELS. Star rubies, blue sapphires, golden topazes, garnets and others—all mined here—are priced about 50 per cent less than at home. Buy only at tourist bureau recommended shops.

The finest collection of inexpensive handicrafts assembled under one roof is at the Handicrafts & Handlooms Export Corp., Lok Kalyan Bhavan, 11-A Rouse Ave. Lane, Delhi. This government enterprise uses top designers, including Hanae Mori, Carol Horn and Jeanne Peral. Other good selections are at the Cottage Industries Emporiums in Bombay and Delhi and the state government emporiums—most of them located in Delhi, a few in Bombay.

Take purchases from private stores with you; only government emporiums can be relied upon to ship merchandise.

It Happened in Pomona

Erotica in good old days

What if the gay blades of Pomona didn't have such things as Playboy centerfolds or pornographic movies like "Deep Throat" to turn them on back in the Gay Nineties? Don't feel too sorry for them because they were denied that sort of literary and theatrical erotica.

And don't feel too sure it was being denied them. After all, if the truth must be told, the forces that cater to the prurient interests of the male animal were aboard in the land even in those long gone days—and if we are to judge by an advertisement which appeared in an 1892 issue of the Pomona Weekly Times, they were profiting by such catering.

Maybe not to the extent that the purveyors of putrid prurience are profiting today but then, when one takes into consideration the relative value of money then and now, they were apparently doing all right by themselves.

At any rate, according to that advertisement, for only "six 2 cent stamps," a paltry 12 cents to be exact, curious Pomona males in search of literary titillation could secretly send off for "WHEN"—and in due time, as the advertisement promised, they would receive "A rare book for men. Mailed secure."

Some instructions for good dog house

By DR. FRANK MILLER

DEAR DR. MILLER: How do you keep a dog house from getting damp? I'm having that trouble with mine, or rather, my dog's.—A.N.

Dear A.N.: Start with a good roof and work down from there. An overhang, particularly over the entryway, is helpful. The opening should face away from the prevailing wind and a "door" of some material is advisable. The dog house should be up off the ground to allow air circulation under it. There must be adequate but non-drafty ventilation within the dog house, plus adequate—preferably disposable—bedding. A low wattage shielded light bulb or means of supplying some safe heat is an excellent dampness chaser.

TEMPERATURE - TAKING TIP — When in doubt about your dog or cat's health, take its temperature—and preferably more than once. The best thermometer has a stubby tip though even a longer tipped oral one may be used with some additional care. For both dogs and cats, temperature-taking is most successful when done rectally. The thermometer should be well shaken (down) first, then lubricated, then inserted rectally and held in about three minutes.

If your pet has a tail available, it serves as a handy handle. Encircle the tail from above with one hand and hold the thermometer below from both sides with the other hand's thumb and fingers. By holding onto the tail in this manner it is easier to keep the thermometer in the same relative position.

Normal temperature for both species is between 101 and 102 degrees. A very excited animal may run a temperature higher than the high normal of 102 by a degree or so. In this case, it is a good idea to recheck his temperature in a couple of hours when, hopefully, the animal is calmer.

Except in the case of an excited animal, you should consider 102 plus a fever. For most animals a temperature under 101 degres is subnormal. Some very large breed dogs may run a normal temperature below this and very old animals may run a consistently low temperature. A fever over 104 degrees is alarming. A subnormal temperature is even more serious. While there are many other guides to health or illness in your pet, a thermometer is a handy aid. It is also useful when calling the doctor for advice to be able to tell him your animal's temperature.

DEAR DR. MILLER: I have one very excellent—she's show quality—rabbit. My other female rabbit is nice enough but not nearly so good. I'd like to raise as many rabbits from the first female as I could. If I used the second doe for a foster mother, how often could I breed Doe One? They are both maintained in top shape as far as general health goes. —S.S.

Dear S.S.: No matter how cooperative Doe Two may be in this endeavor, Doe One had better have a buck waiting in the wings or the whole program is obviously doomed. Actually, it's easier on the doe to remain continuously pregnant (except for brief periods of parturition, of course) than to go through intermittent pregnancies with periods of lactations. Consequently, she could be bred repeatedly and her young given away to foster mothers.

"Mothers", you'll note, is plural. The very fact that lactation is the hard part would indicate that one foster mother wouldn't be able to handle the load. With several foster mothers however, as many as 11 litters could be obtained per year by perennially pregnant Doe One.

of the Pomona Valley Art Association will exhibit works in a wide variety of media. Several will give demonstrations of their art. Among those displaying their work will be Withy Hathaway, PVAA president, Alfonse Fages and Louise King, watercolors; Alvin Anderson, oil paintings; Julie Parsons, weaving; Vera Tyson, oils; macrame and jewelry; Ruth Jackson, collage; Claire Doney, stitchery; Dory Eudey, paintings and graphics, and William Knox, oils and acrylics.

The Performing Arts section of the festival will start at 5 p.m. with a program by the Pomona Concert Band under the baton of guest conductor James Lytthans. The 65-piece group is regularly conducted by its founding director, Stan Selby, professor music at Mt. San Antonio College. He is on sabbatical leave this year. Lytthans will lead the group in a concert of band music and light classics.

At 5:15 the Pomona Community Chorus, directed by Ray Woods, will be center stage to sing Brahms' "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place" and selections from Meredith Willson's "The Music Man." Accompanist is Gary Toops. The chorus, one of the busiest chorale groups in Pomona, will make some 20 appearances this year. After the concert at the civic center, the group will perform Brahms' "Requiem" at the Pilgrim Congregational Church, 600 N. Garey Ave.

Valley Concert Dance Theater, under the direction of JoAnn Warner, former soloist with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, will present a varied program starting at 5:45 p.m. The dancers will perform the waltz, "Wunderbar"; the junior company will present "Classics Divided by Four" to music by Malcolm Arnold, and the senior company will offer "Fantasia," a blend of ballet and modern dance.

Performing will be Anne Billingsley, Georgette Bochkor, Pam Cumbie, Cyndi Kimball, Janine Mishalski, Jacki Paulson, Patty Taylor, Robyn Whitney, Tara Williams, Barbara Billingsley, Dawn Butler, Linda Fisher, Michael Girardot, Patricia Lawrence, Victoria Nash, Colleen Schultz, Becka Whitney and Patti Ziolkowski.

At approximately 6:15 p.m. Valley Community Theater will present scenes from its current show, the musical comedy "Once upon a Mattress." The play stars Lynda Hershey as Princess Winnifred, the role played by Carol Burnett in the Broadway production.

Also featured are Karen Russikoff, Lady Larken Nick Hooyboer, Sir Harry; Bobbi Welch, Queen Ag gravain; Gerald O'Connor, King Sextimus; Bra Ekstrand, Sir Studley; Scott Poindexter, Sir Harold and David Spencer, Sir Luce. Judy Clem directs an Jeryl Geary is musical director.

The more than 100 local artists in the four cultur al areas taking part in the festival invite all valle residents to pack a picnic and bring the family t enjoy an afternoon of the arts at the civic center.

ON THE COVER

Music, dance, art and drama will be presented by five local cultural organizations in the second annual Four Arts Festival to be held in the plaza of the Pomona civic center from 2 to 7 p.m. Sunday. Families are invited to bring picnc suppers. Admission is free. At the piano, Ray Woods, director of the Pomona Community Chorus, goes over the score with his soloists. At top, the brasses of the Pomona Community Band seem to serenade Janine Michalski of the Valley Concert Dance Theater.

British spy novel taut and exciting

THE COOLER by George Markstein. Doubleday, $6.95.

Here is a spy novel with a quirk, a different angle. What happens when the government makes a mistake in selecting its secret agents? What do they do with a spy who is flawed, yet is too highly trained and knowledgeable to be simply discharged?

Under such a set of circumstances, the author weaves a credible plot of intrigue and clandestine operations designed to prevent the Germans from discovering the landing beaches for the invasion of Normandy.

Normandy was one of the two secrets that the British had to keep from falling into German hands.

The other was the Cooler, a secret place called Inverloch set up by British Intelligence as a dumping ground for unsuitable and mentally unstable agents.

Through an elaborate cover story, the rest of the British government is led to believe that Inverloch is used to give highly sensitive training to people who are going on extremely delicate operations. In fact, this prefabricated myth is told to the unstable agents sent there.

Flawed agents were never told the real reason why they were sent to Inverloch; they were just told that they required additional special training. Unknown to them, they could never leave until the knowledge they had was valueless.

Prefacing the story, we are told that though the story is fiction, there really was a Cooler. Those who know about it don't have to be told any more. Those who don't, can't be told any more. This rather interesting thought eats at your mind all the way through the book, and provides further fuel to wondering about the intricacies of intelligence work.

A variety of colorful characters dot the landscape of this novel. First there is Agent Loach, "transferred" to Inverloch after he practically kills a girl with a riding crop.

Then there is Clare, who, during training to be an undercover agent, turns against one of her own people in a training exercise. Unsafe because she likes killing she also is sent to Inverloch. And there is Major Ince of British Intelligence, who sends "the too-late-discovered problems" to the Cooler, and tries to keep the rest of the Government from finding out about the place. On the other side we have Grau, the German agent operating out of London, transmitting information to Germany from the radio transmitter under the floor of his used book shop.

Through an incredible maze of events, all of these characters are intertwined in a crisis that is thrown into the lap of British Intelligence.

The Germans have somehow managed to get an agent into the Cooler, an agent with a radio link to Germany. So the Cooler, a holding tank of top agents all knowing too much, and all of them unstable, becomes a time bomb with potential disastrous effects on the upcoming invasion of Normandy. It becomes a race against time to find out who the double agent is before the secret of Normandy can be broadcast to the Germans.

The novel is taut and exciting, yet short enough to be read in a single evening. Impeccably British in flavor and style, this is a spy novel to be read not only by enthusiasts of the spy genre, but also by others for sheer pleasure reading. Not a great novel when compared to works by John Le Carre, Helen McInnes, or Len Deighton, it nevertheless is a notable work for a first novel.

Print series on rivers of America

Holt, Rinehard and Winston, introduced a new paperback series, "The Rivers of America," last month. Originally begun in hardcover in 1937 by Holt, the series is geared to display the panorama of American history through the stories of the nation's rivers.

A broad range of novelists, poets, and historians have contributed their insights and historical expertise to make this an important literary series. The first volume was "Kennebec," by Pulitzer Prize-winning poet Robert P. Tristram Coffin.

A selected number of the titles in the original "Rivers of America Series" are now available in paperback: The Hudson," by Carl Carmer; "The Columbia,' by Steward Holbrook; "The French Broad," by Wilma Dykeman; "The Potomac," by Frederick Gutheim; and "The Colorado," by Frank Waters. Each new paperback volume is illustrated, carries a new preface by the author, and retails at $4.95.

Gripping tale describes plot against Nazi

By COURTNEY COLEMAN

THE BORMANN BRIEF by Clive Egleton, Coward, McCann, Geoghagan, $6.95.

Martin Bormann, Hitler's deputy, vanished in the early days of May, 1945, in the ruins of the Third Reich; his fate remains a mystery to this day.

Egleton's gripping tale takes place eight months earlier, shortly after the failure of the Stauffenberg bomb plot on Hitler's life.

(Courtney Coleman is professor of mathematics at Harvey Mudd College, Claremont.)

Bormann becomes the target of a second asassination attempt by a group of German generals bent on bringing about a negotiated end to the war.

This plot against Bormann is, as far as I know, entirely Egleton's brainchild. Most of the characters in this novel are fictional; Bormann himself remains as mysterious a man here as he was in real life.

The most clearly drawn characters are the Germans involved in the intrigue, while the English participants and the one American seem unreal and shallow. The German plotter, General Gerhardt, and his Nazi antagonist, Kastner, are complex men caught in conflicting demands of honor, patriotism, sexual needs and self-preservation—all heightened by their certainty of the impending collapse of Hitler's regime.

It is this careful development of character that distinguishes Egleton's story from a hundred other stories of wartime intrigue.

The reader knows in advance, of course, that the plot will fail, but this does not lessen his fascination with the story. Part of this fascination undoubtedly has to do with the monstrosities of Hitler's regime; we sometimes seem to perceive our humanity most deeply by the study of cases of inhumanity.

On whatever level this tale is read, it is one of the best of its type.

Reviewer calls biography of Cohan 'a work of art'

By NICHOLAS C. POLOS

GEORGE M. COHAN: The Man Who Owned Broadway, by John McCabe. Doubleday, $7.95.

If George M. Cohan owned Broadway today he'd probably sell it. Since the demise of the American theatre "the Great White Way" is not what it used to be, and our nostalgia ("memory with the pain removed") confirms this ugly fact.

(Nicholas C. Polos is associate professor of history at La Verne College.)

This compact little book is more than the authentic narrative of the stage adventures of the "Yankee Doodle musical comedy man." It is a fascinating and intensive study of the American theatre along New York's Broadway from 1901 to 1940.

John McCabe, a professional actor and author of "Mr. Laurel and Mr. Hardy" has given us an exciting and moving historical panorama of American musical comedy with a deep perspective of a talented actor who seems to have reaffirmed the American Dream.

When James Cagney portrayed George M. Cohan in the film "Yankee Doodle Dandy," he said: "He was a product of his times, when performers had no guarantee against starvation. It was a very rough period. As far as I know, there was no formal schooling and the stong creative drive gave him no rest."

McCabe writes with warmth, humor and a wealth

24th year

Big O Tire celebrates

POMONA — Oral Little's Big O Tire business is celebrating its 24th birthday this month with an anniversary sale at 505 W. Holt Ave.

Sale or not, Little and his son, Ken, who own and manage one of the largest retread plants in the area, maintain that their greatest asset is the good will they have built up during the past quarter century.

The good will is the result of honest deals, efficiency of operation, reliability and fair prices, they say.

"The Big O is our own tire," Ken Little explained. "It is every bit as good as the big name brands, but we can sell it cheaper because our costs are lower. And we can offer a full free-replacement warranty coast to coast for the life of the tread. This means that if anything goes wrong while there is still tread on the tire, any of Big O's 300 stores throughout the nation will replace it free of charge."

The business has a huge retread plant — a 44,000 square-foot room — in the Mira Loma Space Center where mass production lowers manufacturing costs and high volume requires better and more accurate equipment. The entire plant is automated. It supplies retreads to Big O stores from San Diego to Bakersfield.

As for efficiency, the customer rarely has to wait long for a tire change. The Littles have installed a "speed lane" that changes a set of tires in 10 minutes.

Also participating in the local Big O celebration is the store at 748 E. Mission Ave., operated for the past six years by Dean Burrell.

Burrell was trained by the Littles for whom he worked 11 years before he opened his own store.

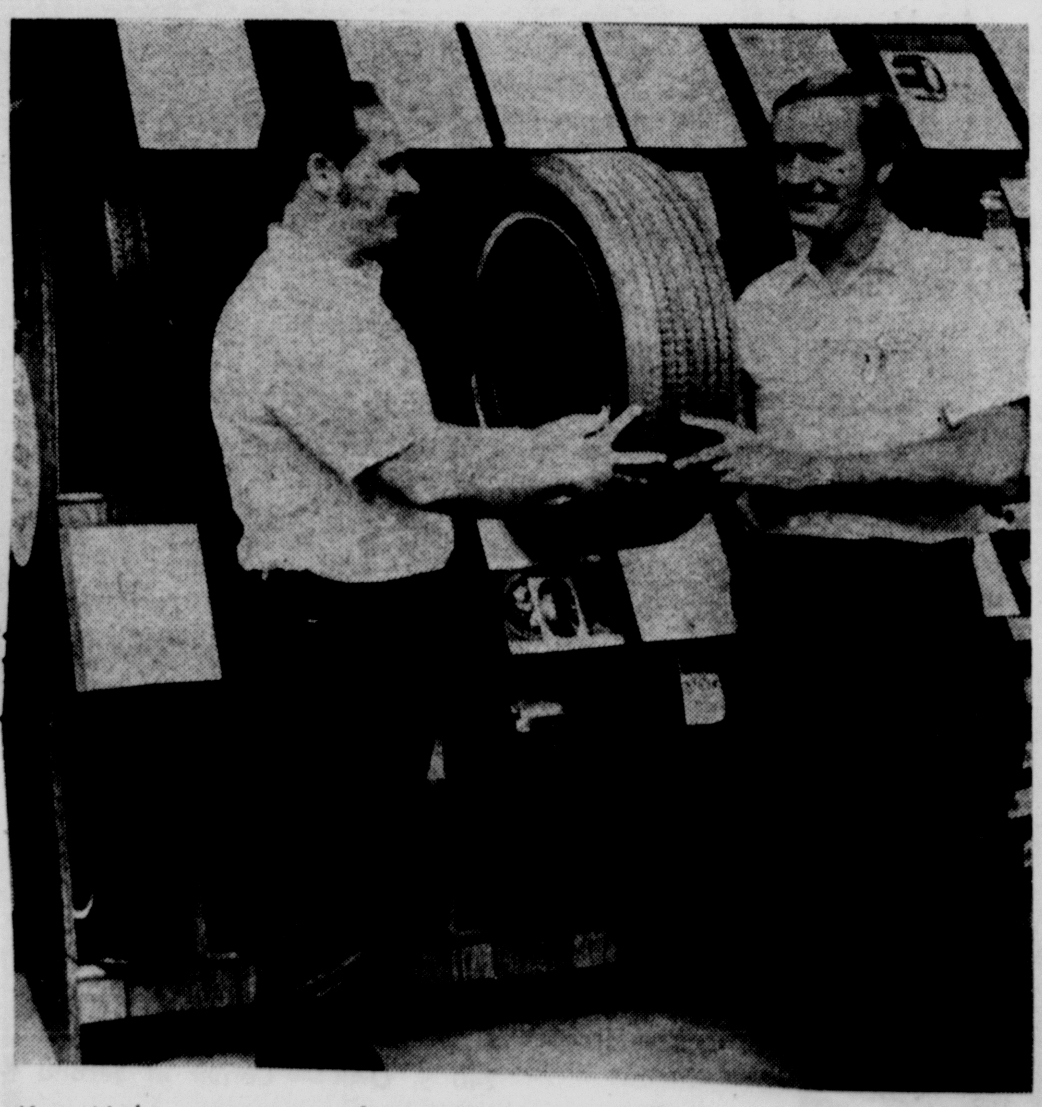
In addition to the Big O label, both stores handle the B. F. Goodrich tires with standard guarantees.

"We are proud of our image and the quality of the merchandise we sell," Ken Little said. "My father founded the business on an honest attitude and service to the customer. Our attitude hasn't changed since he got into the tire business 38 years ago. I'm going to be here for many more years to continue the same type of relationship with our customers."

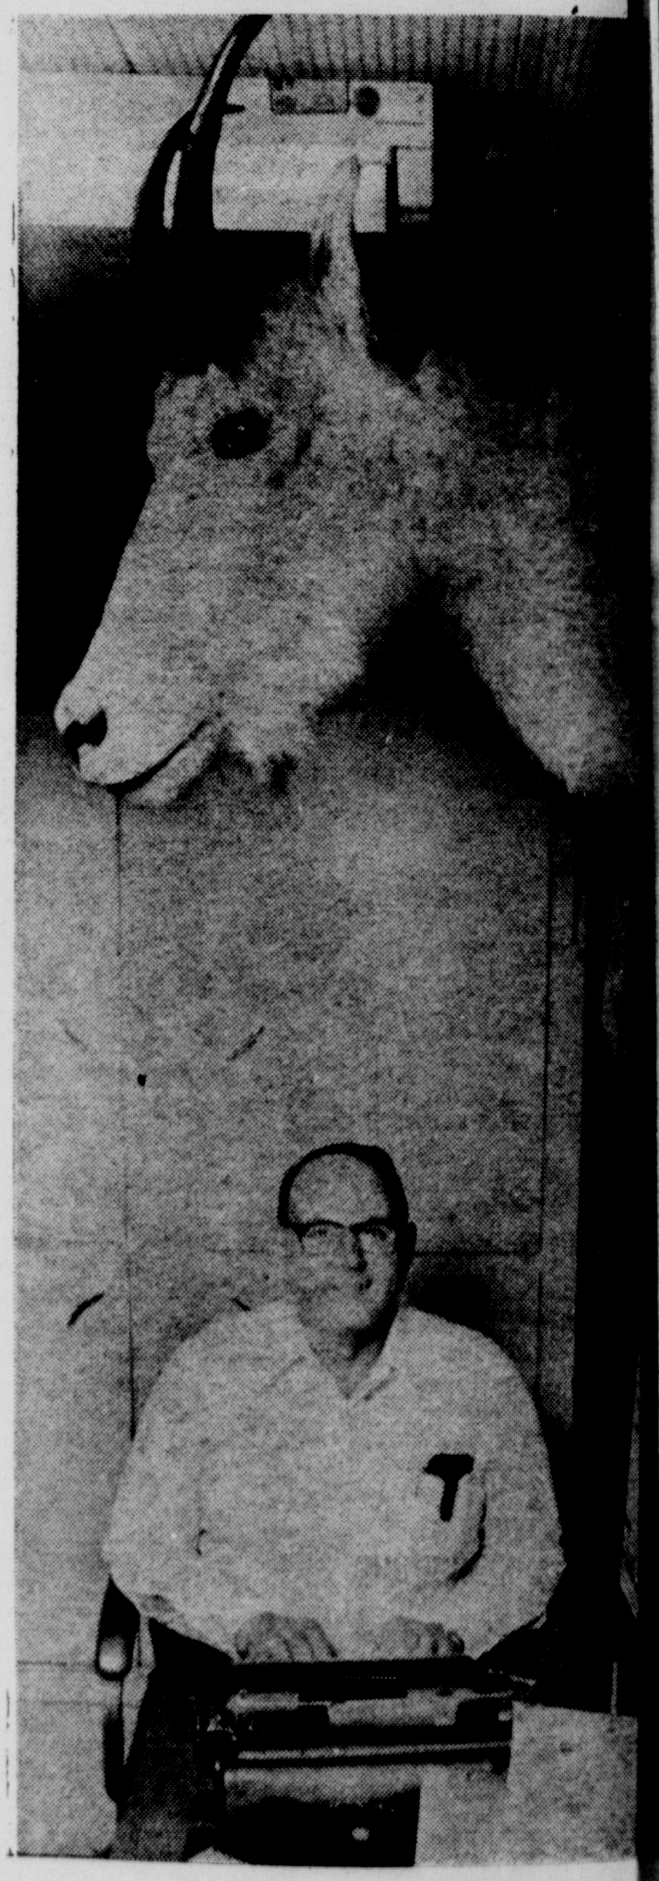
The stores also carry tire accessories, including chrome, mag-type and heavy duty truck wheels. Service on mag-type wheels includes balancing and installation. With the purchase of mag-type wheels there is a guarantee for free balancing, replacement of valve stems, rotation every 8,000 to 10,000 miles and flats service.

As a customer convenience, Big O offers a six-month financing program.

Assisting the Big O stores are Carlos Hernandez, service manager, and Mark Thorsted, service specialist both at the Holt Avenue address and John Salazar, service specialist at the Mission Avenue establishment.



Ken Little, manager of Big O Tires at 505 W. Holt Ave., left, and Dean Burrell, manager-owner of Big O Tires at 748 E. Mission Ave., give joint inspection to a new tire.



Oral Little, who started the business 24 years ago, is still quite active in daily activities.

Read The Facts About Tire Retreading

24 YEAR CELEBRATION SALE

Serving The Pomona Valley 24 Years

Most people don't know that 70% of the cost of a new tire is in the casing. 30% of the manufacturing expense is the tread. Does it make sense to discard the tire when that 30% wears out?

We don't think so.

Neither do airlines. Tires on jumbo jets, supporting hundreds of tons at very high speeds, last just a few takeoffs and landings before the tread is scrubbed off. But they're retreaded up to 10 times, as long as that vital casing remains undamaged.

Trucking firms, who watch their operating expenses on a strict cost per mile basis, purchase tires largely on their ability to stand up under many retreadings. To insure top quality, we retread our tires ourselves, in our own retread shop. Because we've got complete control over workmanship, materials and equipment, we can be certain we're selling only the very finest retreads possible. We take one heck of a lot of old tires off customers' cars. Most we must discard .Thorough inspections reveal flaws in most tires that makes them unsafe or unsuitable for retreading. Perhaps our standards are too high. There's always a shortage of casings we can retread. If we lowered our standards, we could produce more retreads at a lower cost. No thanks.

We can afford to give our retreads a written, comprehensive road hazard, manufacturing and treadwear guarantee for 12,000 miles, because we know what goes into them. Our retreads have to be good. As a bonus our retreads are sold with a 100% Free Replacement Guarantee, covering road hazards and defects in workmanship and materials. NATIONWIDE. We can't afford disappointed customers if we are going to become the largest tire retailer in the country.

Our name goes on every retread we make. And in compliance with Federal regulations, we mold our own Department of Transportation identifying code into the sidewalls. The point is, if the retreads we sell aren't every bit as good as we say they are, you've got nobody to blame but us.

GUARANTEED RETREADS ON INSPECTED CASINGS ARE SUPERIOR TO INEXPENSIVE NEW TIRES.

WE HAVE E.S.P.*

AND WE'RE GETTING BETTER

★ there's a positive, optimistic attitude in our students and their teachers, and it's growing steadily—ask 'em.

★ the climate for learning on the campuses is much healthier than in recent years, and there's been a marked reduction in student conflict.

★ reading and math scores of the students in special, individualized programs have been on a steady upswing, and we've instituted nine well-developed programs to provide special help to youngsters with specific needs.

★ there's a bilingual education program in all grades, with aides, special materials and, of course, bilingual teachers.

★ we have career centers at the three regular high schools, and we have expanded vocational classes through our Regional Occupational Program.

★ mentally gifted minors in all grades have greatly-expanded opportunities for progress.

★ We have a remarkable demonstration reading center at Fremont Junior High now, and we've improved the reading and math development program at all our secondary schools.

★ pre-school aged children have a special program, including a night Children's Center for parents who work at night and a program for infants who are aurally handicapped.

★ we've expanded our compensatory education program to 11 schools and we've been able to get the funds necessary to develop early childhood education programs at three of our schools.

*EXCELLENT SCHOOLS IN POMONA

It's Time To Put the Pieces Together . . . By Voting "YES" On Proposition "T"!

These Are Some Of The Things We Can Get Done:

★ broader and more concentrated course offerings at the high schools and expanded individualized education at the junior highs, including improved multimedia library service for the seventh and eighth grades.

★ smaller class sizes.

★ added up-to-date materials and equipment, and the development of learning centers so that youngsters of varying ability and achievement levels can move ahead at their own pace.

★ sorely-needed maintenance and repair of instructional machines and equipment, and for the school buildings themselves.

★ teaching our professional staff in service sessions, so that they can keep abreast of the latest methods and materials being developed for improved education.

★ replacement of the worn out, outdated or obsolete machines in the industrial arts programs so that students can learn today's methods and techniques.

★ better capabilities for monitoring the progress of our young people and for a clearer picture of the effects of new programs.

★ extension of the services of our counselors.

'Happy Days' star was Griffith's Opie

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Ronny Howard, the star of the new "Happy Days" series, is the selfsame young man who played little Opie for eight years on the old "Andy Griffith Show."

Howard has shortened his name to Ron. At age 22 he thinks it has more dignity, even though he plays a 17-year-old high school kid in the new ABC-TV series.

In real life Ron is a part time student at USC, majoring in theater arts. He graduated from public high school two years ago with a 3.5 grade point average out of a possible 4.0. He also lettered in varsity basketball.

Ron lives at home with his family in Burbank, along with younger brother Clint who plays one of the young buckeroos in "The Cowboys."

Ron's room is sloppy, comfortable chamber which looks more like a laboratory than sleeping quarters. It is crowded with cameras and film equipment. There is an editing table in one corner with reels and splicing material. Clothes are tossed hither and yon, along with scripts and textbooks.

Has short haircut

He drives a Volkswagen to work and school, usually dressed in tennis sneakers, flares and a T-shirt. Because he wore a crewcut as a basketball player he is accustomed to the short haircut he must wear for the show.

Ron has breakfast at home, then reports to Paramount Studios at 7:15 for work. Production generally runs on until 7 o'clock in the evening, after which he stops for a bite to eat before returning home. He's addicted to cheeseburgers, french fries and malts.

Some day soon Ron plans to find an apartment equidistant from his parents' home, Paramount and USC. But there is a possibility he will locate near UCLA, 15 miles on the other side of town.

The reason for this is a pretty young coed who is majoring in psychology. She and Ron have been steady dating for the better part of two years. She isn't interested in acting

Coaches Sports

When Ron does depart he will be leaving a cat, three dogs, a colony of hamsters and tanks of tropical fish behind. Most of the menagerie belongs to brother Clint, an ardent animal fancier.

Ron has been a working actor since he was six years old. He's accustomed to seeing reruns of "The Andy Griffith Show" and isn't fazed by seeing himself as a child.

"Once in a while I get critical of myself in those shows," he says, "then I realize it isn't right to criticize an 8-year-old kid actor."

He is still a sports buff and spends much of his free time on weekeends coaching basketball and baseball in the Burbank Park Recreation League for youngsters from toddlers to age 14.

"I've never regretted being a working child," he says. "It has allowed me to pay for my own education even though my parents can afford it. I've managed to meet some of the most interesting people in the world and to travel."

Ron was never isolated from other children. When he wasn't working his parents enrolled him in public schools. His classmates were unimpressed with his acting status.

Seek cinema degree

Dates for dinner and movies with his girlfriend are limited to weekends due to the demands of the series.

On Friday and Saturday nights Ron almost invariably can be found in a theater watching a new movie. During the days when he isn't coaching he works with bits and pieces of film, learning editing techniques in his room. He also enjoys watching televised sports events

This semester Ron has dropped out of USC classes to give full time to the show. But this summer he will enroll once more as a sophomore, determined to earn a degree in cinema toward the day when he will become a director.

Waikiki's 1st high rise hotel leveled

HONOLULU (UPI) — Waikiki's first high-rise hotel, which once attracted millionaires and movie stars, was rubble today.

The Waikiki Biltmore, a 250-room, 12-story hotel built in 1955, was demolished by explosives recently to make room for a multimillion dollar complex slated for completion in September, 1976.

Admit women to academies, says legislator

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., urged approval recently of a bill to admit women to U.S. service academies, saying it's time to tell them "to grow up, get rid of their Mickey Mouse, and catch up with America and the rest of the world."

Commenting at a House Armed Services Committee hearing, Stratton said Pentagon objections to legislation calling for admission of women to the three service academies is "based on nothing more than inertia and resistance to change."

"The services need qualified women today more than the women need the services," he said. "The volunteer Army is not working."

Chess

Fatal interference

The arsenal of chess tactics has an enduring richness. We are continuously surprised by the various and sometimes new means by which positions can be compromised and pieces pried away from the opponent.

For example, Boris Spassky startled the chess world and indicated he was still alive when he tore to shreds Fischer's favorite Poisoned Pawn variation of the Sicilian Defense and won Bobby's queen. That transaction was a surprise, if not a miracle, for Fischer had apparently defied the laws of chess economy by brazenly and successfully ingesting the Socilian poisoned commonplace. He used the pawn for a decade.

But Spassky's method was old and inevitable procedure of hounding the queen with threats until it had no retreat. A rather more exquisite and exceedingly rare technique is the subject of this column. It is the so-called Nowotny interference theme and is best explained by considering our first example.

(Diagram 1)

BLACK

FUCHS
WHITE

Interfere, I dare you!

The position Fuchs-Korchnoi, 1965, does not seem drastically out of balance. It is true that black is a pawn ahead. But the white pieces on the face of it seem better developed, as the black rook is still in the corner and the black bishop is under attack.

However, black's lineup on the king file poses the constant threat of 1 . . . R-K8 check and mate, though at the moment, the rook check is met by the bishop retreat, 2) B-B1. In addition, black's queen is attacking the white rook at Q3 which is, however, defended by the other rook.

We have encircled the square at Q6 because it is the intersection of the two lines indicated by the superimposed arrows. It is the intersection of the lines of the crucial rook and bishop trajectories, and is the nerve center of the white defense. In fact, black wins by playing 1 . . . B-Q6!!!, as given in the second diagram. This interference move, but cutting off both vital lines, threatens mate and the rook with a vengeance.

(Diagram 2)

BLACK

FUCHS
WHITE

You win

In the actual game, Fuchs played 2. BxB, and after . . . QxR; 2. B-B1 Q-B4; resigned because of the material deficit.

The point of the combination, as you can see, is that after 1 . . . B-Q6, white has the unenviable choice of 2. BxB (as played), interfering with the defense of the rook, or 2. RxB, interfering with the bishop's defense of the last rank.

If you are intrigued by the logic of the Nowotny theme, try the next one. Black has sacrificed two minor pieces and a queen for the position given in our third position. At the moment 1 . . . PxP mate is prevented by the queen at K1, and N-B7 mate by the rook at R2. Of course, 1 . . . R-Q7!!! utilizes he interference motif to win (If QxR, then N-B7 check, QxN, PxB mate.) White's extra pieces are useless to prevent mate.

More about

of detail including a brief skirmish with the chronology of Cohan's life as he tries to unravel the Independence Day argument of Cohan's birthday. The photographs are a historian's delight, and McCabe's attention to minute accuracy reveals a high regard for the reality of the past. This is not fiction in the making nor a series of authenticated lies but an honest biography without any grand theme other than its subject, George M. Cohan, who was once Broadway's "sovereign entertainer."

McCabe's personal narrative of the "derbied vaudevillian "who waved an aggressive American flag," and produced over 80 Broadway shows, is an honest characterization done in psychological depth with a keen and candid evaluation of Cohan's artistry.

In this respect his book is much more valuable than Ward Morehouse's 1943 biography, "George M. Cohan, Prince of the American Theater." The author is not entirely interested in presenting a sharp monolithic concrete statue of Cohan. He probes the creative spirit of a man "who struck a note in the American heat which has not yet stopped sounding."

Anyone who has ever had a Walter Mitty desire to be a song-and-dance man will appreciate this unique portrayal of a "little giant" who once owned Broadway. There is a more than adequate index that reads like a "Who Was Who," in the American theater plus a comprehensive chronology of Cohan's theatrical activities from 1901 to 1940.

The book is well-organized, the author has a gifted pen, and the interpretations are persuasive though exhibiting some small signs of sympathy for his subject.

As the footlights dim on the historic American stage one cannot help but be reminded of Ruskin's illuminating observation: "Great nations and men write their biographies in three manuscripts: the book of their deeds, the book of their words, and the book of their art. Of the three, the only trust-worthy one is the last."

If George M. Cohan could have read this book he would have applauded McCabe's effort, and no doubt called for "author, author," while the band quietly played in the background "Give my regards to Broadway."

If the play's the thing then the playright is the real artist. This book is a work of the art.

Legislator proposes renter deduction on federal taxes

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman William T. Bagley, a Republican candidate for state controller, has proposed giving California renters the same property tax deductions on their federal income tax that homeowners now enjoy.

He said his plan would enable California renters to deduct from $100 million to $300 million a year in property taxes from their federal income tax as homeowners now do.

At a news conference, the San Rafael lawmaker conceded it was now late in the legislative session to introduce a new bill to implement his plan. But he said he may attempt to include it in pending legislation or to press the issue next year if he is elected state controller.

He said approximately two million California renters pay income taxes and noted that 20 per cent of their monthly rent payments go for property taxes.

The proposal would classify the renter as the "primary obligor" for property taxes under state law. He said such persons automatically under federal law could deduct 20 per cent "of the rent paid as taxes."

"So if a person is paying $200 a month rent, $40 of that is taxes and $40 times 12 (months) is $480 deduction per year on the income tax which the renter can take," Bagley said.

Landlords, he said, wouldn't be hurt by the plan because they no longer would be required to declare as rental income that portion of rents attributable to property taxes.

Bagley said his plan "would not cost the state a dime" if it applied only to federal income taxes. Aides conceded if it were applied to state income taxes a revenue loss would occur.

JUNIOR PLAYERS—Dalene White, left, cast as Aunt Eller, and Brad Guth, The Peddler, rehearse a scene from "Oklahoma" which the Junior Community Players will present June 7, at 7 p.m. in the La Verne Community Building. Proceeds will benefit the mentally retarded.

PHS sets student concerts

Pomona High School drama classes will present concerts featuring Jim Gallucci and Gary Rice today and Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the Devil's Ring Theater.

Doors will open at 7 p.m. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children. They may be purchased at the door.

Gallucci and Rice play and sing their own compositions. Bob Hughes of the band "Lucille," will perform. Pomona High graduate Jim Curl will sing. Dennis Castellano, a Pomona High junior, will play piano.

Gallucci and Rice said their performances are to promote Proposition T on the June 4, primary election ballot.

"We are confident that when people see how interested the high school students are in increasing the available funds to the schools, they will see how necessary it will be to pass Proposition T," the musicians said.

Seniors get cash awards

POMONA — Three high school seniors have been awarded $400 scholarships each by the Women's Auxiliary at Pomona Valley Community Hospital to further their medical careers.

JOANNE MERRILL

LAURIE THATCHER

Auxiliary scholarship chairman Edith Frances Eells said the recipients are Joanne Merrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Merrill and a student at Pomona High School; Becky Royal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grindle and a student at Claremont High School; and Laurie Thatcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Currier Thatcher and a student at Pomona Catholic High School.

Miss Merrill plans to enter the nursing program at Cal State San Francisco next fall. Miss Royal will enter the nursing program at a Washington college. Miss Thatcher plans to major in physical therapy at USC.

Awards were presented at a recent recognition tea given by the Woman's Auxiliary for 80 junior volunteers in Pilgrim Hall. The speaker was Dr. Margaret Preska, faculty chairman at La Verne College.

MECHA voted club of the year at Pomona High School

By KEN SWART
Pomona Righ Reporter

POMONA — Movimiento Estudiantil Chicano de Aztlan (MECHA) has been named 1974 Club of the Year at Pomona High School. It is sponsored by student activities director Francisco Garcia.

MECHA was selected Club of the Year by the Club Council, an organizaton comprised of representatives of all campus clubs. This is the second consecutive year MECHA has won the award.

Branches

At the beginning of the 1974 school year, Pomona High MECHA created MECHA Central, with branch clubs at Garey, Ganesha and Bonita high schools. The purpose of MECHA Central is to assist Chicano students in organizing their resources and helping one anotner.

This year MECHA de Pomona sponsored "Semana de la Raza," a Chicano Culture Week at Pomona High. It created the Ballet Folklorica, a campus Chicano dance troupe, which has performed at numerous school and city functions and on KCET television.

Key Club

The runner-up Club of the Year was the Key Club, which is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

Alfred Escoto, president of MECHA, was named Club President of the Year. John Donaldson, president of the Key Club was runner-up.

This was the first year the club president awards have been given out.

During the final Club Council meeting this year, Bob Weis was elected president for next year. Weis is active in student drama. He is president of the campus American Field Service Club. He succeeds Doreen Music who is active in student government and served as president of the Interact Club, a Rotary Club youth organization.

PC to graduate Class of 1974 Sunday

By REGINA DE PAOLA
Pomona Catholic

Annette Liberatore has been chosen valedictorian of the graduating class of '74 at Pomona Catholic High School. The decision was based on scholastic ability.

Annette has served as president of the California Scholastic Federaton and was an active member of the National Honor Society. She was an officer of the Young Citizen's Council. She plans to attend the University of San Diego this fall and major in liberal arts.

Terri Alves, senior class president, was chosen salutatorian. She addressed the faculty and students at honors convocation Friday. The theme of the speech was "We are standing on the threshold of a dream; the future, which now is becoming a reality."

Cal Poly

Terri will attend Cal Poly Pomona this fall. She plans to enter the medical profession. She was an active member of the California Scholastic Federation and the National Honor Society this year.

During the last week of school seniors are given salutes by juniors, sophomores and freshmen. Juniors showed a movie, "Thoroughly Modern Milly." The other classes held luncheons.

Honors

Honors convocation Friday afternoon was presided over by Father Norman Priebe, a teacher at Pomona Catholic, and Father Joseph Carter, an assistant at St. Joseph's Church. Scholarship awards were presented.

A baccalaureate mass will be held at 9:30 a.m. Sunday. Graduation will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday at St. Joseph Church. Msgr. James Clyne of Los Angeles will officiate, representing Cardinal Timothy Manning. Msgr. William Barry, pastor of Our Lady of the Assumption Church of Claremont, will deliver the commencement address in place of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas P. English, pastor of St. Joseph.

Girls in the 74-75 flag division are Sue Baird, Debbie Chambers, Cheryl Embry, Jill McClay, Debbie Parra and Chris Williams.

Rally mascots are Pam Wheelesss, Cheryl Daniels and Frank Kohel.

Bilingual education

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation greatly expanding bilingual education for youngsters has cleared the Senate Education Committee, which was told there are 67 languages spoken by California school children.

The committee Wednesday sent to the Finance Committee on a 6-0 vote the measure boosting bilingual programs from $4 million this year to $15 million next year and $30 million the year thereafter.

The bill (SB2176) by Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco, was prompted by a recent U. S. Supreme Court decision which held current bilingual programs were inadequate. The ruling came in a class-action suit on behalf of Chinese-American students in San Francisco.
